ar Boyd Determined to Obtain the Tax all Hamrds-The Marietta Base Sall Club Degratelmed by the Columbia-Suspiclous Dealings in Postal Stamps.

Correspondence of INTELLIGENCER

COLUMBIA, June 18.—Several delinquent chool tax-payers said they would not pay beir indebtedness to the school district, and would make a test case of the law perand would make a test case of the law per-taining to such matters. They did not mean this for they immediately went and paid their taxes. Although the time given delinquents to cancel their indebtedness has expired, and although all the taxes have not yet been paid, yet not a single law suit has resulted. This is not through fear on the part of Collector Boyd, but rather through leniency. He dis-likes being severe, and has hopes that the taxes will be paid without resorting to law. But he means to collect every tax, of course excepting the exonerations, and if kindness will not do it, then severer measures will be Columbia Overwhelms the Marietta Club. The Marietta base ball club visited Columbis yesterday afternoon, but of course not with the intention or even expectation of winning a ball from the Columbia. If they did they were greatly disappointed, for they did they were greatly disappointed, for they were handled as the Lancaster professionals could handle the Columbia. Only seven innings were played in which the home nine piled up 33 runs, 20 of which were earned. The Marietta boys could not understand king's curves, and although they made 3 runs, not a single one was earned. Forty-two hits were made off the visitor's pitcher and but 2 off of King.

In the seventh inning, with two men out Koutz, of the Columbia, made the longest hit and ran around the bases before the fielders picked up the ball. The visitors objected to the home run being scored, claiming Koutz had not touched second base. Umpire A. Purple decided against them, and they refused to continue the game. The score stood Columbia 38, Marietta 3.

Why Young Women Marry Old Soldiers. The recent case of a soldier applying for a ision shortly before his death, which he expected hourly in order that his wife should draw a pension after his death, illustrates one of the most flagrant abuses of the present ion system. It seems to be a speculative business enterprise with certain young women to marry old soldiers who cannot live long, so that they may draw pensions as widows after their husband's death. "You widows after their husband's death. "You will be surprised" said an official of the pension office, "when I tell you that there are now on the pension roll of the department 21,000 pensioners of the war of 1812, all of them widows. That war ended nearly seventy years ago, and the number of troops engaged in it was not remarkably great. These 21,000 widows drew last year $1,882,000, or five and one-half times as much as the few thousand old soldiers surviving. Of course the explanation is that some of these widows were married to the veteran soldiers half a century or so after the war was over. They became entitled to their was over. They became entitled to their pensions as widows whether they had been widows ten days or had celebrated their golden wedding. It is not improbable that in the twentieth century a great many of the 21,000 widows will still be drawing pensions on account of the war of 1812."

Cumberland County Satisfied From the Carlisle Volunteer

However earnestly we may have desired the collectorship of internal revenue to come nearer Cumberland county, we are prevented by the admirable appointment made, from complaining against its going to Lancaster. It has fallen upon John T. MacGonigle, some time ago mayor of the city of Lancaster. We know him and can endorse him to the fullest extent. There is no better Democratic blood in the state than that which flows in his veins. And his brain is as good as his olood. He is not merely a good and true Democrat, but a gentleman of high intelligence, and one of fine administrahigh intelligence, and one of fine administra-tive ability and very superior capacity for busi-ness. His acquaintance with men is large and his knowledge of public affairs extensive and accurate. He is a politician far above trickery, and a man of honor in all the rela-tions of life. He may be relied on to be care-ful in the selection of his subordinates and to conduct the whole business of his office in a manner satisfactory to the public and to the department at Washington. Other good men aspired to the collectorship, and they and their friends feel the regret that always accompanies disappointed aspirations, but accompanies disappointed aspirations, but with an appointment so admirable in all re-spects as that of John T. MacGonigle, there is no room for complaint from any quarter.

White Buzzards in Cecil County.

From the Oxford Press. As William Sterrett and Albert Riley, young men of Cecil county, were recently reaming over the hills of the Octoraro on the setate of William Preston, they found a buzzard's nest. It was discovered on the ground under the shelter of a large shelving rock, under the shelter of a large shelving rock, not far from Stephen Magraw's mill, and contains two young white turkey buzzards. The nest is constructed of a few sticks and leaves and the young birds seem contented in their home, surrounded by wild and picturesque scenery. Since the discovery a large number of people have visited the place and looked at the birds. Only occasionally is the nest of this common American species of vulture found by man. These birds, remarkable for their graceful flight in the higher regions of the air, as well as scavengers on the earth, usually build their nests and rear their young in secluded and inaccessible places. This fact has been demonstrated by a colony of them which have from time to time made their hatching ground upon a large and dangerous rock—now called Buzzard's rock—not far from the Octoraro M. E. church.

Has Ability, Integrity and Efficiency.

From the Lewistown Free Press.

The appointment is an excellent one, and the president is to be commended on his selection. Mr. MacGonigle is a staunch Democrat, and is in every respect fitted for the position. He was elected mayor of Laneaster three different times, serving seven years, in the discharge of which duties he displayed unusual executive ability, integrity and efficiency. The fact of having been elected mayor three times of a strong Republican city like Laneaster is itself a sufficient recommendation of Mr. MacGonigle's worth.

The Court Refuses to Approve the Salary of the Prothonetary's Clera.

At the last meeting of the salary board to fix the salary of Edward Bitner, the prothonotary's clerk appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of P. E. Slaymaker, the salaries of Deputies John B. Miller and Win. E. Kreider, were made the same, $550 cach, while that of Mr. Bitner was fixed at $550, the same as paid to the junior clerk in that office when the salaries were adjusted last January. The minutes of the salary board were sent to the court for approval, as required by the provisions of approval, as required by the provisions of the salary act, and a day or two ago they were sent back to the clerk of the salary board as disapproved. The court are of opin board as disapproved. The court are of opinion that the prothonotary, by giving his entire time and attention to the duties of the office, and the two deputies are all that are required to properly perform the duties of the office, and that if the prothonotary does not wish to make a hand in the office, he should pay the third clerk out of his salary.

The decision of the court has caused quite a flutter among court house officials and efforts will be made to have the court reconsider their disapproval of the third clerk to be paid by the county. The argument issued is that the office has not been run for years with less than three clerks and the work cannot be done with less than three, because during a greater part of the year two common pleas courts are in session, which take two men from the office and leaves only one to do the current work.

The county commissioners have served notice on the treasurer that the salary of C. F. Stoner, register of wills, is not to be paid hereafter as he does not perform the duties of the office. They claim that he has not given the office the slightest personal attention. They hold that they have the power to reconvene the salary board anytime and cut down the clerical force if it is demonstrated that too many clerks have been allowed. As to the register's office it is claimed that one clerk is sufficient to do the work. It is also claimed that the county should not pay the deputy clerk of the quarter sessions a salary of $1,000; that if the county pays him $500 or $600, the clerk Mr. Settley was does not do any of the work should pay the balance out of his pocket.

The county officers claim that it never was the intention of the framers of the salary act the intention of the framers of the satary act that the county was to make money out of the offices and they will resist any attempt to reduce salaries or cut down the force. When the auditors meet on the first Monday of July, there will no doubt be lively sessions of the salary boards.

TROUBLE ABOUT A HORSE. His Speed, Which Cause Quite

There has been considerable excitement for the past four days among horsemen of this city about the speed of a certain animal. Joseph A.Ocker, is the name of a horsedealer from Littlestown, Adams county, who for several years past has been bringing horses to Lancaster to sell. On Monday afternoon he had a sale at the Morrimac horse stables. he had a sale at the Merrimac horse stables Among the horses put up was a sorrel which Ocker guaranteed to trot in 2:40. The anima finally withdrawn at $475. It is about the ability of this horse to make thi time that the discussion arose. Ocker says that on Tuesday morning several gentlemen approached him and said they were thor-ized to bet $100 that the horse could not make approached him and said they were athorized to bet $100 that the horse could not make as good time as claimed. No money was put up.

$300 time as claimed. No money was put up.

$300 time the later ocker met Kauffman Deutsch and the latter said he would bet $100 that the horse could not make the time. Ocker said he would not give the horse a record for that amount but would bet $500. Deutsch put up his check for that amount in the hands of Edward Kauffman, and as Ocker had but $100 he said he would put up the balance later. In the afternoon Ocher gave Mr. Kauffman $400 more, and asked if the other money was up. It was then found that Deutsch had taken his check down and put up $100 in cash.

Ocker says that Deutsch afterwards agreed to put up the remainder of the money before the race, or forfeit that already up. Yesterday Deutsch went to Ocker and told him that he (Ocker) had the best of him and he would not put up the remainder of the money, but would trot for the $100 or give him $50 and not have the horse trot; if this would not do the money would have to go to the poor. Ocker would not agree to this.

To-day was the time set for the track this morning. Deutsch said he would be willing to have the horse trot for the $100, but would put up no more. Ocker said he was willing to fulfill his part of the contract and claimed the money. Mr. Kauffman finally handed over the $200 to Mr. Ocker after being made secure by Mr. Ocker and friends, in case any trouble was raised in the future about it.

Mr. To-day the first the future about it.

in case any trouble was raised in the future

he first offered to bet $500 that the horse could not make the time, but Ocker would only put up $100. Ocker then went away and tried his horse, and upon finding what he could do offered to bet $500. Deutsch found this out and then would not put up more than $100, or would give Ocker $50 and have no trot. Ocker admits having speeded the horse, but says that that was before he agreed to bet Deutsch.

There seems to be a difference of existent.

There seems to be a difference of opinion in regard to the matter among horsemen and the whole affair may lead to a law suit. the whole affair may lead to a law suit. Ocker claims there were more men interested in the bet and that they want to injure his business here. He says that he was caught only last summer by Lancaster people for $50 forfeit in the same way. In this instance he says the men who wagered with him telegraphed to Kentucky and found out what his horse, which was purchased there, could do and that is why they would not put up their money.

A Finger-Board for Office-Seekers. rom the York Dispatch,

There will doubtless soon be a Democratic dgrimage from the house of York to the nouse of Lancaster, Collector MacGonigle will have several nice little plums to give out in York county. There are two deputies to take the places of those "offensive partisa, s," Davis and Young, and several store-keepers Davis and Young, and several store-geopers at the distillers, quite good positions for some one having nothing to do, but the fellows who get these places. and imagine they will have nothing to do but pocket the salary, will be wonderfully mistaken.
