"LO" SESSIONS' GOOD STORY.

Brother. Senator Lo Sessions, of New York, tells the following story of his experience in cam-had never gone into Cattaraugus county, and, as the Democrats there that year were s lively as a cheese in July, I concluded I ould run over. So I put on a clean choker nd made my way to the home of an old school districts in his vicinity. Hitching ap his old mare into a three-spring, the dea-con drove me to his nearest Republican eighbor, and calling him out to the wagon, stroduced us.

" Well, you needn't give us a knock own to each other,' said our friend who was saming on me. 'I met Mr. Sessions a hautaugua this summer. I'm glad to ee you, and how is the good work going on there? How is my Sunday school

"I managed to make a reply that satisfied my questioner and our mutual friend, and, after a little talk about politics, in which my Sunday school acquaintance promised me is support, we said good day and drove on the support, we said good day and drove on the unusual degree of interest taken in that locality in all things pertaining to

"Now it chanced that while I was in Buffalo a few days before, I found time hanging heavily, and did an unusual thing with me—went to the races. In the grand stand I saw a countryman who had pool checks in his hand. 'Let me see what horse you are betting on,' I said, and then told him he was wrong, and had better hedge, as the horse he held for a favorite would get beat. He followed my advice, and by the merest good luck (here Mr. Sessions gave a sidelong look that meant 'Maybe I didn't know what heres was latted to win and know what horse was slated to win, and unaybe I did') the horse I named came in lirst. The man had put unaybe and the first. The man had put up his last dollar and made a purseful. He wanted to hug me in the presence of the crowd, but I told him we would defer that luxury.

"Well, to return to my drive through Cat-araugus county with the deacon, who had secone a firmer friend than ever since be had heard of my zeal in the Chautauqua Sun-day school. At Horse Corners who should be the first person I saw but my quondam friend of the race course. However much I would have liked to avoid him at that time, I had nothing else to do but to sail in and trust to good fortune to save my character from being wrecked. The deacon stopped and said, 'Mr. Blank, this is Mr. Sessions, of Chautauqua county, our candidate for the Senate.'

senate.'
"I recken you can't tell me who he is,'
said my horsey friend. 'How are you, Mr.
Sessions? Didn't we scoop those fellows out of a slick sum at the Buffalo races?
There ain't anything too rich for you about here. If you don't see what you want, ask for it.'

for it.'

"The deacon's face blanched, and a letter of withdrawal danced before me, but an inspiration came and I replied as readily as I could: 'I'm glad you had good luck at Buffalo, but you are mistaken in the party. It was my brother Waiter whom you met there.' It was a mighty narrow escape, I want you to understand, and I told Walt when I got home that he would ruin my character if he didn't look out. I was elected, though if it hadn't been for my Chautauqua experience and for Walt, I guess a Democrat with any pretentions to being pious would have got there."

"A Crick in the Back" is many times a symptom of kidney disease. Hunt's [Kidney and Liver] Remedy will cure it.

For women in delicate health, no medicine equals Hunt's Remedy. All temale complaints are speedily cured by it. It never falls.

Supremely Delightful
To the emaciated and debilitated invalid is the sense of returning health and strength produced by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. When that promoter of vigor is tested by persons in feeble health, its restorative and vitalizing po-tency soon evinces itself in improved appetite, digestion and nightly repose, the sole conditions under which strength and nerve quietude is vouchsafed to the human system. A gain in flesh of course ensues upon the restoration of digestion and assimilation. As surely as winter follows the fall of the leaf, does disease shadow the footsteps of declining strength, when the premature decadence of vitality is not arrested. Mararmus, consumption and other wasting maldies are prompt to fasten upon the enteebled. Avert disease, therefore, with this grand enabling tonic, which not only renews falling strength but mitirates and counteracts the instrength, but mitigates and counteracts the in-firmities of age and those of the gentler sex. Rheumatism, malaria, liver and kidney trou-bles yield to it. augi9-25

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Can you tell who is in the greatest danger of catching any infections or epidemic disease? "Why," you say, "the person whose blood is in an impure or impoverished condition." Exactly. Such persons take special complaints as dry grass bursts into flame before the sparks of a locomotive. Pure blood is a defense; it means safety, and Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is the mildest, safest and surest purifier of the blood. Our chief dangers are within ourselves, auglo-imcod&w
