MARY SOW PASSING DOWN RIVER AT COLUMBIA.

S Goat Island Successfully Avoids eds of Shad Rewarding the Efforts of the Columbia-News in Religious Circles-Notes About Town.

Regular Correspondence of INTELLIGENCES.

COLUNNIA, April 20.—The Susquehanna river is at the present time in a very good condition for rafting and shad fishing. Every morning between eight and ten o'clock the rafts pass down the river and their progress through the chutes at the dam is watched with interest. Every morning a number of people gather at this point to see if the altempt is made successfully. A large rock, called Goat island, stands in the river below the chutes and is in the current of the water. the chutes and is in the current of the water.

and the pilot and his crew must use all their still to pass by this obstruction in safety. A cabin has been built on this side of the chute wall, and is occupied by Henry Sheets, known to all frequenters of this place as "Dad." He has been fishing at this place since 1842, and during this 44 years has witnessed many changes. When he first located on the wall fishing was excellent, and he would get more fish in one day than he now catches in a week. He still follows fishing for a hving, and is firmly wedded to his cabin on the chute wall.

All the batteries below the dam are catching shad in good numbers, and from the reports of the men engaged in this business about six hundred shad were captured yesterday. Good prices are obtained, ranging from 70 cents to $1 per pair.

George Read and Harry Findley, two young men of town, procured a horse from orge T. Redsecker, liveryman, yesterday, George T. Redsecker, liveryman, yesterday, and having secured a wagon started out in the country with a large quantity of fish to dispose of them to the tarmers of the surrounding country. During the afternoon they stopped at a place about one mile west of Mountville to feed the horse, taking off the bridle for that purpose. In putting on the bridle, the horse got away and ran to Columbia. The harness was somewhat torn, but the wagon and horse were uninjured.

Concerning the Kempa Family. TO THE EDITORS OF THE INTELLIGENCER

-In your issue of the tenth instant there appears a "Woman's Query" concerning he dress of the young Kempa ladies : immediately after a most enthusiastic descrip-tion of their playing. Those who met these fair, young artistes personally know that they are very retiring and modest. Professor Kempa, their father, explained to some persons the reason of this apparently "decollete" dress. All good musicians know that, in order to secure the very best results in the violin bow, a perfectly free arm and shoulder are necessary. A tight or a flowing sleeve would have been either a hindrance or an annoyance to the diligent young musicians. Not to "appear" or be " bold," but by the need of the occasion, the style of bare arm and neck was chosen. At other times the young ladies always appeared warmly clad.

Explosion at Phoentx Cork Works. On Monday evening an explosion occurred at the Phoenix cork works on Chestnut street. One engine is used for the cork works and Rote's iron-fence factory. For tuel cork shavings are largely used. These fuel cork shavings are largely used. These produced a soot with which the flue became filled. The gas accumulated and an explosion, something like that of a stove when it becomes full of gas, occurred. The fire was scattered around the building but did no damage. The flues were badly warped and the boiler sheet was damaged to such an extent that a new one will be required. The walls were badly cracked, and the soot door was blown off. Although men were working near, no one was hurt. The boiler will have to be taken out for repairs and it will be a week before it can be used. In the meana week before it can be used. In the mean-time both factories will have to remain idle and a number of hands will be thrown out of employment for a short time. It is said by parties who claim to know that the soot did not cause the explosion, but it was due to want of water in the boiler.

Almost Suffocated by Gas. Aionzo Hambright, a convict at the Lancaster county prison, made a narrow escape from death on Monday evening. He has charge of the gas machine in the arch in the celiar of the jail and each evening he is required to go to the arch and "wind up" the machine. Last evening Hambright went to attend to his duty at the usual hour and one of the prisoners observing that he staid longer than usual, went to see what was the matter. He found Hambright in an unconscious condition and the room till of exceptions and the room. scious condition and the room full of gas, Assistance was summoned and he was carried up stairs. Dr. Rohrer, the prison physician, was sent for and after an hour's work Hambright was restored to consciousness. He is much improved to-day and will be able to resume work in a day or two. The doctor says he had a close call.

"Now, then," he said, turning to the school, "who will tell me what I have drawn?" "I know," called a very little boy on the front seat. "Well," the pastor kindly said, "what is it?" And the very little boy on the front seat shrieked out, "A termarter!"

THE PRESIDENT'S INTENTIONS. He Protests Against the Impudent Intrusions o

the Newspaper Press.

Washington Special to Cincinnati Enquirer. The president is indignant at the versatile freedom of the press in discussing his slieged approaching marriage. "I am not going to say a word in the matter, but let you go on in your own way until you get tired of drag ging the name of a poor defenseless girl into cruel publicity," said the president to an in your own way until you get tired of dragging the name of a poor defenseless girl into cruel publicity," said the president to an Enquirer correspondent who asked him the query about which there is now so much information extant:

"Is the president engaged?"

Mr. Cleveland sat in the bow window of his executive office, clad in a suit of black clothes, a black silk tie about his stand-up collar, which was slightly fraved on the edges. The president certainly did not look like a happy expectant groom, and he had a gloomy expression of countenance that the red hues of anger that settled about his neck did not tend to render more cheerful. The sky was slightly overcast. There were two working politicians waiting to see him on a distant sofa. A young woman sat on a chair not far away, and a day-before-yesterday-bouquet threw out malodors on the desk in front of him.

"These reports," he resumed, "are a shame and an outrage upon all the privacles and decencies of life, and the press should find something better to do than to be plitching into an unprotected girl in this brutal way. Next week it will be some other poor girl. Why do you not accord to your president the privileges you do to the laborer earning 50 cents a day? The president should have some rights of privacy you might respect. Your class give me none. A man said the other week that the barber came here on Sandays to shave me. Why, I have not been shaved by a barber for twenty years. Pretty soon they will want to know what sort of a night-shirt I wear (with a grim laugh). But you were very right to come and ask me, and I will say that when we, I, get ready to announce my marriage (sarcastically) I shall do so in my own way. But the result of ital will be that we shall have to shut you people out entirely from getting news here. I have a man.—Col. Lamont—who is in full sympathy with the press, and who is willing to give all the information asked, and yet you are not satisfied. Now, why don't you do something different from all the rest, and say a word in

CENTRAL TRANSPORTATION.

George K. Reed, of this City, Chosen as One of the Directors. At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Central Transportation company in Philadelphia, on Monday, at Association hall, General Louis Wagner was elected chairman and John B. Stauffer secretary. The appual report of the board of directors was first read. It referred to the efforts that have been made by the Pullman Palace Car company to secure a controlling interest in the Central Transportation company and made a brief review of the history of the pend-ing litigation. The stockholders were warned that Mr. Pullman was trying to weary them, and they were advised to hold on to their stock, instead of disposing of it at a ruinous figure. The report of the secretary and treasurer was also offered. President Stevens submitted a resolution approving the resolution of the stockholders some time ago, adopting the proviso of the state consti-tution and of the act of April 29, 1874, and of its supplements. He also offered a resolution, adopted at the same meeting, authoriz-ing the directors to take measures to pay each stockholder $12 for each share of stock and requesting the Philadelphia Trust, Safe Deposit and Insurance company to comply with the written request of a majority of the stockholders regarding the transfer of the assets of the Central Transportation company. The resolutions were adopted with-out debate.

On motion of William E. Lockwood the following resolution was adopted: "That a committee of two stockholders and a legal representative, not connected with the ma agement of the company, be appointed the chair to protect the interests of this co-pany and that the said committee be author zed to carry the same into effect as soon the said plan has been signed a controlling interest in the compar There was considerable discussion or this resolution and it was once defeate but afterwards reconsidered. The duty the committee, it was explained, would to use its endeavors to induce the stockho ers to hold on to their stock and thereby p vent Mr. Polliman securing a controlling iterest. The following officers for the ensuity year were elected: Directors, J. S. Steven William H. Lucas, Matthew Brooks, Georg K. Reed, B. P. Odyke, Evan Morris, Wr. O'Hara Scully, James Spear, Joseph D. AT THE OPERA HOUSE. am Hemple and Company in Two Comed

Last Evening.

Last evening Sam Hemple, the popul comedian, opened a three nights engageme with his comedy company in Fulton ope house. Although the prices are very low t house was not more than half full. T troupe appears under the auspices of t Grand Army and the money, if any is made, will be used to defray the expenses of Decora-tion Day. Although last evening's audience was small the folks were well entertained. The company is a good one, but of course Mr. Hemple is the big attraction. He has lest none of his old-time ability as a comedian, and from the time that he came comedian, and from the time that he came upon the stage until the close he kept the audience laughing. The first piece presented was the comedy in three acts entitled "Uncle Sam," in which Mr. Hemple played the part of Erastus J. Sharp, a character well suited to his talents. The company lent good support with F. D. Allen as Count Almonte, A. N. Phelps as Governor General, Miss Nellie Donald as Miraldi and Miss Pennoyer as Elize. The entertainment concluded with a farce entitled "A Bull in a China Shop" with Mr. Hemple in the character of Duelph.

This evening the company appears again

This evening the company appears again when there will be an entire change of programme. The proceeds of the entertainments are for a deserving purpose and should be well natronized. should be well patronized.

READING'S TRADE DOLLAR MEETING Nearly Three Hundred Thousand of the Coin

Held in Berks County. At a meeting of holders of trade dollars in Reading, Monday evening, it was stated that between $250,000 and $300,000 of the coin was idie in the county. Letters were read from Senators Cameron and Mitchell and Congressman Ermentrout to the effect that they favor the redemption of the trade dollar. A letter was also read from DeB. Randolph Keim, dated the 17th inst. Mr. Keim writes: "After dated the 17th inst. Mr. Keim writes: "After a conversation with the chairman of the committee on finance (Senate), my opinion is that the justice of the demand for the redemption of the trade dollar is admitted, but the claims of the silver men that the amount should not be charged to the present statutory provision for the coinage of silver dollars have prevented legislation. The anti-silver men favor redemption with the provision that the amount should be deducted from the $2,000,000 a month of silver dollars coined. The silver men insist that they should be redeemed without that proviso, thus throwing that equivalent of silver dollars into the circulation, in addition to the $2,000,000 coinage a month. This is the hitch, and, therefore, it would be impossible to say and, therefore, it would be impossible to say what will be done." The agitators will memorialize Congress and further meetings will be held. Another
