

CRIME AND CASUALTY.

A Runaway Boy Arrested in Columbia—Narrow Escape From Serious Accident.
COLUMBIA, Pa., March 18.—On Monday last, Officer John Gilbert received a description of Patrick Quinn, aged 16 years, who ran away from his home in Reading on Monday morning. Yesterday morning the runaway was caught in Columbia by the officer, and his father telegraphed for him. He came to town and the lad was returned to Reading on the 12:40 p. m. train. Patrick said he did not leave home for ill-treatment, but because he desired to see the world outside of Reading.

On Tuesday morning upon entering the room in the Gem cigar manufactory, where he is employed, Charlie Rockwell found the fire in the stove nearly out. To renew it he placed several pieces of wood upon the dying embers, and upon them he was pouring coal-oil, when it suddenly ignited, and the flame which issued from the stove door severely burned his face and hands.

Mrs. F. X. Zeebuber, wife of the grocer at Fourth and Union streets, while waiting on a customer yesterday, fell through a trap door behind the counter and into the cellar. She received injuries of a serious character.

Business is very dull in Columbia. Even drummers complain about it, and say it is hardly worth the trouble it takes in coming to the borough. They sell but little and in some cases nothing at all. Merchants say business could not possibly be duller and this is why they refuse to lay in a heavy stock of spring goods. But good times are coming and complaints will soon be at an end.

The office on the first floor of the Keeley stove works at Maple and Second streets, has been removed to the adjoining room, a large fire proof wall is being built around the safe or vault in the cellar of the works. This is commended for all the valuable books and papers of the company are confined in this safe.

About two hundred persons participated in a birthday surprise party last evening, given to Mrs. Kauffman, residing on Fifth street. The lady received many beautiful presents.

A pleasant and enjoyable surprise party was given to Miss Hattie Miller, at her home on Locust street, yesterday. About twenty couples were present.

Mrs. W. Hardman and wife left for Atlantic City, yesterday.

Misses Marie and Gertrude Boyd are visiting in Philadelphia.

All Around the Town.
Orion today, No. 470, L. C. F. hugely enjoyed the beautiful pound cake, presented by several members, last evening. It was as fine in taste as it was in appearance, and reflects credit upon its maker, Martin Smith. Several approvals of the cake were given, and were read upon the cake, as was also the names of several members of the lodge.

Trees in front of private residences, business places, and even churches, are being decorated, with cards announcing that so-and-so is a candidate for a certain county office.

The road committee of councils would do a wise act in repairing the gutter crossing at Fifth and Bridge streets.

Snow fell in Columbia this morning to the depth of 1 1/2 inches.

Market was one of the smallest this morning held in Columbia this year.

MR. JOY'S SICK MAN.
Physicians differ on the question whether it is well or ill to need Looze Benelate.

The Mount Joy Star and News relates a case in that borough where physicians were radically opposed in their diagnosis of the case of a presumable invalid. Six years ago Frank Carpenter, sr., was hurt at the Mt. Joy steam mill, and has been walking on a street with a crutch ever since. He was a member of the Odd Fellows and Knight of Pythias, and both of these societies were sufficient to support him and his family for the last six years.

Doubts arising as to Mr. Carpenter's indisposition, the Knights of Pythias and the Odd Fellows, of Lancaster, to make an examination. They presented a written statement, in which they stated that the invalid was suffering from organic disease or injury at all, only that he was a little weak from long inactivity and from excessive use of tobacco and alcohol. The Knights therefore discontinued the weekly dues.

The Odd Fellows, however, were not satisfied with the above diagnosis, they employed two physicians of Columbia, Dr. Arthur Taylor, and they gave him another examination and pronounced him a complete physical wreck with a slight lesion, but he was absolutely unable to walk any distance erect without support.

Under the direction of the Odd Fellows, Carpenter was a few weeks afterwards taken to the University at Philadelphia, and Dr. Ashhurst, professor of surgery, examined him and found no lesion or slightest evidence of injury for him to treat, and then turned him over to Dr. Wood, professor of nervous diseases; he was kept under his care three weeks and he was unable to do anything alighting him that required treatment, and last week he was sent home a well man. He has since been steadily walking the street, erect and at a fair gait, carrying a cane in one hand, but no crutch in the other.

FOREIGN HEIRS TURN UP.
An Estate that Seems to Have Been Echoed or Settled Too Promptly.

In the summer of 1883 Joseph Steiner, a German, died at Kauffman's hotel, on the Harrisburg turnpike, and it was not known that he had any relatives. J. B. Kauffman, of this city, became the administrator of the estate, the appraised value of which was over $10,000. Some time after the death of Steiner, Thos. B. Holohan, esq., notified Governor Pattison that deceased had no relatives. The matter was referred to the auditor general, and that official appointed Charles J. Landis, deputy escheator, to ascertain whether there were any relatives.

He directed his precept to the sheriff and twenty-four men, "good and true," were empowered to hear testimony. From all the testimony presented at that time it appeared that Steiner did not have any relatives, and it was so certified by the deputy escheator to the auditor general. Under the law the estate was to be divided into three equal parts, and Mr. Holohan was paid something over three hundred dollars, upon his giving bond to refund the same, if any blood relatives turned up.

The German consul at Philadelphia was informed of Steiner's death, and he made inquiries as to whether Steiner had any relatives in Germany. Recently he received information that Steiner had a brother living in Germany, and he consulted his counsel, Stephen S. Ransom, esq., in reference to securing the estate of deceased for his brother in Germany. Mr. Ransom has been in possession of the estate since the death of Steiner, and he has been making inquiries as to whether Steiner had any relatives in Germany. Recently he received information that Steiner had a brother living in Germany, and he consulted his counsel, Stephen S. Ransom, esq., in reference to securing the estate of deceased for his brother in Germany. Mr. Ransom has been in possession of the estate since the death of Steiner, and he has been making inquiries as to whether Steiner had any relatives in Germany.

The court was engaged all Wednesday afternoon in hearing argument in cases on the orphan's court list.

In the estate of Andreas Geis, deceased, the exceptions to the auditor's report were withdrawn and the report was affirmed.

In the estate of Francis B. Groff, the exceptions to the confirmation of sale were sustained and the sale was set aside.

In the estate of John Herr, deceased, the exceptions to the administrator's account were withdrawn.

Amos Kurtz, of Upper Leacock, was appointed guardian of the minor children of John Horst, late of Upper Leacock township.

John B. Houser, of West Lampeter, was appointed guardian of the minor child of George Froelich, late of Strasburg township.

The court commenced hearing argument of cases on the quarter sessions list this morning.

St. Joseph's Day. According to popular tradition it is the day upon which the birds choose their mates. Special services were held in honor of the day at the Catholic churches of the city and at St. Joseph's hospital.

THE ALLURING SODA WATER.

Preparing for its Manufacture During the Heated Season That is Coming.
The first of April is a field day for the sale of soda water, and every dealer is making elaborate preparations for the season which begins then and ends in November, or later, if the weather is mild.

A representative of the INTELLIGENCER called at a drug store on West King street yesterday and became interested in the erection of a fountain.

Preparatory to placing the parts in position the affable clerk was "dexterously applying the chamois skin to the silver spouts and metal ornaments, which made them look as clear as a mirror."

"It is tedious work to mount soda fountains," said the gentleman, whose patience was well nigh exhausted in attempting to get caught the fine thread on the great spout, "and I assure you the profits of soda at five cents a glass will not—pure syrups are used—much more than pay for this trouble; there is great risk of life around this internal machinery."

The thread at last was found and after several revolutions the part arrived in its place. "Dangerous? Well, there is a carbolic acid gas given off by the soda water, and if it is inhaled, and through careless operating it is liable to explode. Several years ago in Harrisburg two young clerks were severely hurt, and one of them was killed, by the explosion of a soda fountain. There are copper generators which, in a measure avert such disaster, but they are not so good as the old fashioned soda water fountain, which when spring weather once fairly sets in."

THE CHEAP OPERA.
"Patience" Sung With Success to a Large Audience Last Evening.

The interest in the company now performing at the opera house is unabated, and, although the audience was small at yesterday's matinee, in the evening the house was again crowded. Those present included the best known patrons of amusements of the city. At both performances the opera "Patience" was given with success. The singing was probably the best yet heard from the company.

Frank Denbow, who by the way has made himself quite a favorite here, took the character of Buntline, and his acting and singing were marked by the same cleverness that he displayed in the other character, in which he has been seen and heard. He was well supported by E. S. Nodine, Jr., as Grosvenor. Miss Shuman was a little Patience, and Miss Denbow made a great hit in her duet, being recalled no less than four times.

The dragons were worn by numbers but grew long in the party of matinees was very thin, there being no more than a half dozen in it at any time. The company needs female recruits, and every where a sign appears in "Girolo-Girolo," which has not been sung here for a long time.

Presentation to Post 405.
At the meeting of Admiral Reynolds Post 405, last evening, Comrade W. F. Hambricht on behalf of Mrs. McGinnis, widow of the late Comrade Andrew McGinnis, presented to the post with a beautiful picture entitled "Missing." It represents a dead soldier, who has fallen in battle in the wilderness, but his name is unknown to his comrades. He was reported missing. The thanks of the post were voted to Mrs. McGinnis.

After the close of the regular business of the post the boys indulged in a merrily social.

A Yorker Injured Near Marietta.
From New York, March 18.—A signal from yesterday afternoon as Lewis Koster and James Barnhart, aged about eighteen years, residing in York, on East Baptist avenue, were walking along the railroad near Marietta, the former was struck in the hand and ankle by a passing engine. Two of his fingers were cut and his ankle so badly cut and bruised that he was unable to walk. His wounds were dressed in Marietta and he was sent to York on the 9 o'clock train last evening.

The Weight of Local Mails.
The weighers, who for a month past have been daily weighing the mails carried on the Quarryville railroad, have finished their labors and make the following report of the result: From the 11th of February to the 11th of March the total weight of mails received in this city per Quarryville road was 6,753 pounds. The weight of mail sent was 9,117 pounds.

Petty Theft.
Thomas Keller, a stranger, stole a basket from in front of Dunn's 90 cent store on Wednesday afternoon. He was seen, followed and taken to the police station. He was committed for a short term by the mayor this morning.

The Late Mrs. Gasella Porter.
Gasella Porter, of Mount Hope, died on the 16th instant. She was born October 13, 1803, in the house wherein she died. Deceased was the widow of Albert Porter, who died some years ago, and had long lived with her brothers. The funeral services took place on Tuesday.

The Best Grain Market.
From the West Chester Local News.
Joseph G. Walker has just completed the erection of a new elevator at the Gap, Lancaster county, which is said to be the best grain elevator in the line of the Pennsylvania railroad in Eastern Pennsylvania.

Opened an Office.
The Fort Scott Daily Monitor, of the 13th instant, records that Messrs. Darlington & Butler, have opened a real estate and loan office in that city. The Monitor says: "It is gratifying to bid them a hearty welcome to our city and wish them success."

Reduction of Wages.
The Marietta Hollow Ware company has reduced the wages of its employees in part. It is said that the cause of this is dull times occasioned by the attempt of other manufacturers of a similar kind to form a pool against the one in Marietta to close it up.

At the Station House.
Three drunks and twelve vagrants were the inmates of the station house last night, and the drunks paid costs, one was committed and the vagrants were discharged.

Nearing Completion.
The crematory which is being built by Carter & Bakstrow, on the banks of Octoraro creek, near City View, is rapidly nearing completion. The engine to be placed in it is nearly finished at the works of the Christiania Machine company.

Appointed Teller.
Charles Konighmacher has been appointed a teller in the Ephraim National bank.

Victims of The Flood.
Great damage has been done by the overflow from the ice gorge at Waverly, Pa., and that several lives have been lost. A relief party, which left Marshall in a skiff with provisions to relieve the distress, found a woman on a hill, where she had been two days and nights without shelter. A family was rescued from the second story of a house, after being two days without food.

A Long Wait for a Sleigh Ride.
In 1880 a prominent Democrat of Wurtzburg, N. Y., took a cutter to the village black-crook, near City View, and was rapidly near completion. The engine to be placed in it is nearly finished at the works of the Christiania Machine company.

Col. Rockwell, one of President Garfield's chums, will soon be suspended as superintendent of public gardens and grounds.

President Cleveland intends that the next superintendent shall attend strictly to the business of his department, and cease officiating at White House receptions as aid to the marshal of the district.

To-day is St. Joseph's Day. According to popular tradition it is the day upon which the birds choose their mates. Special services were held in honor of the day at the Catholic churches of the city and at St. Joseph's hospital.

Free Soup.
There were 321 rounds of soup given out this morning.

Amusements.
The McCall Opera Company will appear here next Monday night, and the appearance here of "Patience." The party includes such excellent artists as Henry T. Burt, John Digby Bell, Laura Joyce and others. They are now playing at the Philadelphia theatre to immense business. They will bring their own orchestra, and Lancaster people will be glad to hear that if there is not a rush for reserved seats it will be because the people of our city do not care to hear a fine company.

Markets.
