REVELATIONS THAT IN A DEAD-LETTER IN THE BOROUGHS.

The Board in several large buildings for the purpose of escape in the event of a fire—Police Intelligence—Latest News About Town.

Regular Correspondence of INTELLIGENCER.

COLUMBIA, July 24.—The legislature during its session of this spring passed a bill, which was approved by the governor, providing for the erection of fire escapes on hotels, halls, etc. The bill specifies the manner in which they are to be erected and the number for each floor. Failure to comply with the requirements of this act imposes a penalty of fine and imprisonment on the owners of such buildings. With the exception of the escape on the Cherry street public school building, there is not one place which comes within the limits of this bill that is provided with the proper means of escape in case of fire. There are several large buildings in Columbia used for the meeting of secret societies and other unlawful purposes, and it is the only means of exit from the different lodge rooms. The meeting of these societies are often attended by a large number of men and a better means of leaving the buildings should be provided. This law should be enforced in the borough.

The river at this time is nearly as low as it was last year, when it was lower than for seven years. The business at the coal chutes is very much retarded by the low state of the water. The fish chutes have been closed, and the raft chute will be closed to-day.

ONLY TWELVE YEARS OLD.

A "little boy blue," aged about 12 years, and carrying with him the outfit of a boot-black, appeared in Lancaster to-day and no doubt he had an opportunity to "shine em up," he said his name was Johnny Doyle, that his father and mother were dead, and that he and his little sister were living with his Grandmother Zackerly at 4th street and Montgomery avenue, Philadelphia. That he left Philadelphia two weeks ago intending to make his way to Pittsburgh, where he has an uncle living. He has occupied two weeks in getting from Philadelphia to Lancaster, and hopes he will be able to make Pittsburgh "before cold weather sets in." He says he generally goes westward night, though sometimes he has been invited in farm houses. He has been given his meals by the farmers along the way, and he has been seen in many places and buys a bite at the cask shops. He has not attempted to ride a mile on the freight trains as he is afraid of being hurt; nor does he ever sleep on the cars, but he has done so all the time. He says he did not get "a shine" between Coatesville and Lancaster, but was not waylaid on that account. He never went to school, but is nevertheless quite intelligent.
