PUBLISHED EVERY EVENING IN THE YEAR, (Sundays Excepted) BY STEINMAN & HENSEL.

INTELLIGENCER BUILDING, 5 W. CORNER CENTRE SQUARE, LANCASTER, PA.

WEEKLY INTELLIGENCER, (Eight Pages.) PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING, Two Dollars a Year in Advance.

THE INTELLIGENCER, LANCASTER, PA. The Lancaster Intelligencer.

LANCASTER, JUNE 24, 1885.

The Seventeen-Year Visitors.

They are late with their locusts in New York, where their advent in the Central Park is just recorded by the newspapers.

PERSONAL.

Don't Like It. Maryland is trying the experiment of the whipping-post for wife-beating.

The first man whipped under the Maryland law has a very sore back; he threatens to leave the state as soon as his lacerated skin is healed.

The Marriage License Act. From the Philadelphia Record. "The marriage license act," says the Lancaster Intelligencer, "seems not to go far enough in the penalties against those who without publicity establish married relations with each other."

A Farmer Shot by a Stage Driver. A shooting accident occurred on Monday evening in the town of Harrisburg.

Disasters of the Day. An express train on the Pan-Handle railroad collided with an empty accommodation train at Burgett's town.

Another Good One. The president has made another very excellent appointment for Pennsylvania in the selection of Gen. W. H. Davis.

It is to be commended on the score of fitness for the appointee is not only an editor and publisher of experience, reputation and ability.

Gen. Davis is appointed to a place of which the business is with ex-soldiers and their representatives and he succeeds a Republican leader.

He has been identified with no factions of the past in his party and will promote no revival of them; he has twice been a nominee on the state ticket.

A WATER-JUMPER.

RELEASING HOW OBLIVION COULD HAVE JUMPED WITHOUT HIM.

The Effect that Paper Packages of Sand Have in Directing the Course of the Body in Its Downward Flight—Presentations to Be Taken Before Jumping.

Corr. of Washington Republic. Had the well-known Professor Ollum personally, he would have given him a few hints and timely advice which might have enabled him to accomplish his jump successfully.

DALLAS, TEXAS. A wonderful example of how American settlements grow with the suddenness of the mushroom, yet retain the solidity of the oak.

At times there is nothing more inconsistent than the popular culture. A grand illustration occurs in the building of the surface railway on Broadway, New York.

There are new points even in burglary. A New York cracksmen uses his scheme to enter houses, being satisfied that no policeman is near.

The man to whom perhaps more than to any other person in Washington belongs the credit of the most beautiful shade trees that adorn the Capital City.

Lord FAIRMOR has settled down at his residence in the city and has resumed correspondence with Miss Fortescue.

REV. H. L. HAWKINS writes: "Morning lectures are usually characterized by freshness, continuity of ground and vigor."

Whipping is still considered an essential part of household discipline. "Spare the rod and spoil the child," old Solomon said.

When you sink into the depths of the water keep quiet, don't move hand or foot. The moment your paper sand bags strike the water they bob and the sand is scattered.
