Refused to Leave a House. Refused to Leave a House.

Jim Brown, of Havre-De-Grace, came to Columbia and indulged in a spree. Last evening he entered a house on North Front ning he entered a house on North Front street, and refused to leave when ordered. The woman, the only occupant of the house, called for help and Night-Calter McDivitt responded. Brown was too much for him, however, and after quietly placing him on his back-set upon him and enjoyed a smoke until the arrival of officer John Gilbert, who arrested him on the charge of being drunk and disorderly. He paid his fines and costs to 'Squire Evans and was released.

"Sheriff" Kleggitt, a negro, was arrested for being and disorderly and he, too, was discharged by 'Squire Evans, upon payment of fine and costs.

Farading Knights Templar.

Parading Knights Templar.

Promptly at 7 o'clock last evening, fiftytwo Knights Templar, in their handsome regalias, issued from the court-yard of the Franklin house, and headed by the Columbia cornet band, marched over the route pubcornet band, marched over the route published in last evening's INTELLIGENCER.
They attracted universal admiration, not only from their fine uniforms, but excellent marching. At a quarter to eight they entered St. Paul's P. E. church, where Rev. F. J. Clay Moran delivered a beautiful and fitting sermon, a sermon that was warmly received. Before parading the Lancaster sir knights indulged in a shad supper at the Franklin house. They returned home on a special about 10 o'clock.

while coupling cars at Landsville yesterday, had two fingers of his left hand caught between the deadwoods and mashed. Amputation will not be necessary.

John Klinefelter, Reading & Columbia expressman, was kicked down last evening by his horse while he was grazing in Alley G. The animal then attempted to trample him, but John succeeded in making a safe escape. The horse ran off and was captured at Campbell's livery stable.

Death of Charles H. Hinkle Death of Charles H. Hinkle.

Chas. H. Hinkle, aged 40 years, died at ten minutes past one yesterday afternoon, at his ne on Walnut street, of consumption, after a lingering illness. He leaves a wife and son and daughter, to mourn his death. His re mains will be interred in Mount Bethel cemetery, on Monday at 2 p. m. Deceased was well and favorably known. He was at the time of his death a director of the Columbia National bank and Columbia Gas company. At one time he served as watchman and messenger in the former, and secre-tary and treasurer in the latter. Prior to this he was a fireman on the P. R. R. This month may probably surpass last month in the number of cars handled by P. R. R. employes at Columbia. If freight traffic continues as it has it certainly will.

The opera house was crowded last evening as a welcome to Columbia's favorite actress, the charming Miss Lullie Hinton. She ap-the charming Miss Lillie Hinton. She appeared in "Led Astray," a piece in which she has little to do, but which she does well. This evening she will render "Fanchon, the Cricket," and at to-morrow's matinee, "Little Barefoot."

The Washington Borough Postoffice. The appointment of J. W. Miller, as post master in the borough of Washington, this county, has come at last. There has been a cy there for some time. The old post master had resigned and recommended Mr. Miller, who is a staunch Democrat, like most of the population in Washington. The Democrats were all for him and there was no other candidate. And yet his appointment came not. It happened that the papers in the case were enfolded in those of Washington, Washington county, Pa. An extra clerk, on duty in the department, engaged in docketing the many papers now accumulating, made the very natural error of confounding Washington and Washington borough. A gentleman from this county, visiting the department the other day and inquiring about the case, everlooked the papers and discovered the error. It was rectified; the very fit and proper appointment of Mr. Miller soon followed. Miller, who is a staunch Democrat, like most

The annual meeting of Lancaster classis to conveye at Salem (or Heller's) church, Upper Lascock township, will be opened with religious services, the sermon to be preached by Rev. W. F. Lichliter. Ministers, elder and others who expect to attend from the beginning will take the train at Lancaster on Thursday, May 28th, at 6:45 p.m., for Witmer, from which place they will be taken by carriages to the church. In order that places of entertainment may be secured all who expect to attend are requested to notify the pastor, Rev. D. W. Gerhard, at New Holland, not later than Saturday, the 23d inst., when they expect to come and how long they expect to remain.

A Ball Without Rasors.

Last evening the colored people of this city held a ball in the second-story of Fulton opera house, and there was a large attendance. The ladies far outnumbered the gentlemen and the affair passed off without any display of cuttery. At one time William Butler, who had a new high hat that he desired to show, was slow about taking it off while dancing. He found the managers were very firm and the tile came down. The committee of arrangements consisted of Samuel Johnson, Levi Hailstock and Dan Stewart; G. W. Willis was grand conductor. A Ball Without Razors.

The Custody of a Child. Judge Livingston this morning heard the application of Mary Sellers, of Strasburg ownship, for the custody of her two-year-old daughter, who was taken by her husband daughter, who was taken by her husband Abraham. Mr. and Mrs. Sellers separated a short time ago, since which time the father had the custody of the child. It was shown to the court that the mother was a proper person to have the child and an order was made ordering the father to hand over the child to the mother. Marriott Brosius appeared for the father and B. F. Davis for the mother.

City Bonds Called In. The finance committee of city councils has instructed the mayor to call in $12,200 of the instructed the mayor to call in $12,200 of the 5 per cent, city loan, that being the only part of the city loan now redeemable. The call is made for the following purposes: First $8,200 to be used towards filling out the $100,000 call of 6 per cent, bonds recently made—it appearing that there were outstanding only $91,800 of 6 per cent, bonds at the time councils ordered $100,000 to be called in. Second, $4,000 of the present call is to be put into the sinking fund.
