Sunday afternoon about3 o'clock, a sudden torm of rain and wind visited this city, drenching the earth, washing the streets, cleaning out the sewers, purifying the air, and doing a great deal of good. There was no damage done in the city except the flooding of a few cellars. # RELIGIOUS BODIES

An Angry German Professor in the Presbyte

rian General Assembly. A breeze was raised for a few minutes in the Presbyterian general assembly, Cincinnati, on Saturday, by the report of the com-mittee on "Narrative," read by Rev. Dr. Walter D. Nicholas, of Albany presbytery. It opened with a paragraph on the general prosperity of the church, and then proceeded to score the body for falling into un-Presby terian practices, among them allowing th decadence of family religion, and permiting evening services to be abandoned. The last lapse from Presbyterian rectitude was charstorized as the "German idea."

The report had no sooner concluded than Rev. Dr. Seibert, professor of theology in the

The report had no sooner concluded than Rev. Dr. Seibert, professor of theology in the Dubuque, Ia., seminary, was upon his feet, fairly crimson with rage. When recognized he proceeded brokenly to arraign the com-mittee for the use of that term "German idea," saying: "Mr. Moderator, there are thousands of good Germans in the country, who do not break God's holy day by any in-dulgence whatever, and before I will rest under this imputation I will go back to the good old Reformed church I came from. I demand that that unjust and improper term be stricken from the committee's report." The chairman of the committee explained that there had been intended no offense to-wards any of the faithful Christians, but only a hint which might serve to check an im-proper tendency on the part of Presbyterians who live where the Sablath is loosely kept or openly violated. Dr. Seibert has his way, and the offending expression was expunged. The committee on the " board of aid of col-loges and academies " reported the total re-cepts of the year as $40,049 and seven new institutions which have expended $174,700 upon their own property, and to which $16,014 has been given by the board. A report on necrology was read, showing that 102 ministers died during the year. One of these was 100 years old, two were over 190 and forty-five over 70. Fifty-five were not

The Lutheran Ministerium.

In the Lutheran Ministerium at Allentown, ections of the new constitution were amended and adopted. They provide that appeals from the disciplinary action of the congregation as represented in the church council or congregational meetings shall be decided by the conference when regularly brought before them, and that the conference may adopt for itself any rules and regulations not in conflict with the constitution and by-laws, but the proceedings of all the confer-ences shall at all times be subject to the reences shall at all times be subject to the re-vision of the synod. Concerning the matter of instituting an authoritative presidental oversight, to be ex-ercised during the intervals between synods, by the chief executive officer, throughout the entire bounds of the minister-ium, the fact was presented and emphasized that this would be not instituting a new thing, but simply re-establishing something which the Pennsylvanla ministerium had at its very beginning. Eis vears ago, Dr. Henry its very beginning, 138 years ago, Dr. Henry Melchior Muhlenberg exercised the most thorough and efficient oversight.

The General Synod.

In the general synod of the Lutheran church, at Harrisburg, the eighth biennial report of the church extension society was read. The total receipts for the two years amounted to $77,806, a large increase over the amount reported at the last meeting. The amount paid by the district synods on apportionment was $37,472. The amount received in response to a special appeal for Grace church, Chicago, was $10,961; for the children's memorial at Kausas City, $3,340; for Christ church, New York, $2,580. The Women's society contributed $7,015 for the erection of a church at Freeport, fill. The synod directed that no appeal could be made except by permission of the board. The board asked for $50,000 for the next two years. Rev. Dr. Morris, from Baltimore, revealed read. The total receipts for the two years
