The Rage for Red-Headed Girls. sbury Park Corr. of Philadelphia Press.

Auburn tresses are in high fushion. counted thirty-six red-headed girls at Asbury this afternoon, during a ten minutes' promenade. Yesterday, at the bathing hour, the surf seemed to be all the while breaking out in bright spots, so numerous were the out in bright spots, so numerous were the red heaps bobbing up in the sea. They tell me, here, that the red-headed girls nearly all come from Trenton. New York sends but a few, and Philadelphia contributes none at all. Why the Jersey capital should be such a nursery of heads of flame, so to speak, I can't imagine. The girls are all vain of their hair, and are the envy of the shore. The color isn't a plain, dull brick, but nearer that of a ripe, freshly picked Jersey strawberry. After they have had a dip in the surf the girls parade up and down the beach with their long bright tresses flowing over, towels down their backs, and when several towels down their backs, and when severa of these strawberry-headed girls gather in a group, the spectacle is an interesting one, Big, deep blue eyes, and clear, fair skins— without a freckle—go with the Trenton hair

A manicure here, who also dresses hair, tells me that the yearning for red-heads is just intense, and young women are coming in every day to inquire what under the sun will give blonde and black tresses a straw-berry hue. So far no process has been ascertained, but if one should be found out before the summer is over, its discoverer will be likely to make a dollar or two if he will kindly come to Asbury Park. Vanitas vanitatum! But isn't it strange that red-heads should become the rage?

Somebody Was Careless,

A package containing five "certificates of transfer," each of the denomination of $10,-000, sent from the office of the register of the treasury in Washington Monday night to that of the comptroller of the currency, was inadvertently left in the office of the deputy comptroller upon the top of the safe. The package was found by the chair-woman and carried to the lieutenant of the watch. The deputy comptroller was sent for and went to the treasury at once. Upon examining the pakage only four of the certificates were found enclosed, and a search was at once instituted, resulting at the end of half an hour in finding the missing certificate among the waste paper and much crumpled up. The certificates have something of the appearance of government bonds, and one of the theories advanced is that some it worthless, or that he or she was likely to be searched before leaving the building, has-tily threw it away. Some inconvenience would have resulted from the loss of the paper, but the government would have los nothing of value, nor would the assumed thief have been a gainer. The comptroller will investigate the matter as thoroughly as flow to Make Them So-Keep Them in Health and They Will Take Care of the Rest.

The joy of every well regulated household comes chiefly from the children. Thousands of affectionate parents do not take care of their children. Through ignorance more than culpable neglect they suffer them to fail sick and die, when knowledge might have sayed them to love and home. Dr. David Kennedy offers his "Favorite Remedy" as emphatically a medicine for the children—gentle in its action, containing no harmful ingredients whatever, going straight to the blood, which when impure, is the seat and source of disease. "Fiverite Remedy" is the friend of childhood and should be found in every nursery in the land. Keep it in your homse for your children's sake, as well as for your own. Try it and you will be glad you saw this article. Make no mistake. The medicine is "Fivorite Remedy" and the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.
