PRISCO, OR THE MEN OF '49.

In Sutter's Mill-race lay the sand,
The yellow, shining grains,
That sent a thrill throughout the land
From the coast across the plains.

And all Atlantic's scaboard rose With shouts of "Virgin Gold!" Fearless of fevers and of foes Or deadly heat and cold.

And swept to the Pacific slopes And swept to the realth;
In quest of sudden wealth;
The young aglow with buoyant hopes,
The aged with greedy stealth.

Those stalwart pioneers.
From the Palmetto and the Pine
To where the Redwood rears. They came with cradle and with tent, An army strong and bold, Their sight on the Sierras bent

They came, the Men of Forty-nine,

They came all bearded as the pard Bronzed by the burnished sun, With Colt and Bowle for their guard,

And the rich field was we Along the Sacramento's shore

Ran rivulets of life, All eager for the precious ore In Mammon mines of strife. While mother, sister, sweet-heart, bride, Fell on their knees to pray hat naught of evil should betide

Their loved-ones leagues away. Hall to the Men of Forty-pine Who braved the stormy Horn That honor might be yours and mine And millions, yet unborn!

For straightway Frisco reared its crest Close by the Golden Gate, The Empire City of the West

SEEDS FOR THE MILLION.

How the Benefices of the Agricultural Bureau are Distributed.

"We are distributing 20,000 packets of turnip seed daily," said Colonel Coleman, commissioner of agriculture, the other day. 'The expensive sorghum seed of Dr. Loring will not be distributed as only about one seed in ten will germinate!" Colonel Coleman's garden seed department is a busy place these days. The congressman who got circulars notifying them that they had $180 worth of seeds apiece due them, have been remarkable prompt in responding, Congress votes $180,000 annually for seeds. Twothirds of this sum goes back in seeds to the 400 senators and reprenentatives, and the commissioner of agriculture distributes the rest through other channels.

Each congressman is allowed 5,000 papers of vegetable seeds and 1,000 papers of flower seeds to begin with. In addition, the members from tobacco districts have received in the past year 500 papers of imported tobacco seed each; the cotton belt members have each had 200 quarts of cotton seed; the win-ter wheat men have had 200 quarts apiece of their staple grain; the spring wheat repre-sentatives have been equally favored, and the congressmen have been blessed in abund-ance with kernels of choice maize. All the congressmen received in July 1,000 papers of turnip seed each, and grass seeds, three or four bushels to the members, was showered allke upon the just and unjust. The turnip seed distribution is just closing. Sugar beet seeds were sent also to favorable districts. PECULIARITIES OF STATESMEN.

The peculiarities of statesmen are often indicated by the manner in which they dispose of Colonel Coleman's crops. Some latitude of choice is allowed, and members who are well up in farming and gardening get their quota in the one or two grains or vegetables that are staple articles in their districts, thus making themselves solid for years. There is Joe Blackburn, for instance, whose enduring fame in Kentucky is in no small degree due to the fact that he takes out all his allowance in hemp seed and induces the commissioner to give him several bushels over.

The champion seed distributors of the House are: Taylor, of Tennessee, and Jones of Texas, with Lanham, of Texas a good third. These congressmen represent big and growing districts with innumerable wants. They are omniverous. They exhaust their own allotments of seeds early, and then get as many assignments of orders from other congressions. congressmen as they can. A literary con-gressman, who wants to swap seeds for doc-uments, is a great find for a seed congress-

For instance, Representative Milliken, of Maine, traded his tobacco seed with Phil Thompson, jr., of Kentucky, for printed copies of Blaine's culogy on Garfield. copies of Blaine's eulogy on Garnett. Maine needed the eulogies more than the to-

The average congressman sends from ten to three hundred names of seed constituents to the commissioner. Occasionally the lists reach 1,000 names, and there have been members who have sent in 5,000 names, with the request to send one paper of seed

OCHILTREE WANTED PARTRIDGES. The Hen. Thomas Porterhouse Ochiltree was a great seed hunter before he was a congressman, but, having once been elected, he neglected his constituents in this particular. In reply to the last notification that seeds were awaiting his order he replied: "My constituents don't go much on seeds, but they are larighty fond of partridges. You may send a few coops around to my rooms." The late commissioner looked up the law on the subject to see if he could comply with the requisition. Colonel Ochiltree said if a member could have cologne and suspenders charged to his stationery account, he saw no charged to his stationery account, he saw no reason why partridges cannot be enumerated under the head of turnip and Jerusalem artichokes. The senators draw their seeds with as much punctuality as representatives. War-ner Miller does not send out small saplings that will grow into wood pulp trees, as has been supposed. He has a very complete list of half-breeds to whom Colonel Coleman of half-breeds to whom Colonel Coleman franks choice flowers and vegetable seeds. Nevada Jones has a constituency that grows nothing but quartz rock. He gives away his seeds to his swarm of friends. The frosty Edmunds is as formal and mys-terious in the seed business as he is in everything else. Nobody ever sees his list or bene-ficiaries. He does not send it from the de-partment, but orders the seeds sent to his residence in bulk. He then goes into execu-tive session with himself and before coming out makes a solemn oath never to divulge what has happened.

The distribution of food fishes and spawn develops some gold fish in a globe, but before they were delivered he caused them to be ex-changed for canary birds, and the feathered songsters were sent to his home in a fine nickel-plated cage.

HON. A. KING, U. S. Senator from Vermont, says: It affords me great pleasure to state that "Dr. Petzoid's German Bitters" is a reliable and pleasant medicine and the best I ever used for Sick Stomach and Biliousness.

Wherever Malaria Exists.

The bilious are its certain prey. In intermit-tent and remittent fever, dumb ague and ague cake, the liver is always seriously affected, and the blood contaminated with bile. One of the chief reasons why Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is such a sure defense against chills and fever and every form of malarial disease, is, that it does away with liability to the disease by re-forming irregularity of the biliary organ in adance of the arrival of the season when the disease is prevalent. There is no finer fortifying preparative for those about visiting or emi-grating to a locality where the Miasma-taint ex ists. There is no certain immunity from dis-ease in an endemic or epidemic form, to be se-cured by the use of the average torics and anti-spasmodies. But where quinine fails the litters spasmodics. But where quinine fails the Bitters succeeds both in preventing and curing. More-over, it removes every vestige of dyspepsia and overcomes constipation, rheumatism, inactivity of the kidneys and bladder, and tranquilizes and strengthens the nervous system. a5-12
