A Timothy Field on Fire.

About half-past eleven o'clock, on Sunday norning an alarm of fire was given and th angines quickly responded to the call, but after running a few squares found that the fire was in the country. It is supposed that a spark from a passing locomotive set fire to a field of timothy, belonging to Mr. S. S. Detwller, situated near the old coal oil refinery The warm weather and no rain had made th field very dry, and the timothy was soon blazing hercely. Men with rakes, etc., did everything to stay the course of the flames, and only succeeded after about four acres, or and only succeeded after about four acres, or two-thirds of the contents of the field had been destroyed. The loss to Mr. Detwiler will be from $75 to $100. The alarm of fire caused some excitement in the several churches of town and many left before the services were concluded to ascertain the whereabouts of the fire.

afternoon a little before four o' dock. Deceased was born in this city on the 21st of June, 1830. After receiving a prelimi-nary education in the schools in this city he was entered as a student at Yale col-lege, graduating therefrom as a Bachelor of Arts in 1849, and subsequently having con-ferred upon him the degree of Master of Arts. On leaving college he at once began the study of medicine in the office of his father, and then entered as a student of medicine in the University of Pennsylvania, from which he graduated in April, 1853. He immediate-ly thereafter began the practice of medicine in this city, and became one of the most pop-ular of our local physicians, and although he did not attain to the eminence of his distin-guished father, he was acknowledged by his fellow-practitioners to be an accomplished surgeon and physician, and no man was more popular among his patients or more welcome in the sick room than he. ## GALA DAY ATST. STEPHEN'S.

Celebration of the Eleventh Anniversary o the Organization of the Church.

Yesterday was a gala day at St. Stephen's Lutheran church, the occasion being the elev-enth anniversary of the organization of the church and the tenth anniversary of the laying of the corner stone of the building at present occupied by them. The only decorations at the morning service were two immense bouquets of flowers, one on each side of the altar made up of the donations from each child of the Sunday school. The ser vices were at 10 o'clock in the morning with an anthem by the choir, followed by congregational singing, reading of a passage of scripture, and prayer. The sermon was preached by Rev. Meister, the pastor, from Nehemiah iv., 17 : "Every one with one of his hands wrought in the work and with the other hand held a wearon." hands wrought in the work and with the other hand held a weapon." Rev. Meister gave a brief history of the congregation, stating that it started with 17 families on July 19, 1874. Now the congrega-tion numbers 400 and the Sunday-school 250. The morning exercises were closed with the singing of a hymn by the Bible class.

singing of a hymn by the Bible class. In the evening the children's iestival was held. In addition to the floral decorations of the morning a floral church occupied a prominent position on the altar. The exer-cises consisted of singing, recitations and ad-drosses by Revs. Whetstone and Meister. The church was crowded morning and even-

The Hickest Doll on Earth.

A little girl now at Long Branch-the child of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Randall, of New York, who, with her parents and by le brother, is if a cottage on Bath avenue. Slories in the possession of probably the most magnificent doll ever made, whose self and trosseau were the wonder of all Paris, and took a prize a an Industral Exposition there. The little girl's name is Virginia Campbell, for the late Mrs. Robert Campbell, of St. Louis, and the eldest son of that lady, knowing the affection both his parents had for the affection both his parents had for the child's father and grandparenis, bought her the handsomest present he could find in Europe. The doll is the size of a child three years old. The trossean includes a seal skin sack, lined with quilted satin, large enough for a child three years old; point-lace fans with pearl sticks, lace covered parasols, with pearl and other fine handles; gloves, lace handkerchiefs and other laces, tine slik stock-ings, lungerie dresses, hats, wraps, satin slip-pers and every imaginable article a bride could have in her trossean, and all large enough for a child of the age named, and oven a wedding dress and fine lace veil. The smaller articles were all in sets, not only one or two of each, but the underwear, handker-chiefs, etc., by dozens. It took a very large Saratoga trank to hold the doll and the ward-robe.

Superficial Intelligence.

From the Pittsburg Chroniele. There is something positively ludicrous in the assumption of many persons of both sexes in society that they are highly well informed because they read all the novels of any note that come out. Of course to this involves a certain amount of industry, but it does not necessarily involve any intelligent and critical discrimination, and it requires no great capacity to read a given number of pages of fiction. A large part of the literary talk in society consists of reference to novels. and many a person of genuine native wit and sound understanding is undervalued be-cause he or she is not crammed with this fic-tion's lore and glib of speech in relation to it. There is a wide field of reading besides novels which does require capacity, and those who are familiar with it are not apt to have a cart lead of novels, mod, had and in-

The Jewish Feast of Ab.

This evening at sunset the Feast of Ab be gins, which continues until dark to-morrow During this period neither food nor drink can be partaken, and a large portion of the day is spent in the synagogues, where mournful poems and elegies are recited. Tomorrow alternoon's service is of a more con-solatory character, the comforting promises of God, as declared by the Prophet Isaiah, forming an especial feature of the prayers. The Feast of Ab has been reguarly observed since the destruction of the first temple by Nebuchadnezzar. Its men-tion in the Scriptures, however, is principally contined to the Book of Zachariah, where is spoken of as the "Feast of the Fifth Month."

To-Day's Funerals.

The funeral of the late Catherine B. Cochran took place this morning. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. D. C. Weidekind, formerly of this city but now of New York. The pall bearers were C. Widmyer, S. S. High, G. W. Schroyer, William Wright, Abraham Russel and Andrew Meixell, and the carriers four colored men. The inter-ment was made at Woodward Hill. The funeral of the late Adam Rockafield, took place from his late residence in West Lampeter township, and was largely attended, The exercises were conducted by Rev. Her-shey and the interment made at Longenecker's meeting house. List of Unclaimed Letters.

DRUMORE DOINGS.

Death of a Prominent Citizen of Fairfield Rural Notes,

GREENE, July 20.-Michael Boyd, brother of the late Sheriff S. W. P. Boyd, died last week at the home of his sister, Mrs. Mary A. Brown, in his seventy-ninth year. He was buried Saturday at the family burying ground near Peach Bottom. Descased had many peculiar characteristics, had everybody for a friend and was a link between the "good old days" of the past and the degenerate present. Mr. John Gamber, with a McCormick binder, in eight hours cut twelve acres of wheat for Thomas Morrison, and claims to be ahead. Your correspondent recently paid a visit to the Rock Springs of Cecil county, Md. The springs are located some distance from the village of Rock Springs, and once enjoyed the reputation of being quite an attraction---like some ladies. The springs are composed of seven cups, or pols, some of them almost perfectly circular scooped or worn in one rock, that shoot above ground, surrounded by fresh, green grass, an area of about thirty-five square feet. The water, which is at a very small flow at this time, rises in the pols from fissures near the bottom. The rock is from fissures near the bottom. The rock is of very peculiar formation, looking as if when rocks' were made a quantity of scraps were taken and mixed up without any regard to mineralogical properties. A Meteor at Chestnut Level.

A very large meteor was seen at Chestnut Level on the evening of July 17th, at about 930 p. m. In size it resembled the ful moon when just rising. Its starting place seemed to be in the zenith, from which it slowiy moved across the sky to the horizon, near which it exploded with a sound like distant thunder. A hissing noise was heard while it was in motion. It was so bright that it illuminated the entre sky; first with a green glow, and then with red, as it itself changed color.

A Mistake Corrected.

Long Branch and Saratoga. S. H. Reynolds, esq., and family, Mrs. William B. Fordney and Miss Josie Duffy left this afternoon for Bedford Springs. Rev. C. Elvin Houpt, Rev. D. H. Geissing-er and their wives, together with Rev. Charles L. Fry, left to-day to spend three weeks at Altoona and Cresson.

Suits Against the City.

Alderman Barr, on Saturday afternoon heard the suit of Joseph H. Huber against the city of Lancaster, for labor and materials furnished at the water works. The city was not represented at the hearing, Huber proved his claim and the alderman gave judgment in favor of Huber for $166.47, with interest from June 9. In the evening the same alderman heard

The out of Henry Miller against the city, Miller testified that he was employed by Street Commissioner Bertz to break cinder at the furnace, and that the city was indebted to him $80. The defense of the city was that Bertz was not authorized to contract with Miller and that Beacock & Thomas were on Miller, and that Peacock & Thomas were en-titled to pay for the cinder, which amount should be deducted from the slaim of Miller. The alderman reserved his decision.

Found Lying Along the Railroad.

On Saturday night James Cummings, man 29 years of age, who gives his residence on Tallahassee street, Philadelphia, was found lying along the track of the Pennsyl vania railroad. The young man said that he was riding on the train with the permission of the conductor. He was sitting on the end of one car with his feet on another, when he had one leg badly wrenched. He dismount-ed from the train and laid down on the bank ed from the train and laid down on the bank where the watchman found him. He was brought to this city on Pacific Express yes-terday morning and placed in the hospital. He remained there over Sunday and was sent home this morning. Cummings is a marble mason by trade, and was on his way West in search of work. As no bones are broken he will soon be able to be about.

Family Troubles.

On Saturday afternoon W. C. Coxey was prested on complaint of his wife for assault and battery, and on a charge of adultery, preferred by his mother-in-law. The last named offense, it is alleged, was committed named offense, it is already and a complaint with Celia Gipple, against whom a complaint was also made for fornication. Coxey was unable to furnish bail and was locked up at the station house. The woman entered bail inable to furnish ball and was locked up at the station house. The woman entered ball for a hearing before Alderman Barr. Coxey remained in the lockup until late in the evening when he was released from custody, his wite withdrawing the suits against him. He has promised to reform and stay away from Celia Gipple's house.

Bad Young Men

Alderman Barr has issued warrants for the arrest of James Evans and Edward Hildebrand for assault and battery. Gottleib Mil-ler, living on Rockland street, is the prosecu-tor and his statement is that on Friday night the accused came to his house, dragged his wife out of bed and assaulted him.

Helpless Upon a Friendless Sea !

Who, in taking passage in a great trans-Atlan-tic steamer, does not feel a thrill of exultation over her magnificent power. Against her the Storm King may hari his elemental forces, nor pierce her armor, nor stop her onward course. But let me describe a scene when, one morning in mid-ocean, there came an alarm from the pilot house followed by a cry: "The ship's rad-der is lost !" From the confident expression, consternation came to every face. The wheel-man being helpless to direct her course, the ves-sel was at the mercy of wind and wave. The captain had been negligent-the hangings of the radder were allowed to wear weak, and suddenly it had dropped deep into the toa ! Strong in intellect, in physical vigor, in energy and in ambition, man confronts un-daunted, gigantic tasks, and commands ap plause for his magnificent achievements. But, all unexpectedly, an alarm comes-the rudder of his constitution is gone. He has been careless of its preservation ; mental strain, nervous ex-citement, irregular habits, over-work, have destroyed the action of his kidneys and liver. This would not occur were Warner's sate cure used to maintain vigor. And even now it may re# store vitality to those organs and give back to the man that which will lead him to the haven of his ambition.—The Traveller. DEATHS.
