Miss Mary Packer, the only surviving child of the late Judge Ass Facker, who recently was married very privately to Charles H. Cummings, of New York, at the bride's palatial residence in Mauch Chunk, has, with her husband, gone South. The event has been anticipated by but very few of the friends of the bride and groom. Miss Packer, now Mrs. Cummings, has perhaps the largest annual income of any lady in the United States, it being estimated at about $1,000 a day, to say nothing of the income from the accumulations of interest on the amount received since the death of her father and her two brothers, Robert and Harry Jackson. Mr. Cummings, the lucky bridegroom, is, like Miss Packer's father, a self-made man. Starting as a conductor on the Lehigh Valley railroad, he has worked his way up until he has become the head of the New York end of the enormous business of the road. He was the intimate friend of the late President Harry E. Packer, and his relations with E. P. Wilbur, the present president of the company, have been intimate and confidential. Mr. Wilbur and Mr. Cummings own cotttages on adjoining islands on Packer, now Mrs. Cummings, has perhaps nings own cotttages on adjoining islands on he St. Lawrence.

The Extent of County Emigration. correspondent of the Philadelphia Press riting from Marietta refers to the extensive migration to Kansas that has been going on or the past five years : "The farming elere are largely Tunkers in their regious belief, and they are very much at-sched to their church. Six years ago the rst colony went to Kansas, and settled near Abiline, in Dickinson county. Five years so a larger colony was made up, and it inago a larger colony was made up, and it included a bishop and a number of ministers of the Tunker persuasion, in all 200 persons, in one train, who left Marietta for Abiline. Bince then every year has added to their number, so that there are now well on to 1,000 persons from Lancaster county owners of farm lands in and around Dickinson county, Kansas, most of them Tunkers. This large exodus of farmers has taken away the buyers of farm lands. Last fall there were more farms offered at public sale in the county than have ever been known, and fewer farms sold."

A Stage-struck Trie, iety circles in Wilkesbarre were greatly ed Wednesday by the disappearance of well-known young ladies and a young they are Miss Della Schobert, daughman. They are Miss Della Schobert, daughter of Dr. A. F. Schobert, aged about 22. Miss Gertrade Blackman, daughter of E. S. Blackman aged 19, and Morris Dougherty, son of Charles Dougherty, aged 20. They left Wilkesbarre on the noon train for Binghamton, N. Y., and it is believed they have gone to join the Standard Opera company, now playing at that place, as they were accompanied by Mr. Duffly, one of the managers of the company. All three took prominent parts in the opera rendered there last summer by local talent, and since then have been stagestruck. Mr. Blackman and C. Bon Dougherly, brother of Morris, started Wednesday night for Binghamton, and will bring the two younger ones back. Miss Schobert, being of age, is, of course, free from the control

Changes in the Fire Department. npany No. 4, the old "Washington, will scarcely be known by its old friends after awhile. Fred. Elseman and Joseph Cunning am, hosemen, resigned April 1st. Michael Ross, fireman, left about the same time and as gone into business as a cigar manufacturer. Henry S, Resh, the efficient driver of the engine for the past three years, has sent a his resignation to take effect on the 12th and. He will engage in hauling and contrading. One or two other changes are talked of in this company.

This forenoon the large frame barn belonging to Rachel Brubaker, residing one mile north of Brunerville, was destroyed by fire. Thirteen head of cattle perished in the flames, together with the other contents of the barn, such as hay, feed, straw, etc. No one was at home at the time, but the servant wirl. The origin of the fire is unknown.

one was at home at the time, but the servant girl. The origin of the fire is unknown. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

LATER—It is now learned that there were sixteen head of cattle consumed together with three horses. The burn is covered by insurance. The house was saved with difficulty. The wagon shed and hog sty were also burned.

The Ashes of Julius G. Kottmeter.

As stated in Wednesday's INTELLIGEN
ER, the body of Julius G. Kottmeter, of Hoboken, N. J., was taken to the Lancast Hoboken, N. J., was taken to the Lancaster crematorium on its arrival in this city, and prepared for incineration. It was placed in the retort shortly after three o'clock and speedily reduced to ashes. The retort was opened this morning at 7 o'clock and the ashes gathered. They weighed three pounds pounds and twelve ounces. The widow and brother of deceased, who stopped at the Stevens house, left Lancaster at 8:10 this morning, taking with them the ashes of their dead relative.

Depriving Them of a Good Dinner. Judge Corving, in charging the grand jury of the special sessions court of New York Monday last said: "It has been customary, Monday last said: "It has been customary, gentlemen, from time immemorial for the grand jury to visit the public institutions once a month upon a day fixed by the officials in charge of these institutions. I am very sorto deprive you, gentleman, of a good dinner, but I must say that I think that the public good would be best served by a visit that was not expected. You might lose a good meal, but then you would be more likely to see the inside workings of the institution when not made ready for dress parade."
