A Stroll Along the Biver.

A visit along the shore of the Susquehanna will well repay one who cares to make the trial. The industries situated along the iks are now booming with industry and dds considerable to the wealth of our town, et the decline of the rafting business has used the shore to present quite a different barance than what it did some some few

Is Death Painless ? from the Medical and Surgical Review The function of dying is actually veget tive ; we fall to pieces like a flower. Th This tive; we fail to pieces like a flower. This very fact, that the process is chemical, con-firms us in the conclusion that the final throes is as painless as the incompenience is nothing to the fortal pilgring when he touches on daylight. A moment's examination of the way we are to the will show marks of good-ness in our faking off. The degree of sensi-bility, the arony theorem to the inversity of the ness in our taking off. The degree of sensi-bility is propertioned to the integrity of the depreciates it. Any defect in the nutrition disturbs the comfort of the individual until the carbonic acid generated in the cells is no longer displaced. The sensory ganglia everywhere part with their irritability by virtue of this poison, and cease to conduct currents. The criteria of death are being satisfied, and the process is consummated when this extinction of sensi-bility prevails at the ultimate filaments. Durdeath are being satisfied, and the process is consummated when this extinction of sensi-bility prevails at the ultimate filaments. Dur-ing the progress of this dissolution of the nerve force, this creeping on of the numbress of death, the individual is rapidly passing a condition of repose, and instead of torture or pangs, a degree of self-satisfaction oft ap-proaching to enthusiasm is realized. The sensations peculiar to the therapeutical oper-ration of opium, hasheesh, ether, etc., are not improbly akin to the montal activities of the dying. Barring the hallucinations experi-enced in the stupor as it gained on the sub-ject, the moribund is familiar with naught that borders on suffering. This carbonic acid has poisoned or mar-cotized the several gangtia, and re-flex productions are interdicted. A consummate analgesia prevails. In short, the notion of pain is forbidden the instant that any stimulus fails to excite a response. The condition to this irritability is that the nerve centre and the track be sound. If this vigor vanishes, reflex phenomena are at an end, and suffering, physiologically speaking, is impossible because of the arrest of the function of the sympathetic. Walker, of Christiana, brought to this city for his emoyers load of tobacco which he left, as directed, at the tobacco warehouse of E. Hoffman & Son, and received in payment of the same $157. As Heiss did not return Mr. Walker wrote a letter to Wm. Cooper, of the Cooper hotel, making inquiry about him. It was ascertained that he left the team at the Sorrel Horse hotel, after disposing of the tobacco, since which time nothing has been heard of him, and it is believed he has akipped. He is described as a German, about fify years old, with dark complexion and black moustache. He speaks broken English and may easily be known by the forefinger of his right hand which has been bady mutilated and is partly attached to the middle finger. Mr. Walker thinks Heiss will endeavor to get back to Germany with the stolen more. i, at the tobacco warehouse of E. Hoffman &

A Clear and Able Address.

A correspondent of the New York Tribune writing of Rev. J. Max Hark's address at the contennial of the Nazareth school, says it was " a clear, able exposition of the mode and principles of education which were adopted for the boarding-school, mainly de-signed to educate for the service of Moravian signed to educate for the service of Moravian congregations, but the general approval of these principles led to compliance with the wishes of other denominations whose desire to have their sons brought up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord, and preserved from the seductions and vices too commonly practised, led to an enlargement of the school, embracing within its fold such as gave proof of good moral character and disposition to conform to the regulations and general principles sought to be inculcated in the school, the high standard of which has never been questioned, as over 3,000 boys have passed into the various walks and occu-pations of hifs, many of whom have proved eminent."

Returned to Court.

Harry Stiffel, a resident of the Eighth ward, was heard by Alderman McConomy last evening, on a charge of larceny as balles. The suit was brought by Shied & Askew, mershant tailors, and the testimony was that Stiffel had a suit of clothes made by that firm. He called at the store and was given permis-tion to take them home to see if they would and to take them home to see if they would fit, and if they were satisfactory Stiffei was to return and pay for the same. He failed to return to the store, refused to pay for the clothes, and the above suit was the result. Stiffel was required to enter ball for trial at the August court of quarter researches.

A Countryman With Two Suits.

This afternoon a countryman, who had been drinking, went into the store of the Rochester Clothing Co., next door to the City hotel, where he bought and paid for a suit of clothes. He then had some discussion with the Hebrew proprietor about a hat and got loud. A police officer was sent for and Officer Roadman, who is always anxious to make an arrest (or s dollar,) yanked the fellow to the lock-up, where he refused to give his name. The men in the store stated that they only wanted the man put out and did not early to have him arrested. There did not care to have him arrested. There was no money in this for the officer, and it is likely that before the countryman is allowed to go it will cost him as much for the law suit as it did for the suit of clothes.

Queen street, lunched off the fat part of the leg of one of the boarders of the Grape hotel. Since that time all the people around the house have been looking for the canine offender, and last night he was chased up and down the street until a late hour by men armed with guns, pistols, clubs and other weapons. He managed to escape, but was captured this morning and led to his execution back of the Central market houses. About a dozen shots Spring lambs were lower at 325c. Hogs were fairly active at 6664c.
