A HARVEST ROME SUNDAY.

in Harvest." He described the seasor, especially for Lancaster county, astene of universal rejoicing, based upon satisfaction with the results of duty fulfilled, of effort energetically put forth, toil patiently endured, and labor crowned with the blessing of God. The believing heart recognized the fidelity of a Heavenly Father's care and saw in the annual bounty of the divine providing as great a miracle as in the daily provision of manna for the Israelites in the wilderness. From the earthly and annual harvest, Rev. Melater passed to the beavenly and final ingathering of the redeemed, which he denominated God's harvest home, where those who had gone out to sow with tears would come home again with joy, bringing their sheaves with them. In the evening their sheaves with them, In the evening their sheaves with them. In the evening their sheaves with them, In the evening their sheaves with them. In the evening their sheaves with them the strength of the pastor. Rev. Mr. Meister was presented with all the fruit which the children have deposited on the altar.

Arrested for Corner Loafing.

William Black, a young man, was ordered off the corner of North Queen and Orange streets last evening, by Officer Heiss. Black walked to the opposite corner and refused to leave there when again ordered away and the officer arrested him. He resisted, and in a lew minutes a crowd of several hundred men gathered. He was finally landed in the station house, where he spent the night. This morning he was taken before the mayor and discharged upon payment of costs after being reprimanded for his conduct.

After Black was fined by the mayor, Officer Oil was about taking him down stairs until Officer Heiss could go for his costs. Disch gave the officer the minutes and was finally captured at a house on Church street. Arrested for Corner Loading. Mary McMann widow of James Meied at her home on Front street on

From the Harrisburg Patriot. The Chicago Herald, usually as accurate as it is bright and well informed, referring the other day to the late distinguished son of Pennsylvania, James Buchanan, remarked Pennsylvania, James Buchanan, remarked that the ex-president "was from a country town, the very name of which, Wheatfield, was suggestive of seed time, and harvest and stubble." James Buchanan was from Lancaster, an inland city of thrift and enterprise, and his magnificent suburban residence was known far and near as Wheatland. The Herald's wits seem to have gone wool-gathering or it wouldn't have made the blunder.

Dying After Taking an Involuntary Bath. Lizzie Henry, a colored girl 17 years old, was accidentally drowned on Saturday even-ing, in the head race at Hiestand's saw mill ing, in the head race at Hiestand's saw mill near Chickies. She was crossing the stream on a log, when she lost her balance and fell in the stream. She was rescued, but died shortly afterward from internal hemmorrhage caused by the fall. Coroner Honaman was notified and he empanelled as his jury, Jacob Thuma, John W. Coble, David Evans, A. R. Lutz, F. E. Krause and Amos Miller. The jury rendered a verdict in accordance with the above facts.

Beaten by Her Son-in-Law.

In Saturday Mrs. Margaret Grady, residin Columbia, came to Lancaster to visit daughter, who is the wife of Harry Miller resides in Concord alley, above Walnut et. Mrs. Miller has been in ill-health for etime past. Her mother heard that her band had not been tresting her as he lid. She began talking to him of the law, and Miller, who had been drinking, use made a fierce attack upon her, beather terribly about the head and face her terribly about the head and face his fat, cutting and bruising her. He struck her with a clothes prop and about to knock her brains out with a ball bat. Officer Weaver found the old as on the street. She went to Alder-Dears and complained against her sonw, charging him with assult and batteriously of the peace and drunken and derly conduct.

Her had a hearing before Alderman this forencon, when he paid costs in trush and disorderly case, and gave ball aver at court the charges of assault and ry and surety of the peace. Shot His Son by Mistake. A man named Boisvert was bear hunting-in the township of Ham, near Montreal, on Saturday when he sighted a dark moving object, at which he fired. The object proved to be his son, who was instantly killed.
