During the summer months the park has been greatly used by many persons who assemble there for the purpose of playing croquet and other different games. A number of boys also congregate there and they behave in a manner that causes great annoyance to the persons living in the neighborhood of the park. Complaint has been made several times of the manner in which these boys act, and the trouble should be abolished. They stay in the park until late hours of the night stay in the park until late hours of the night and act in a way that brings discredit to the other frequenters. other frequenters. It must be admitted that boys cannot always be quiet and they must have some bolsterous amusements, yet there is no limit to the way in which the boys act in the park, and a timely warning should have the effect of making these boys act a little more properly.

Muzzle the Dogs.

The chief burgess has had a proclamation printed concerning the proper muzzling of dogs during a period of twenty-four days, measure, as during this heated term the dogs are apt to become rabid. The owners of many dogs have complied with the ordinance relating to this matter, although many others have failed to do. A dog-catcher has been employed by the proper authorities and he has begun his work. A day or so ago nine dogs were captured without muzzles, and as they were not work. A day or so ago nine dogs were cap-tured without muzzles, and as they were not redeemed in the proper time, the dogs were taken to the limits of the town and killed. There are still many other dogs running at large without muzzles and if their owners do not want him to share the same fate as the

WHITNEY TO ROACH'S ASSIGNEES. Asking for a Just Settlement to be Promptly Made for Past Work. Secretary Whitney has written as follows to John Roach's assignees :

tractor has heretofore received has left the government without sufficient margin of moneys reserved to enable it to protect itself in the present situation. The contract provided that 10 per cent. should be retained from the bills as they came due and held as security for the completion of the work. At the present time those reservations would have amounted to $210,-710. They have been surrendered to the contractor under circumstances not imthe contractor under circumstances not important to consider now, with the exception of $26,670. In addition to this small sum of $26,670 in our hands there are unpaid bills for extras claimed on the ships, amounting to $26,670 in our hands there are unpaid bills for extras claimed on the ships, amounting to $25,688.15, and in dispute on the Doiphin, $29,945.08; altogether (mostly in dispute), $83,304.03. As against this four ships are in your hands, upon which over $2,000,000 has been [said, which must be completed to be valuable, liable to greater deterioration by neglect than all the moneys unpaid and in dispute would repay. It is of the utmost consequence to the government, as it is to yourselves, that a just settlement of past transactions should be had and a new departure made.

I suggest, as a practical method of arriving at a solution of the matter, a meeting of yourselves and your counsel with the attorney general and myself, at which some practical method of dealing with the subject may be arrived at which shall be within my lead authority.

LIBERAL TREATMENT. Secretary Whitney said that he had no doubt the government would have to take the unfinished cruisers in John Roach's hands and complete them itself. This may be conand complete them itself. This may be considered as the probable outcome of the conference which he agrees to hold with the representatives of Roach. Secretary Whitney also said that he believed Roach's failure an literation, but he did not think the government could be held responsible for it, affect he treatment accorded Roach by the government had been, to say the least, exceedingly liberal.

DROWNED AT GREENLAND MILLS. Little Diller Shindle Falls off a Log to Diller Shindle, the eight year-old son of Jeremiah Shindle, residing at 228 Shippen street, was drowned at Greenland Mills, East Lampeter township, Monday afternoon. Coroner Honaman was notified, and he went to the scene of the accident, where he held an inquest. A. H. Diffenbaugh, A. K. Difan inquest. A. H. Diffenbaugh, A. K. Dif-fenbaugh, Christian Barr, Benjamin Diffen-baugh and S. J. Pugh, were the coroner's jury, and Dr. William Compton, the coroner's physician. The facts, as developed at the hearing, were that Jeremiah Shindle took his son Diller, and a boy named Mishlich fish-ing yesterday. When the party arrived near Greenland Mills, Mr. Shindle left the boys with the borse, while he went down the ing yesterday. When the party arrived near Greenland Mills, Mr. Shindle left the boys with the horse, while he went down the creek a short distance. During his absence, the boys were playing on a log that lay in the stream, and while thus engaged young Shindle fell from the log into the creek, which was about five feet deep at this point. Young Mishlich ran to where the father was, to tell him that his son had fallen into the creek, and the father hurried back but the body had sunk. An alarm was raised and Christian Barr, an employe at the mill, searched for and recovered the body in less than fifteen minutes from the time he went down.

Had young Mishlich ran to the mill, which was only a short distance from the secne of the accident, the boy might have been saved. The verdict of the jury was accidental drowning. The remains were brought to this city and taken to the home of Mr. Shindle.

Drowning of James Edmund Wetton. The drowning of James Edmund Wetton, brother of Mrs. Frank Bitner, of this city, was briefly alluded to yesterday. DESPOILED OF HER GLOSSY BRAID. A Girl's Long Black Hair Clipped off in a Public Park by a Miscreant.

Miss Ida Schrader, of Chicago, with her father, mother and sister, was in Lincoln park on Monday. Ida has black hair forty-four inches in length and very glossy. It was arranged in two long braids which hung down her back. About six o'clock she was looking at the prairie dogs, together with her parents, when she felt a slight pull at her hair. Turning suddenly she saw a man with a pair of scissors in his hand. As she turned the long braids were pulled from his grasp, but the scissors snapped off about a foot of one of them. She screamed and the mar ran away.

Several persons in the vicinity gave chase and the fellow was captured and turned over to Officers Schutter and Cushman, who searched him and found the piece of hair cut from the girl's head in his possession. He also had the scissors and five rough drawings representing himself in as many different positions cutting hair from the heads of young women. When taken to the station house he gave the name of C. A. Sclomon. He is a small dan and has a sneaking look. When taken before Juliece Kerstel Solo-When taken before Ju...lce Kerstel Solo-mon said he was a painter by trade. He said he had been drinking beer, and it made him insane. When asked if he was often troubled in that way, he said that when he was a boy he fell into a cellar and cracked his skull, and that he often had got into trouble when and that he often had got into trouble when he did not remember doing anything. He was asked where he got the drawings, and neknowledged having made them himself, but said it was only in fun. The justice "promptly fined him $100, and in default he will go to Bridewell for nearly seven months.

HOW HE KILLED THE CAT.

A Pittsburger Evolves a Scheme to Silence a Moonlight Screnade.

From the Dispatch. A citizen named George Henry Huggins who lives out Fifth avenue, has been greatly annoved for some time past by a large, fine haired cat that has made a practice of lurking around his premises nightly, and kind of whooping things up in the way of howling. Mr. Higgins had laid awake howling. Mr. Higgins had laid awake nights studying up schemes to put a period on the cat's career, He has hit it several times with lumps of coal and old boots; he has fedfit on beefsteak sprinkled with rat pos-son and broken glass, but the cat has always turned up sleek and smiling on the succeeding evening. On Saturday night, however, he secured a small sausage, and opening one corner, poured half an ounce of nitro glycerine into it. The loaded sausage was deposited on top of the fence in the yard where the cat made his base of operations. The pale moon came sailing up over the hills, but Mr. Huggins sat up at the window and waited, with a gleam in his eye. Presently the little pussic came prowling along the fence rail and espied that sausage. There was a gurgling guip, and it was gone. Then Mr. Huggins proceded to act. He let out a yell and fired a boot at the cat. It jumped off the fence, there was a terrible re-port, the air was filled with fur, and the cat will not sing by the moonlight any more, and Mr. Huggins slept well last night.

The committee on buildings and grounds of the Lancaster school board, have award to John Best the contract for heating by steam the Manor street public school building. A MENDMENT TO THE CONSTITU-TION proposed to the citizens of this Com-monwealth for their approval or rejection, by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Published by order of the Sec-retary of the Commonwealth, in pursuance of the 1st section of Article XVIII of the Constitu-tion. tion.

Joint resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Penn-

Joint resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, that the following is proposed as an amendment of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof.

AMENDMENT.

That section five of article five of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which reads as follows: "Whenever a connty shall contain forty tanusand inhabitants it shall constitute a separate judicial district, and shall elect one judge learned in the law, and the General Assembly shall provide for additional judges, as the business of the said districts may require. Counties containing a population less than is sufficient to constitute separate districts shall be formed into convenient single districts, or, if necessary, may be attached to contiguous districts as the General Assembly may provide. The office of associate judge, not learned in the law, is abolished in counties forming separate districts: but the several associate judges in office when this Constitution shall be adopted shall serve for their mexpired terms," be and the same is hereby amended, so as to read as follows: Whenever a county shall contain sixty thousand inhabitants it may conglitute a separate judicial district, and may electone judge learned in the law; and the General Assembly shall provide for additional judges, as the business of said district may require. Counties not forming separate districts, as the General Assembly may provide. The office of associate judges, who having more than one law judges; the county shall elect two associate judges, who shall not be required to be learned in the law; but the several associate judges in office, when this amendment shall be adopted, shall serve for their mexpired term.
