The full particulars concerning the affair can not as yet be fully obtained, but the infor-mation received in town is to the effect that terday Mr. Maulick went to Chickles to furnish a patent incubator to a party at that place. He was driving a horse that belonged to his brother and is a very high-spirited animal. While Mr. Maulick was attending to some business at a house on the road to Marietta the horse was left standing on the pike From some cause the horse became frightaned and started to run. Mr. Maulick in order to stop his flight attempted to get into the vehicle and was hurled violently to the ground. His head struck a large piece of

The cut is a terrible one and exposes the scalp. The wounded man was taken to Marietta to the home of some friends, where he is now lying. Doctors Mowery, of Marietta, and Bern-theisel, of Columbia, are attending to the injuries. It was at first thought that Mr. Maulick had sustained a fracture of the skull, but such is not the case. A FIRE AT CHRISTIANA.

Destruction of Brinton Walters' Warehouse

and Grain Depot. Special to the INTELLIGENCER.

CHRISTIANA, Aug. 7 .- Brinton Walters grain depot was destroyed by fire at an early hour this morning. The building was insured in Chester County Mutual company. The local fire company saved the lumber sheds and scale house. It is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. The loss is $5,000.

FURTHER PARTICULARS.

Between 12 and 1 o'clock this morning, the large frame warehouse belonging to Brinton Walters, dealer in coal, lumber, grain, &c., at Walters, dealer in coal, tubber, grain, ac, at Christiana, was destroyed by fire. The building was 63 by 68 feet in size and two stories high. For some time past Mr, Wal-ters has had men engaged putting on a third story and it would have been finished in a short time. There were new elevators, con-veyers and shafting in the building and of course they were damaged so as to be unit for further use. There was no grain except some waste in the building, as it had been removed to another warehouse near by until the improvements were finished. Two sofas, one of which was almost new, Two sofas, one of which was almost new, were badly damaged by the fire, but all of Mr. Walter's books, papers da, were saved by his bookkeeper who had sufficient presence of mind to unlock the large safe while the building was burning and when there was fire all around him. A corn skeller, some terra cotta pipe and a lot of track that was not of much value were burned in the building, together with con-siderable lumber which was to be used in making the third story and was ready to be put together.

put together. The fire caused a great deal of exckement in the village and all the citizens twied out. The hand engine was brought to the scene of the conflagration and good work was done with it. On the north side of the burning funforing, and connected with it by a roof, under which the cars are run, was a large shed which was filled with lumber, grain, &c. The stream was turned upon this building and it was saved, the only damage to it being the partial purning of the roof. On the south side was a large scale house, and it was but slightly damaged, as a stream was kept upon it also. The fire is believed to have been caused by spontaneous conbustion. The root had been off the building for some time and the recent rains wet the waste grain, which is supposed to have become heated. The loss to Mr. Walters on the building and contents will be about $3,000 and there is something like $2,500 insurance in the Chester County Mutual company. Mutual company.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

A Passenger Engine Buns Into a Freight En-gine on the Quarryville Railroad.

The passengers on the south bound alternoon train on the Quarryville road made a narrow cscape on Thursday afternoon. The train left the King street station on time and when below the cotton mills, the engineer noticed that the switch leading to a siding was open. He succeeded in checking the speed of the train but could in checking the speed of the train but could not stop it in time to provent a collision with the engine of a freight train. The pilot of the passenger engine was broken and the engine was otherwise damaged. The acci-dent was caused by the carelessness of a trakeman who thought that the passenger train had passed down the road and he opened the switch to let the freight train on the siding get to the main track. The matter has been reported to the superintendent and will be investigated. The passengers on the train were somewhat shaken up by the col-lision, but fortunately none were injured.

She escaped with no other injury than a sprained ankle. Dora Kautz al-tempted to follow her, but after getting out ot the window hung on to the still with her hands until a gentleman outside put a large box under the window, and mounting it, as-sisted the girl down. She was not injured but completely prostrated by the shock and required medical aid. None of the others sustained any damage. In a few minutes the steam was shut off, a new water guage put on the boiler, and in half an hour the fac tory was running as usual. There was at no time any danger to the inmates, but unfor nately they did not know it.
