A woman aged about 75 years, last night night applied for lodging of Mann Scheaffer, stiendant at the P. R. R. depot. She stated the was from Rochoster, N, Y., and en route or Harrisburg. At Lancaster her money run out, but she begged enough to come to Co-lumbia. She was taken to the lockup and lumbia. She was taken to the lockup and Chief Burgess Jackson sent for. He answered the summon but would not open the lockup door, having no key. While searching for one, Thomas Jefferson, a colored burber, took the woman to his house on Fourth street, and locked her in the room. Upon returning to the lockup, the chief burgess learned of this, and went to Jefferson's residence. That aged negro did not appear until dence. That aged negro did not appear until 11 p. m., when he was compelled to open the door and free the woman. She was then given other and more desirable quarters for the night, and to-day she left for Harrisburg.

FIGHTING AT PICNICS.

The Unprofitable Manner in Which Some Roughs Spent Whit-Monday. Picnics were held at Tells Hain, What Glen park and Green Cottage yesterday and iderable drunkenness at all of them, and at Tells Hain a big fight was kicked up towards evening by a number of young men who could not allow a picnic which they attend to pass without raising a row. Stones, beer glasses, clubs, &c., were used in the fight, and several men were badly injured. John utzinger, a young rough, who never fails to get mixed in fights when it is possible, had his head terribly cut and will have to remain at home for a few days. Some of the pienies which are neld arcund the city during the summer are simply disgraceful. All kinds of people are allowed to drink and but hittle effort is made to research. little effort is made to preserve order. The police, who are always glad to pounce down upon tramps and swear them to prison whether they are guilty or not, might do some work at some of these "social" picnics. They are not anxious to mix in these little affairs, however, as there is great denser of these. however, as there is great danger of their being injured.

COMMUNISTS CAUSING ALARM.

Thirty People Wounded in the Paris Rect.
Communist Papers Vowing Vengeance.
Thirty people were wounded in the fight between the Communists and police in Paris on Sunday, but no one was killed. The police of the Paris Rect. lice expected more riots on Monday and were prepared for them, but for the most part the demonstrations in celebration of the anniver-sary of the fall of the Commune were not sary of the fall of the Commune were not dangerous. The government withdrew the troops and allowed the processionists to march into the Pere la Chaise cemetery with red flags. The police also left the Communists to themselves. M. Henri Rochefort made his appearance and was hailed by the paraders with shouts of "Vive la Commune!" The policy of the authorities in simply ignoring the demonstration was generally praised and the Communists, not being opposed, vented their enthusiasm and alleged bloodthirstiness in harmless shouts. They claimed, however, to have overawed the authorities and boasted of their victory.

All went well until finally there was a serious collision between the police and Anarchists. A large party of the latter went to Pere attack the authorities with arms and dynamite. Extraordinary military precautions are being taken to prevent the mob from starting a riot.

All went well until finally there was a serious collision between the police and Anarchists. A large party of the latter went to Pere la Chaise cemetery to inter the remains of a revolutionist named Courmot. They entered the cemetery quietly, but became excited by violent orations delivered over the grave by Henri Rochefort and others. They sallied out from the cemetery with a red flag flying. The police made a rush to capture the flag. A desperate fight ensued, in which knives were freely used. Several were wounded on both sides and many arrests were made.

Grave outbreaks by Communists and Anarchists are feared for Tuesday and until after the funeral of Victor Hugo. The Revolutionists have been worked up to a high state of excitement. It is reported that they intend to erect barricades in the streets.

INSURED FOR $200,000.

Therefore the Manner of His Death is to be Inquired Into. The death, by accident or suicide, not ye sufficently ascertained here, of N. B. Harwood at his grove on Halifax river, in Florida, has thrown life insurance circles into commotion. He carried policies of $200,000, of which $100,000 was in the Equitable. Other companies were represented as follows: United States, $25,000; Northwestern, $20,000 Manhattan, $20,000; Penn Mutual, $15,000; New England Mutual, $10,000; Maryland Life $10,000. The premiums amounted to

The cause of his death was stated to be as follows: In attempting to mount a fractions horse in front of his door the saddle turned uddenly and Mr. Harwood was thrown to like ground. No one saw him fall, but soon are he was discovered standing by a fence and the horse was near by him with the saddle partially turned. Mr. Harwood complained of having wrenched his hip, and plained of having wrenched his hip, and went into the house and laid down. He made no serious complaint, but in an hour or two he was visited and asked for whisky. He took some from his own trunk, and he seemed to be getting on all right. About 5 o'clock he was again visited, and was found to be in a dying condition. He lived only ten minutes after this. An inquest was held, and Dr. Garrison, of Daytona, and Dr. John Ball, of Brooklyn, N. Y., made a post-mortem. They pronounced the death the result of conenssion of the brain. There is a report that Mr. Harwood committed suicide; and, atthough there seems to be no real ground for such a belief, a further investigation will

Resolutions Adopted by Fulton Grange, No. 66, Patrons of Husbandry.
The following resolutions were adopted by Fulton Grange, No. 66, P. of H., of this county, at their last meeting. It was decided by unanimous vote to forward them to the INTELLIGENCER for publication :

Resolved, That the members of our legis-lature who are responsible for the defeat of the anti-discrimination bill, while neglectthe anti-discrimination bill, while neglecting to propose a substitute to remedy the abuse, and thus deprived the people of the state of their just rights, as against the railroad monopolies, are deserving of the severest censure; while to those who fought so faithfully in favor of said bill we would extend our most hearty commendation.

Resolved, That it is the duty of all true patrons to discriminate against those who misrepresent us in our legislative bodies, as, also to favor that portion of the press zealous for the rights of the mases against the encroachments of monopolies.

Amsteur Detective Business From the New Era.

The amateur detective business must be running very short in its resources when places its dependence on the capture of an outlaw upon the unnatural act of brother turning against and betraying brother. It is a maxim as old as the family relation that is a maxim as old as the family relation that "blood is thicker than water," and it was upon this well known fact that the law has placed restrictions upon the testimony of husband and wife being received against each other in criminal cases. It is an offense against society and its laws for a Buzzard to steal, but it would be a no less glaring offense against humanity for a brother to refuse to shelter and keep from starving the wife and children of the offender, and be the instrument of his betrayal besides. If there was any evidence that Martin Buzzard is particiany evidence that Martin Buzzard is partici-pating in the crimes of his brother, Abe, or other offenders against the law, he ought to be punished; but in the absence of such testimony any attempt to twist his humanity and the natural promptings of a brother's love into a crime will result in a useless exlove into a crime will result in a useless ex penditure of the time of the court and the money of the county. It is the business of detectives to detect and of courageous officers to arrest, and shrewdness and courage in either or both will always command respect.
