LANCASTER, JULY 23, 1885.

The Death of Grant.

General Grant dies when his sufferings have obtained for him the sympathy of the world, and when time has calmed all disposition to asperity in judging him.

The convention very naturally viewed with suspicion and rebuked with emphasis the attempt to disturb the harmony of the proceedings and to pervert the object of the convention, by the introduction of the various resolutions which were offered on subjects not relevant to the work of a county convention.

THE OHIO REPUBLICANS decline to have a joint debate with the Protectionists. Secretary MANNING has been doing some very substantial work for the government since his entrance into the treasury department.

AND NOW RIEL is to be proved insane. If he had whipped the Canadians, he would have been the most sane of men. There is nothing that fails like failure.

IT IS FIGURED OUT that during his term as superintendent of the Philadelphia water works, Col. Ludlow has saved $550,000 to the citizens of Philadelphia.

THE ART of short story-writing seems to flourish better in the United States than on the other side of the water.

IT IS SURPRISING enough that Mr. Vanderbilt should desire thus to retire from his well considered Pennsylvania projects that are so promising of fruitful results.

ABOUT THE BEST of all good hot weather advice can be summarized in the counsel: Be quiet; be temperate.

THE CONSTITUTION of Pennsylvania says that no "railroad, canal or other corporation, or the lessees, purchasers or managers of any railroad or canal corporation, shall consolidate the stock, property or franchises of such corporation with, or lease or purchase the works, or franchises of, or in any way control any other railroad or canal corporation, owning or having under its control a parallel or competing line."

The County Convention.

The Democratic county convention, held yesterday, though spirited and aggressive, transacted its business in good temper, and reached satisfactory conclusions.

The delegates to the state convention are fit and fair men, of a representative character. They are pledged to no man and to no man's man, and they go to the state convention to represent their constituents according to their conscience and their intelligence.

For county nominations the only contest was for jury commissioner; and it was conducted with such decency and dignity that the result reached must be gratefully accepted by all well disposed Democrats.

A DAY UNDER THE EARTH.

Among all the mines of Continental Europe the two most famous are the "Sigsbee" and the "Danemora," in Eastern Sweden, and the salt mine, which we have just visited, at Wieliczka, in Austria-Poland, a few miles from the Russian frontier.

TWO LITTLE BLUE BOOTS.

Among the many stylish carriages which at this season of the year through Seaside Park at Bridport, Connecticut, just before sundown every afternoon, there has been noticed of late a handsome Brewster victoria, drawn by a pair of spirited bays.
