A Young Man in Disgrace. From the Mount Joy Herald.

A few weeks ago two guns were stolen from Stoler's meat market and on last Wednesday the cash drawer in Brandt & Man ning's office was robbed of $10 in small change and a gold pen. Suspicion in the latter theft pointed strongly to a young man from the country, whose name we withhold for the present, by request, and subsequent investigation proved it correct. He was charged with the crime and finally acknowledged his guilt and refunded the money. Mr. Stoler recollected that this same person took a great interest in one of his guns during a visit to his shop, about the time they were stolen. He sent a man to interview him and the result was the return of the guns. The persons interested did not desire to prosecute him on account of his previous good name and the hope that their ieniency in this instance might serve as a perpetual warning of the punishment that will follow any future violations of the law. from the country, whose name we withhold

Cross Suits Entered. William Gamble has made complaint against Henry Gallagher for assault and before Alderman Barr. He alleges lagher struck him in the eye, blacking that member, last night, without any provocation. The other side of the story is that Gamble, while drunk, went into Gallagher's barber shop and behaved so disorderly that he was ejected. A suit for disorderly conduct has been preferred against him by Gallagher before Alderman Pinkerton.

At the hearing of Gamber, at Alderman Pinkerton's, this afternoon, the complaint was dismissed, as the prosecutor did not appear.
