Repairing the Furnace.

Workman have been busily engaged in removing the stock of coal, ore, limestone, etc., from turnace No. 2, of Chestnut Hill Iron Ore company, the cupola of this furnace having been disabled several days ago. The stock is being hauled near the furnace and the work will most likely be finished to-day, when the work of re-opening the "bosh" will be commenced.

Town Notes.

The repairmen of the Pennsylvania rail road are at work at raising the tracks of this road south of Locust street. A new crossing has been placed at Front and Locust streets.

A number of the lady friends of Mr. snd Mrs. E. S. Stair tendered them a pleasant surprise party at their home on South Third atreet, yesterday afternoon, the occasion being the fifteenth anniversary of their marriage.

A very handsome chart is now on exhibi-tion in the window of John S. Musser, on North Third street. It is intended for the use of the Columbia Lodge, No. 252, Brother-hood of Locomotive Firemen. The name of the lodge and their motto is very finely decorated in gilt letters and the whole is in An addition of twenty-five feet has been made to the boiler shop of Fairer & Son.

Workmen are engaged at the new Herald building on Locust above Second street, in building on Locust above Second street, in making the necessary improvements prior to this printing office taking possession of their new quarters, which will be in a few days.

A drill was had by Company C, in their armory lastnight.

Rev. Wm. P. Evans, of the Second street M. E. church, has hit upon a novel scheme to raise the church debt of $3,000. That amount is to be divided into 250 shares of $12 cach. If one share is subscribed by a memeach. If one share is subscribed by a member they pay one dollar a month: if two shares, two dollars per month and so on in proportion to the number of shares so much per month to be paid. This makes very easy payments and within one year the debt of the church well be totally wiped out. Very nearly two-thirds of the amount has already is Robbed By a Tramp. John Wilson, who says he is a teamster, and works on the Ingleside farm near Coatesville, came to Lancaster yesterday to have a little fun—and he had it. He sell in with a tall, dark-haired tramp, rather decently ed, who showed him the town, after which Wilson bought a quart of whisky, and the two retired to the yellow house below Dodge's old cork factory, on the Pennsylva-nia railroad, and drank it. Wilson got very nia railroad, and drank it. Wilson got very drunk, and, laying his head on the tramp's lap fell asleep. When he awoke late in the evening, the tramp was gone. He had taken with him Wilson's $25 watch, his $4 shoes, money, amounting to $5 or $60 cents, and the bottle which contained the whisky. In piace of the new shoes, which the tramp had stolen, he found a pair of old ones encased in worn-out gums. These he put on and made his way to the station house, where he was given a night's lodging. This morning he was discharged and made his way to Alderman Deen's office, where he told his story, but could not tell the name of his despoiler, or describe him with sufficient particularity to make complaint against him. Next time Mr. Wilson wants to get drunk he should remain in Coatesville, and go it alone in some private corner.

The jury empanelled by Coroner Honaman to inqure into the cause of death of the Peter Remmerer viewed the body at the county hospital yesterday afternoon. After hearing all the testimony obtainable an adjournment was had until this morning when the train hands were examined. The verdict of the jury was that death resulted from an accident, by being struck by a west-bound freight train in attempting to board an east-bound stain, at or near Mountville. No blame is attached to the Pennsylvania railroad or its supployes. inqure into the cause of death of the Peter miployes.

The relations of Peter Kemmerer, the man who was fatally injured by the cars at fountville Saturday, were notified of his test yesterday. They telegraphed Dr. Mc-Dreary, of the county hospital, to ship the body to Hagerstown, and it will be sent of a 5-20 this evening.

WAITE'S COMEDY COMPANY.

Hones is Well Impressed By the Excel lent Entertainment.

Walte's Comedy company made their first appearance at the opera house last evening, when they opened a week's engagement. Although the troupe was not very well known here they had a large audience. The gallery was crowded and but few empty seats remained down stairs. Although the prices of the show are lower than usual they are not of the cheapest kind. Twenty cents is charged for the gallery and thirty and thirty five down stairs. The piece presented last night was a comedy entitled "Shadows of a Life." The play is a very good one and caiculated to please any audidience. J. W. Carner is a fine comedian, and in the character of Reuben Lowder, the big-bearied countryman, he was given an exand in the character of Reuben Lowder, the big-bearted countryman, he was given an excellent chance to display his taients. The part is something like Den Thompson's Joshua Whitcomb or Barney McAuley's Uncle Dan't, and the audience were kept in a good humor. Mr. Carner is very natural on the tage and he was given capable support by the company. Miss Nellson was excellent as Gertrude, the orphan, and the audience were well impressed with her. J. R. Waite acted well the part of Count Julian, the villain of the piece, and indeed the whole company was strong. Miss Katharine Shepard was very funny as Dorathy Ann, the old maid in Search of a husband, and in the scene where she attempted to make love to maid in search of a husband, and in the seene where she attempted to make love to old Reaben she did weil. The audience last night was delighted and the company will no doubt have a big audience to see "lingomar" this evening.

The orchestra is a strong feature of this company. Their music is of the finest kind and they received liberal applause last night. "Tom Collins," the young Reading dude, created quite a sensation by appearing in the opera house about the middle of the play. He was attired in a full suit of red, with a skull cap of the same color. As he marched down the sisle he was greeted with applause. He was the last man to leave the building He was the last man to leave the building after the show. A mob of boys waited for him outside and it was with great difficulty that he made his way through them and reached the Stevens house.

THE PARNELL FUND. It Takes a Fresh Impetus By the Addition

Those who imagined that the subscriptions to the Irish cause had seen their best days, will no doubt be pleasantly gratified at learn-ing of the large list of additional paid contributions handed in to-day by Mr. J. J. Fitzpatrick. Among the subscribers will be found the name of Col. George A. Burton, the genial Stevens house colored porter, who in giving his subscription said he knew how it was himself to be oppressed. The account

The stock market opened irregular. The whole list was weak except in the case of coal shares, which advanced I to 1% per cent, on the announcement that a combination of the An thracite companies had been formed for the pur-pose of restricting production, and that the prices had been advanced 25c. The best prices for those stocks were touched about 18:30. The inprovement in them was not long maintaine Hardly had the improvement been recorded than the bears began selling them freely. They also unloaded the Vanderblits in some round amounts. The result was a break of 16 to 2 per cent. by 120 clock. From this extreme duliness prices have recovered partly, but the tone at the present writing is feverish.

OAR HALL

Counting Out Dollars Freely!

Yesterday, too, we had a brisk business; with people buying and counting out their dollars freely. It grows more interesting at Sixth and Market as the days go by.

There can't be any mistake about Oak Hall-being headquarters for buyers of Clothing. They found their way to the new goods—the Spring Clothing that we have made better than ever, and many of them found their money almost doubled in value in the good goods that we'd rather cut prices on than stow away till another season. It's not astonishing when the prices are so wonderfully low! Not astonishing ! with 30, 49 and 50 per cent. off Boys' Clothing. A good quality at $6; another line at $6.50 another at $7.56.

Still better qualities-cut down from $12-at And at Almost HALF-Suits for Biggest Boys only #6. cally $6.

It's not astonishing! when a pair of Trowsers made from ends and samples from our Merchant Talioring Department can be bought from $1 to $5; with the best of custom workmanship on them; made and trimmed in the season when work isn't in the least burry with them: Trowsers—you'd hardly find two of a style of a cloth, of a size. Sample & Mais—we mark each pair. A little patience in choosing, and you save $2 to $5 a pair. They're elegant quality. It's not astonishing | with Wainsutta Shirts down to 75 cents.

And a lot of Linen Collars-25 cents a hal And Percule Walsts at 50 cents : LESS THAT And Shirt Waists (fancy) at 35 cents. And Fancy Half Hose going at 15 cents. And 100 dozen Fancy Border Mandkerchiefs (Hemstitched), at 10 cents each.

And a lot of Scarlet Underwear at HALF PRICE principally large and odd sizes. The reliable ways of Oak Hall are telling; and the prices are making the goods go.
