ed While Returning from Court. dward P. East, a prominent farmer of comac county, Virginia, while walking me on the track of the New York, Philaelphia & Norfolk railroad, was run over by an express train near Onancock and killed Monday night. His body was found Tues-day morning. It was horribly mangled. Both arms were severed from the body and one leg was picked up a hundred yards from where the accident occurred. The deceased attended the county court at Onancock and was returning home when he was killed.

Slight Fire at a Pottery

At 2 o'clock this morning Officer Heise struck an alarm from box 21, corner of West King and Charlotte streets, to which the fire department responded promptly. Their services were not required, however, as the fire was extinguished by the neighbors. The fire was at the pottery of Daniel Swope, No. 34 North Mary street. During the day crocks were burned, and it is supposed that the fire originated from the embers. The only damage done was a few boards destroyed at the klin.

"Many people," writes a lafy correspondent from Newark, "are deceived by ortical illusions. On a recent morning I looked into my brother's room, and saw him standing at his dressing-case. Then I remembered that I had heard him go down stairs, and I said to myself, 'That is an optical illusion.' Knowing that it was such, I looked at the figure until it slowly faded away. Let me add that I am in good bodily health, cheerful, and I believe sound in mind. A friend who died lately said in her last hours, when apparently she was rational, that she saw her dead parents and brother in her room. She exclaimed, addressing the friends who stood at her bedside, "There they are, right there. Can't you see them?" I repeat that as far as any one could judge, she was thoroughly conscious. But we will pass over her case, for it is not exceptional and while we cannot say she was delirious, neither can we affirm positively that she had her senses.

But here, I think, is an unusual form of optical illusion, if it was an illusion at all. A few days ago a well known business man of New York passed away. His widow is a clear fminded and educated lady, without any morbid or superstitious taint in her nature, or any belief in spiritualism. While bending over her husband shortlybefore his death she observed that the expression of his face was changing, and the next moment saw there, instead, the face of her dead brother. The two men were entirely unlike in appearance, one being light and having a blonde beard, and the other very dark. Shertly afterward the lady saw on her husband's face the expression of another deceased friend, and a little later that of a third. Her morbid and overwrought fancy deceived her, some one says. Could two persons be deceived at the same time and in the same way? I asked this because three years ago this lady and her sister watched beside the dying child of the latter. The little girl's face suddenly changed. One of the ladies saw that the other observed this, and said:

"Adelaide,' was the answer.

"Wonders."

E. H. Beekwith, Norwich, Coun., Dec. 18th, 188t, stated, "I owe my life to Warner's SAGE Diabetes Cure; when I began its use I passed ten quarts of water daily, which contained 16 per cent. of sugar; after using seven dozen bottles my doctor pronounced the water free from sugar; 1t has done wonders for me."
