CLUMBIA, Pa., July 23.—Yesterday afteron complaint was entered by Mrs. Ann utter, of Kitchentown, at the office of Evans, charging John Ulmer, ig lad, living in the same neighborhood, seault. A hearing was given young or last night, and the following evidence roduced: Mrs. Reutter and Mrs. Eliza-straw were engaged in conversation on out steps of the latter's residence, on nor street, when a stone, coming with at force, suddenly passed in close prox-ty to their heads. The stone was a very e one, weighing nearly two pounds, and it would have struck either one the ladies, would have seriously ured them. Young Ulmer, in defense, injured them. Young Ulmer, in detense, said that he threw the stone at a cat that was annoying his chickens. He did not think that he did any wrong, but the act was violating a borough ordinance prohibiting the throwing of stones in the borough. Upon giving security for the payment of the costs the boy was discharged with a caution not to repeat his act in a public place, as the next time he would not get off with as light a sentence.

A young boy named Clinton Sheetz was screeted yesterday on the charge of throwing tones at a boy named Null. He was taken before Squire Evans for a hearing, and upon promising not to repeat the act and to be a better boy, was discharged by the justice.

Chief Burgess Jackson ordered the arrest of a stanger in town, named Thomas Corbley, for being drunk on Walnut street on Wednesday morning. He was taken to the borough lockup and last evening discharged upon promising to leave town. In a very short time after his leaving the office the constable again found Thomas in the same condition. He was again arrested and put in the lockup. This morning he was released and then fulfilled his promise to leave town.

A proclamation has been issued by Chief Burgess Jackson warning all owners of dogs to muzzle the same for the space of 25 days, from July 25. Fallure to comply with the ordinance relating to this matter will result in the capture and killing of dogs.

A Brakeman in Feril. A Brakeman in Peril.

Yesterday afternoon a brakeman in the employ of the Reading & Columbia railroad ompany, named Louis Casheer, got off the engine in order to turn a switch; and when he tried to jump on again he stood in the middle of the track waiting for the approach of the locomotive. As it approached him he made a leap for the step but missed his footing. He was fortunate enough to catch hold of the handrail and hung in this position with his feet dragging along the ties and in close quarters to the wheels. He was dragged for some distance before the engine stopped and the man was rescued from his perilous position. The grip which he had taken upon the handrail was the only thing that saved him. ine in order to turn a switch; and when

THE CITY SUPERINTENDENCY. Prof. Bushrie Undecided Whether to Go

Reading or to Stay Here. A representative of the INTELLIGENCER had a brief interview this morning with Prof. R. K. Buehrle, city superintendent of public schools, who was a few days ago elected to the same position in the city of Reading. The reporter bluntly asked the superintendent whether he was or was not going to accept the superintendency of Reading. He answered that he had not made up his mind what he ought to do. His election, under the circumstances, was very flattering to him, and the position was in many respects desirable. But, on the other hand, he was well pleased with his position here. He had bought a property and settled himself. The board of directors and teachers had been very kind to him, and he had formed many warm friendships among them. If he was sure that the directors and patrons of the schools were satisfied with his work, and really wanted to retain him, he would hardly know what excuse to make for leaving his present field of labor. The salary offered by Reading is somewhat higher, but the trouble of moving and getting as comfortably fixed as he is now, would counterbalance that. For the present he could not answer what he would do. same position in the city of Reading. The

The reporter asked him if he had seen Henry S. Eckert, president of the Reading school board, and Harry Maltzberger, esq., a former member of the board, who had come to town to see him. Mr. Buehrle had not seen them, and was rather astonished to learn that they were here, as he had received only yesterday from the secretary of the Reading school board an official notification

When told by the reporter that the gentle men above named were looking for him Supt. Buehrle hurried off to meet them.

The Woman's Christian association o Rochester N. Y., reluctantly gave the facts to the public on Tuesday, of a case which came under their care. A few nights ago a young girl, 17 years old and scantly dressed, applied to the association for protection. She told a horrible story of her mother's attempt to drive her into a life of shame. The asso ciation thoroughly investigated the story and found it to be true. The mother told the girl she could make more money if she would do as she wished, and would bring men to the house. A few days ago the mother brought house. A few days ago the mother brought to the house a young business man of this city and introduced her daughter to him. The girl refused to be sold to him, whereupon the mother locked her up in the parlor with the man. Her screams attracted the attention of the neighbors, and the girl was then released by her mother. She immediately left home, and applied for help to the Woman's Christian association. The ladies of this institution secured a place for her in a family as a servant girl.

A man called where she was staying, and representing himself to be a police officer, took the girl into custody. He then conducted her to the home of her mother. On Monday night the woman made another attempt to prostitute her child, but, again making her exempe, the girl sought the same ing her escape, the girl sought the same refuge as before, and this time she was privately secreted in the home of one of the officers of the association, where she now is. Elaborate preparations are making for the Mennerchor picnic, which is to come off at Penryn park, on the 3rd of August. Besides the Mennerchor music, which is always an attraction, there will be a cornet band and full orchestra present on the picnic grounds.

Surprise Party.

Mr. Rea Reed, bookkeeper for Williamson & Foster, and his wife returned to their home, No. 440 Low street, last evening, from their summer vacation. They were only in the house a few moments when they were surprised by a large party calling on them. A pleasant evening was spent, music and games constituting the amusements. At 12 o'clock an elegant collation was served and at 1 o'clock all departed for their homes well

An Office Entered by Thieves.

Thieves effected an entrance into the office of Marsh & Co., manufacturers of agricultural implements, at Mt. Joy, last night. The thieves had drilled a hole into the door of the afe with an intention of blowing it open, but before they inserted the powder they found the key in a drawer and opened the sate. All the money they found in the safe—25 cents— was taken. After scattering the books and papers around the floor they left.

Fine Penmanship.

A number of deeds and mortgages that were left at the recorder's office yesterday were greatly admired by those who examined them. They were the work of John F. Ruth, justice of the peace at Rothsville, and are considered to be the finest specimens of penmanship left at the recorder's office during Recorder Myers' term.

The Indians In Camp.

The Indians, whose arrival we noticed a few days ago, have gone into camp on North street near Duke, where they form the principal attraction of a show, which is given to sell a medicine. A great crowd is constantly at the camp.

The Effect of Pension Money. George Wissler, living in the Seventh ward, got his back pension yesterday and ward, got his take person yesterously. He was arrested on a warrant issued by Alderman A. F. Donnelly and after he became sober, bail was entered for his appearance at hearing. Sheriff's Sale.

Some time ago O. F. Groff, who had been seeping a hotel at Rawlinsville, left for parts unknown, after becoming in debt to quite a a number of persons. An execution was issued against him, and yesterday the sheriff sold all of the personal property except that claimed by his wife.

Last evening the tarletan, which covers the ceiling of John Copland's barroom, caught fire from the wind blowing the gas against it. Several gentlemen who were in the room prevented a serious fire by tearing down the goods.

John Hill, for drunken and disorderly conduct, was arrested by Officer Winower and committed to the county jail for a short term by Alderman McConomy.

For Better Directions. A letter addressed to Mrs. James McGinn, Northumberland county, Penna., is held at the Lancaster postoffice for better directions.

In Town. Edward McLaughlin, the well known billiard player and room-keeper of Phila-delphia spent several hours in this city last night with his friend John Cline.

Summer menus are much more difficult to arrange than others, as our systems demand cooling viands. There is nothing more ac-cooling viands. There is nothing more acceptable than cold meats, such as cold roast lame, cold roast squabs and chickens, and among cold vegetables, cold asparagus. These, if neatly arranged on the dishes and prettily garnished, if with nothing other than a few fruit blossoms, will please the eye and more easily tempt the palace. Salads are most acceptable. A liberal diet of fresh, thoroughly ripe fruit is of the highest importance to most of us, but care must be exercised not to east too heartily of it at any conercised not to eat too heartily of it at any one meal. Vast quantities of liquids should be avoided when fruit has been eaten.

Hot Weather Diet.

One should have a good sized ice box, capable of holding a good supply of ice. It should be so aranged that milk, butter, etc., are separated from meats and vegetables. When huddled together they lose their identity, so far as their individual flavors are concerned, and become tainted with the flavor of one another. This is particularly true of milk and butter, which rapidly absorb impure or obnoxious flavors. Cleanliness is no where more important than in the ice box, which should be thoroughly scrubbed at least twice a week.

Milk is a very important diet, but should be used in moderation or it is liable to produce ill effects. Drink it in small mouthfuls and rest a moment between them. Dyspep One should have a good sized ice box, caduce ill effects. Drink it in small monthfuls and rest a moment between them. Dyspep tic persons are advised to beat the milk a few moments before drinking. This treatment breaks the butter globules and renders digestion easier. We strongly recommend skimmed milk and fresh buttermilk as summer drinks instead of ice water. The ice water dyspepsia, a common malady during the summer months, may be entirely relieved by using small quantities of freshly churned buttermilk accompanied by what is known as a moderate dry diet.

Breakfast should not be a heavy meal, and hot food should be used in moderation. Hot tea and coffee liberally partaken of prevent one from feeling comfortable all day. Radishes ice cold, oatmeal, crackers and milk, a dainty slice of cold lamb, fresh fruit and cold asparagus present a breakfast menu that makes hot weather a luxury.
