WE NEWLY APPOINTED ASSISTANT POSTMASTER GENERAL.

The second position in the postoffice de artment, and the one requiring the most ard work, has been accepted by Malcolm lay, one of the leading lawyers of Pittsburg. Fo its incumbent belongs the duty of appoin ing all postmasters whose salaries are $1,000 or less than this amount; and the detail otherwise imposed upon him is enormous. The alary is $4,500 a year, no great inducement to a man occupying the professional rank at-tained by Mr. Hay. It is obvious, however, that the first assistant postmaster general wields great influence and power, and Mr.

Hay is still a young man. He was born in Philadelphia, in 1842.
A ther completing his course of study in the University of Pennsylvania, at the age of seventeen, he went to Missouri, to engage in mercantile pursuits. Three years after he made his residence in Trenton, New Jersey, where he studied law, and was admitted to the bar. He began a successful practice in 1865, in the same city. Later he removed to Pitts burg, of which he is a prominent citizen, being president of the Mercantile library, a trustee in the Dollar Savings bank and a leading member in one of the Protestant-Episcopal churches.

He has never held public office until now He has never held public office until now, but has taken a part in political life. In 1872 he was an active prember of the state constitutional conversion, serving as chairman of the corresponding on accounts and expendinges and militia. Mr. Hay was at the head the Pennsylvania delegation to the Democratic national convention in 1880, and in that of 1884 represented his state on the committee on resolutions.

He is a gentleman who is highly respected as a man of high character, of ability and en-as a man of high character, of ability and energy. Mr. Hay is a staunch friend of Mr. Tilden and Mr. Randall. He is identified with the anti-free trade wing of the Democratic party. His appointment, which he did not seek and accepted at the earnest request President Cleveland, is regarded with President Cleveland, is regarded with reported more serious illness of Mr. sunfounded. He is at his home in Allegheny City sattling up his private affairs, prior to going South. He has been so overrun by visitors that he refuses audience to all. His health is better than it has been for

ALL ABOUT A BABY

Contest Between Grandparents for Its Custody.

There was an exciting scene in the corridor of the court house this afternoon, and the cause of it was a four-months-old babe.

Frank W. Johnson is a young man who was married a trifle over a year ago to a daughter of Frank Leibfried. Johnson was arrested for larceny, was tried, convicted and sentenced to the Lancaster county prison for seven months. While he was in prison his child was born, and a few weeks before Johnson's release his wife went away to work and left the child in the care of her parents. Johnson wanted the child to be cared for by his parents, but the Liebfrieds would not give it up, and Johnson took out a writ of habeas corpus. Judge Livingston treard the parties this afternoon, and at the conclusion of the hearing said that under the law he must award the child to the custody of the father, the mother of the child not appearing to claim it. After the order was made Johnson was told to go and get his child. He walked in the direction of where the child was with a superior of the child was with the direction of the child was with the custody of the tather, the mother of the child get his child. He walked in the direction of where the child was with its grand-mother Leibfried, but before he got to it a daughter of Mrs. Liebfued grabbed the child from her arms and ran off with it. She was quickly pursued by Johnson, Johnson's father and a number of other parties who happened to be in the orphans' court room. The pursuer caught up to the young woman in the corridor near the sheriff's office. Old man Johnson tried to take the baby away from the woman, and old man Liebfried interfered. It was a close call as to who would come off the vic-and old man Liebfried interfered. It was a close call as to who would come off the victor, but finally old man Johnson secured the baby and skipped away with it.

The screams of the women, the loud and angry words of the men, soon attracted a crowd, and before the final termination of the difficulty there were several hundred persons gathered in the court house corridor.

Old man Liebfried says that he is determined to have the baby, and intends to get his daughter home to make application for the daughter home to make application for the custody of the child.

The parties to the suit reside on South Arch alley, near Vine street.

Dwelling House Burned.

About noon to-day a large double par log and part frame dwelling house occupied by C. H. Martin and his son. Samuel, near the Blue Ball, in the southern part of East Earl township was discovered to be on fire. The entire building was destroyed, and was discovered to be on fire. The entire building was destroyed, and nearly all the furniture contained therein. The loss on the building is $3,000 and on the furniture $500. The fire originated from a defective stove pipe in an out atches. There was no insurance on the building or furniture.

The roof of the barn which is near by, was on fire several times but the building was saved by the exertions of the neighbors.

A FEW WORDS

ABOUT

There is nothing that add so much to the out-side appearance of a home as window shades, if in proper colors. As the line of colors is now so large, it is an easy matter to get the colors you desire. In fixtures, too, a great deal of annoy-ance is saved if you get them of a good reliable make. We pay special attention to this branch of work. Our fixtures are all guaranteed for one year, and will be replaced if springs break. We
