PRETTY LITTLE POEMS.

FIVE LITTLE WHITE HEADS

Five little white heads peeped out of the mold, When the dew was dampand the night was cold; And they crowded their way through the soil "Hurrah! We are going to be mushrooms! they cried.

But the sun came up, and the sun shone down, And the little white heads were shriveled and brown; Long were their faces, their pride had a fall—

They were nothing but toad-stools, after all.

- Walter Learned, in St. Nicholas for June. A MORNING IN MAY.

Oh, what is as fair as a morn in May With the apple trees in their bright array— The green of the leaf and the blush of the All fragrant and fresh from the young Spring's The earpet of green

And the sky between, Whence harries the breeze with sweet perfame Oh, men may frown and men may smile, But the heart, unhushed by the hand of guile Will sing with the birds in their joyous flight And welcome the kiss of the soft sunlight, And hasten the blood

In a healthful flood, Conveying to muscles fresh portions of might

SONGS OF THE FLOWERS. If the butter-cups could sing, What a pretty "ting a ling"

We should hear in summer time;
Could the daisies pipe a strain,
It would be like falling rain,

Just a silvery chime. If the violets knew an alr. It would sound most like a prayer, On the sea-shell's theme; If the wild rose sang a catch, Never would be heard its match Save in some sweet dream.

-Mary N. Prescott in Harper's Bazar

AAT END. At end or Love, at end of Life. At end of Hope, at end of Strife. At end of all we cling to so, The sun is setting-must we go ?

At dawn of Love, at dawn of Life, At dawn of Peace that follows Strife At dawn of all we long for so, The sun is rising-let us go ! Louise Chandler Moulton in Harper's June.

HUMILITY.

You say, when I kissed you, you are sure I must quité Have forgotten myself. So I did: you are right, No, I'm not such an egotist, dear, it is true, As to think of myself when I'm looking at you. — Walter Learned in the Century,

Demands on the Federal Farmer Some of the letters received at the Washing ton agricultural department are curious epistles. They are addressed by their writers in every conceivable way. One man writes: "Mr. Seedman;" another, "To the boss agriculturer;" still another, "To the government farmer at headquarters." The chief clerk of the department tells me that to the present day he frequently opens letters ad-dressed to "the Hon. Horace Capron," who was commissioner of agriculture more than twenty years ago, and appointed, I believe, by Lincoln. Letters addressed to Commissioner Le Due are an every day occurrence. But the most curious things about the letters are the requests they contain. One correspondent asks to be supplied with "guse nek squash." Another wants "one game cock and two chickens" sent to him "by express" and "as quick as possible" too. There was one letter, however, which had the effect, I think, of turning the laugh on the department. The writer asked to have mailed to him one of the unual reports of the commissioner. The lettes was turned over to one of those fessils wiff whom the department is at all times crowded. That worthy sat down and wrote towded. That worthy sat down and wrote a long letter, asking the man who had made the request for the report what he wanted it for: if there is any special thing he wished to find out, whether the department could supply the information in a more direct way, for which year he wanted the report, etc., etc. In a few days the answer came back: '« don't care a blank what you send. I want it for a scrap book."

"Hunt's Remedy is valuable and its benefits are permanent. Cured me of kidney disease." Sullivan Fenner, Providence, R. I. Hunt's Remedy cures specifily billious head-ache, costiveness, dyspepsia, strengthens the stomach, and purifies the blood. my25 iwdeod&w

SPECIAL NOTICES.

There is no use fighting nature. Dr. Kennedy' Favorite Remedy does nothing of that kind. It does not make the sufferers who trust it worse under the pretense of doing them good. It acts tenderly and in sympathy with what Nature herself is trying to accomplish. Do you have trouble with your digestion, your liver or your kidneys? Does rheumatism pain and rack you? Is your head thick and heavy? It will charm away these allments almost ere you are aware. (1)myli-imdeod&w

We have used Ely's Cream Raim in our home for nearly two years, and find it the best medicine we have ever used for colds or catarth.—J. C. Vasselin, Covington, Tioga Co., Pa.

From Major bowns, Military Instructor, Mt. Pleasant Academy, Sing Sing, N. Y.: During the very cold weather I was suffering with catarth. My head and throat ached so severely that I was obliged to keep quiet. Ely's Cream Raim was suggested. Within an hoar of the first application I feit relieved, the pain began to subside. In a few days was entirely cured. W. A. Downs.

DR. WILLIAM'S INDIAN PILE OINTMENT. L. G. McCullum, conductor on the B. & W. R. R., Springfield, O., Aug. 20, 1882, says: "I have been a great sufferer with the piles. I used numerous remedies and employed many physicians, but to no purpose. A friend recommended Dr. William's Indian Pile Ointment, which I am grateful to say has cured me," Sold by H. B. SPECIAL NOTICES.

Out of Tune. When the tones of a musical instrument be-come harsh and discordant, we say it is "out of tune." The same may be said of that far more wonderful and complicated piece of mechanism, the human structure, when it becomes disor-dered. Not only actual disease, but those far more common causes, overwork, mental anx-icty, and fast living, may impair its vigor and activity. The best remedy for a partial collapse of the vital energies, from these as from other sources, it Besteley. Storech Bitter, which is sources, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is at the same time an agreeable and mind cheer-ing cordial, and the best possible invigorant in all cases of debility. It is an incomparable stomachic and anti-bilious medicine, endicates fever and ague, and prevents subsequent at-tacks. It remedies with certainty and thoroughfever and agne, and prevents subsequent at tacks. It remedies with certainty and thorough ness bowel and kidney complaints, dyspepsia, nervousness, rheumatic troubles, neuralgia and many other bodily ailments. It also counteracts influences which predispose to disease.

Helped Her Out. "For years have been a severe sufferer from pains in the back. Tried various applications, One bottle of Thomas' Eelectric Oil entirely curred me. Curred others equally quick." Mrs. Benning of 14th St., Buffalo, wrote this. For sale by H. E. Cochran, druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen street, Lancaster.
