The Answer That a Teacher Received When she Inquired the Reasons for a Child's Failure to Attend School - Latest

Happenings Around Town.

Regular Correspondence of INTELLIGENCES. COLUMBIA, March 17 .- When a scholar in the public schools absents him or herself, and upon not bringing a written excuse from her parents, the teacher is required to fill out a blank and send it to the parents stating the case. This Miss L. J. Baker has had occasion to do, and following is the answer she received to the query "Reasons of Absence:" received to the query "Reasons of Absence:"

"It is none of your business. Had you asked my daughter she would have told you, but as you did not you need not. I do not suppose this system of inquisition into family matters originated with you and I am not willing that either directors, superintendent, nor any other person shall sit in judgment and decide what I shall have my children do when they are at home. When I need them at home they will be kept there, and no one connected with the schools need trouble themselves about it. I do not suppose you sent this of your own accord, and I do not care how soon or who originated it know my views.

or who originated it know my views. It is certainly a most impudent letter, and we withhold the writer's name until we learn what action the board will take in the matter. The writer has been requested to meet the proper committee this evening in President Given's office.

Helping a Comrade in Disgrace. At a business meeting of Co. C., last even ing, Capt. Case and Lieutenants Bennett and Eckman were appointed a committee of three to attend to the case of Private John Grauley, and do all in their power in his behalf, to re-lease him from his unpleasant position in the Baltimore county jail, at Towsontown. Grauley is also a member of the Shawnee fire company, and from this source he will also receive assistance in the shape of a petition to the Baltimore authorities.

Under Bail for Assault. George Frame was placed under $200 bail, by Squire Evans, last evening, for appearance at April court, for assaulting D. Roads. Both men are employes at the St. Charles furnace, and last Thursday night while loading cinder upon a cart, became involved in a dispute, which ended in Frame's dash-ing a lantern into Roads' face, terribly gash-ing him, and rendering him insensible from by a burned foot lost six weeks work before Christmas, a sore finger lost him four weeks after the holidays, and now he is again off duty by the death of one of his children. He is certainly most unfortunate. A brother moulder at the works appreciating his situation, yesterday collected $35 for him, among the employes at the works.

Columbia citizens yesterday, generously responded to the subscription in behalf of the afflicted families of Frederick and Samuel Sarbaugh who lost their all by Sunday's fire, Mr. Samuel Filbert alone, and in one hour collected $40 for them, and the relief committee and private individuals, did much to aid them, aid them,

An Incorrigible Boy.

'Squire Evans, this morning, committed Samuel Bosey, aged about 12 years, to jail. He will undoubtedly be sent to the house of correction, and as his parents have not the least control of him. He will not go to school neither will he assist his parents; when not riding on freight trains he is in the company of tramps. Once before he was sent to jai but promising to do better in the future he was released. Notes About Town.

The ladies who are to manage the Vigilant fre company fair, will meet this evening at Mrs. Samuel Filbert's, on Walnut street.

On Sunday evening a lady lost a gold ear ring, between the M. E. church, on Third and Poplar streets. It contained seven small garnets. This evening's revival in the Bethel church will probably be the end of revival meetings in Columbia this year.

The Columbia school board is being denounced for purchasing the planetarium for the high school, an apparatus, although a use-ful invention, is unnecessary in our schools, especially when the low state of the beard's finances are taken into consideration. A progressive euchre party was given last evening, by Miss Maggie Purple at her home on Third and Chestnut streets. It was a mos delightful affair.

JOHNNY GRAU'S ADVENTURE.

Arrested While in the Act of Leaving Married Woman's Hou John Grau was arrested last night between 9 and 10 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Lavinia Amwake, Strawberry street, near Water, on charge of adultery. Mrs. Amwake is separated from her husband and recently brought suit against him for the maintenance of her two children. The case is now awaiting trial. Mr. Grau also is separated from his wife and some years ago was arrested for desertion. The court ordered him to pay a weekly allowance for her support. This case was finally fixed and Mrs. Grau agreed to ask no money from her husband if he would not sue money from her husband if he would not sue for a divorce. The courts order was there-fore rescinded. For some years they have been living apart and did not molest each other. Of late there has also been trouble in the Amwake family and Mrs. Amwake had her husband arrested several times and each party of course claimed to be right. He insally refused to live with her. Since the domestic troubles in the two families have existed it has been charged that there were improper relations between that there were improper relations between Mr. Grau and Mrs. Amwake. Last night Officers Barnhold, Boas and Bushong, from information received, visited Mrs. Amwake's house, Boas and Bushong stationing them-selves at the front door, and Barnhold at the selves at the front door, and Barnhold at the back door. The officers at the front door knocked, and after a little delay were admitted by Mrs. Amwake. They asked for Grau, and were told he was not there. They said they would search the house, and while doing so. Grau quietly slipped out of the back door, and was arrested by Barnhold. He was taken to the station house and thence to the office of Alderman Barr. The alderman entered bail for Grau's appearance and Grau entered bail for Mrs. Amwake's and Grau entered bail for Mrs. Amwake's appearance before Alderman Deen, to answer at a hearing, respectively the charges of adultery, made against them. Officer Barnholt is the prosecutor.

At the Station House. There was a big row at the corner of Water and West King streets, between two and three o'clock this morning, during which several young men had heads put on them. several young men had heads put on them. The police were sent for, and they arrested James Hart, George Carr, George Rentz and William Danz for being parties to the disturbance, and they spent the balance of the night in the station house. This morning the mayor discharged them from custody on the payment of costs, after severely reprimanding them for their disorderly conduct. The whole neighborhood was aroused by the noise of the fight. Several of the men engaged were badly cut and bruised. Billies and stones we used and in making the arrest the bolice. we used and in making the arrest the police-men battered several of the fighters on the heads with their clubs,

One gas and eleven gasoline lamps failed to burn last night, so states the reports of the officers on file at the station house.

LONGENECKERS DISAPPEARANCE. The Theory That He Has Gone With a Wom

t Substantiated His Financial Crook-edness Pretty Well Established. Speculation continues to be rife as to the notives for the mysterious disappearance of Benjamin Longenecker, of the board of poor directors, and the last rumor is to the effect that he took flight with a late female employe of the almshouse, of whom he was enamored. These pointed, as the object of suspicion to the wife of Henry Leeders, a neighbor of Longenecker, who went to the almshouse be-cause of her husband's failure to support her, and whose four children were provided for with places at the Children's Home; while the mother assisted with domestic work at the almshouse.

It seems, however, that the story of her abandoning these parts in Longenecker's company is effectually discredited by the fact that she left Lancaster about six weeks before he disappeared, and it is not believed that either had any knowledge of the other's intention. The woman is now in Montana territory, and writes that she will return, as she does not like the country. Mr. Longenecker was a man of jovial dispos tion, and spoke pleasantly to all the almshouse inmates upon the occasions of his visits. From the fact that he was better acquainted with Mrs. Leeders than others, she having been a resident of his neighborhood, he was more notably familiar with her; and upon learning this fact some one started the report that the two had fled ogether. It is said that Mr. Longenecker, who was bachelor, was quite popular among ladies, and several residing in Millersville have been "setting their caps" for him for years. He is also said to have had a lady friend in Philadelphia, whom he would be more likely to take along, if he had wanted a companion, than anybody from these parts.

take along, if he had wanted a companion, than anybody from these parts.

Another rumor connects Longenecker's name with the caparture of a different woman from the institution a few days ago; but the officers there are positive that there is nothing in this, and they affirm that this young woman had no knowledge of Longenecker's departure nor any association with him.

It seems meetty certain, however, that parture nor any association with him.

It seems pretty certain, however, that Longene-ker is a defaulter in his financial relations with Miss Barbara Becker, as foreshadowed in the INTELLIGENCER of Saturday; and that the $5,000 entrusted by her to him for investment has not been secured to her use.

THE COMMON PLEAS LIST.

Court Retuses to Sit in the Henderson Case for Personal Reasons, But Finally Assents. The following cases on the common pleas list were argued on Monday afternoon and this morning :

One-half of the people seen on the streets to-day wore sprigs of boxwood or a bow of green ribbon in their button-holes, in memory of the good saint, and in honor of the national colors of the Green Isle. A very few were lucky enough to find green clover leaves, the American shamrock, and displayed them with no little pride.

There were masses in the several Catbolic churches in which St. Patrick was specially invoked. At St. Mary's the school children formed the choir and sang a number of hymns appropriate to the day. In honor of the day St. Mary's school children were given a holiday.
