Perrottet's machine shops and foundry ill resume operations next Monday, after idleness of two weeks. This is the first are in the history of these works that they are closed for scarcity of orders. But the con trade is dull all over the country, even he old reliable Susquehauna rolling mill is scelving but few orders, and although the near are kept on full time, there is not that ppearance which is so encouraging. But the allook is growing brighter, and within the art month it is expected that iron works of I kinds, in Columbia, at least, will be soming.

Squire Young committed Cole Jones, coled, to jail this morning for 15 days, for being ored, to jail this morning for, 15 days, for being drunk and disorderly. Harriett R. Smith, a Tow Hill belle, yesterday ordered Jones to vacate his house, she being the owner, and apon Jones refusing to obey her mandate shekicked in the front door. Cole then sued her for disorderly conduct and disturbing the peace, but his evidence against her was so weak she was discharged. Harriett then sued Cole, and he now lodges in prison. I. O. R.
