

THE HERITAGE. The rich man's son inherits lands, And piles of brick, and silver and gold, And inherits soft white hands, And tender flesh that fears the cold, Nor dreads to wear a garment old. A heritage, it seems to me, One scarce would wish to hold in fee.

What doth the poor man's son inherit? Stunt muscles and a stoney heart, A hardy frame, a harder spirit, A king of two halves does his part. In every useful toil and art, A heritage, it seems to me, A king might wish to hold in fee.

What doth the poor man's son inherit? Wishes enjoyed, and humble things, A rank adorned by toil-won merit, Content that from employment springs, A heart that in his labor sings: A heritage, it seems to me, A king might wish to hold in fee.

What doth the poor man's son inherit? A patience learned of being poor, Courage, if sorrow came, to bear it, To follow, with content, the way that leads to make the outcast bless his door: A heritage, it seems to me, A king might wish to hold in fee.

O rich man's son! there is a fall That with all others level stands, Large charity doth never soil, But only when, soft white hands— This is the level that thy lands; A heritage, it seems to me, Worth being rich to hold in fee.

O poor man's son! wearn not thy state; There is more wisdom than thine, In merely being rich and great: To only give the world a name, And make rest fragrant and benign: A heritage, it seems to me, Worth being poor to hold in fee.

What an intelligent Boston Banker Noted on His Travels. The Boston banker who has just published a book giving his impressions of a tour in England, found English farmers everywhere complaining loudly that America is tearing their farm and garden stuff markets all to pieces.

The author adds: We deem England the workshop of the world; yet after all, her best hold-alls are agriculture—and her best hold-alls have been agriculture. At the present time the production of 1886 was raising annually fourteen million bushels of wheat.

Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. Long Suffering from Stone in the Kidneys. It is by no means strange that Dr. David Kennedy, of Boston, should have received the following letter. By reading it you will see in one minute why James Andrews was cured.

Not Symptoms, But The Disease. It would seem to be a truth applicable by all, and especially by professors of the healing art, that to remove the disease, not to alleviate its symptoms, should be the chief aim of medication. Yet in how many instances do we see this truth admitted in theory, ignored in practice.
