NOW THE DAT WAS OBSERVED IN THE SEVERAL CITY CHURCHES.

Large Congregations Everywhere Assem Despite the General Gloominess of the Day. Fine Decorations and Music-Crowds of Shoppers on Saturday Night.

Sunday was by no means a typical Easter day. Nature is usually in charming mood on that day, apparently sympathizing with the great mystery of the Resurrection, and seautiful sunlight, the fragrant odors of aberance everywhere. The sun made a partially succeeded at times, but they were only efforts. Towards noon the attempt was entirely abandoned, and a murky sky was presented the balance of the day with ominous threatenings of rain that did not come But despite the gloomy weather the churches, as will be seen below, were througed with the young ladies initiated their spring apparel, gay bonnets and light dresses being

On Saturday afternoon and evening the streets were filled with shoppers, presenting almost as crowded an appearance as on the eve of Christmas. The confectionery, book and drug stores, and all places where Easter mementoes were sold, were thronged with buyers, and the dealers in these specialties re-port a very large business. Below will be found in detail the services in the several

THE EPISCOPAL SERVICES. An Elaborate Programme at St. James'

At 5 o'clock the Sunday school celebratic held and the programme was made up he bymn, "Christ the Lord is Risen, was held and the programme was made up of the hymn, "Christ the Lord is Risen,"
"The Lord's Prayer," the creed, lesson, collects of prayers, address by Rev. Dr. Knight, a number of carols appropriate to the day and the recessional hymn. Prof. Matz had charge of the music.

The decorations were fine. Inside the altar were a mound of flowers and a floral star on a large floral base; on the baptismal tont was a cross and on the lesson desk a choice collection of flowers.

ST. JOHN'S EPISCOPAL. Music was one of the features of Easter at St John's Episcopal church, and the choir under the leadership of Wm. O. Marshall excelled all previous efforts. At the communion number of communicants than ever before on one day. The sermon by Rev. J. E. Pratt was from 1st Corinthlans 6-14, and the sub-ject discussed was the Resurrection. The ject discussed was the Resurrection. The special offering, which was for diocesan missions, was very large.

The floral decorations were numerous and handsome. A large cross was presented by Miss Blanche Franklin, in memory of her mother: a floral crescent on the altar was sent by the family of Mrs. Wm. Marshall, in memory of her daughter recently deceased. The Rhoads family sent a large cross of flowers and evergreens which was suspended from the chancel arch; the floral shield in front of the lectern was donated by Wm. O. Marshall, in memory of his deceased sister. On either side of the entrance to the chancel

At the evening service, which was held at the usual hour, the sermon was preached from 1st Corinthians 15-20.

THE CATHOLIC CHURCHES,

flowers and with its hundreds of lighted candles the altar looked well. The side altars were also tastefully decorated. The first mass was celebrated at 8 o'clock, at municants. At the 10 o'clock mass the choir Mrs. Wm. O. Fralley presided at the organ and did her part well. Dr. McCullagh preached a sermon from the gospel of the day. The vespers service was at 3 o'clock. The church was crowded at all the services.

ST. ANTHONY'S CATHOLIC. thony's Catholic church was the music. The altar was beautifully decorated with flowers. Masses were celebrated at 8 o'clock and 10 o'clock, and at both services Father Kaul preached on the gospel of the day. At the early mass holy communion was administered to a large number. Vespers were at 3 o'clock. All the services were largely attended.

At the 10 o'clock mass the music was very fine. A sermon from the gospel of the day was preached by Rev. Grotemyer. The vespers service was at 3 o'clock. The attendance was large at all the services.

AMONG THE LUTHERANS.

At the morning services in Trinity, Rev. Jacobs, of Philadelphia, preached. The sacrament of the Lord's supper was administered, as is usual on Easter, and the number communing was the largest for twenty-five

The decoration consisted of the entire covering of the pulpit by flowers and vines, and the representation of a tomb of solid rock, reaching high above the pulpit, made with colored canvas. At the base of this sepuichre stood two evergreen trees, planted in a bed of moss, and two large crosses of delicate hued roses capped the pedestals immediately in front of the pulpit. From the top to the bottom of the sepuichre were arranged in harmony a profusion of flowers and vines, and the whole presented a sight never before equalled in the church.

they became members of the church. After the address the choir sang an Easter anthem and then communion was administered. In the evening the pastor preached a sermon appropriate to the day celebrated.

GRACE LUTHERAN. The decorations at Grace Lutheren church were elaborate. A magnificent combination design of star, cross, crescent and heart, on a base of green, occupied a place on the altar. A group of liles was placed on the bap-tismal font and a pyramid of flowers was on tismal font and a pyramid of flowers was on the other side of the chancel. Rev. Houpt preached at the morning service on the Resurrection, and administered holy communion to a large class. The music was specially fine, a feature of which was Loyd's Te Deum. An orchestra under the direction of J. Fred Sener, accompanied the organist. The seprano solo was by Miss Swartzwelder and the bass solo by Howard Hayes. Children's service was at 2:30; and the regular service in the evening, at which Rev. Houpt preached.

ST. STEPHEN'S LUTHERAN. The attendance was very large at Stephen's German Lutheran church Easter Sunday morning. The services were opened with an Easter anthem, which was opened with an Easter anthem, which was well rendered by the choir. A prayer followed and next was the sermon by the pastor, Rev. E. Meister, from St. Mark 16: 18. His subject was the resurrection of Christ. After the sermon a large number communed, among them being the class that was confirmed on Palm Sunday. In the evening an Easter celebration was held which was participated in by the young ladies and gentlemen of the congregation. The programme was made up of recitations, dialogues and Easter carols. A feature of the entertainment was the music. Grosh's full orchestra accompanied the organist. The orchestra accompanied the organist, church was crowded. On the altar w number of choice flowers.

ZION'S LUTHERAN. There were no decorations at Zion's Luth eran church, but the day was appropriately observed. The Easter anthems were we rendered, and the music throughout, which was under the direction of Geo. Benkert, was of the finest. The sermon was preached by Rev. Mayser, from John 11: 25-26, and the by Rev. Mayser, from John 11: 25-25, and the theme was "Faith in Christ the risen one, leading to life eternal." Easter services were also held in the evening. The regular com-munion services will be held on Sunday next. The attendance at the morning and evening services and Sunday school was very

the resurrection and the life." The services closed with the chanting of the doxology.

The Sunday school celebration was held in the evening and began with a voluntary on the organ, which was followed with the reading of scriptures in concert. The balance of the programme was made up of responsive reading, singing of carols by the school, recitations and an address by Rev. Hark. The children were presented with china eggs and dismissed with the benediction.

Musicial Programmes.
There were no decorations at St. John's German Reformed church. Regular Easter and communion services were held in the morning. The sermon was preached by the pastor, Rev. John Kuelling, from St. Mark 16:1, 8. His subject was, "Have no Fear." In the afternoon the children of the Sunday subged observed the day and some of the school observed the day and some of the teachers presented their children with gifts appropriate to the day. In the evening Kev. Kuelling preached from 1st Corinthians 5.6.8.

the First Reformed church. At the morning service Rev. Dr. Titzell made a short address on the Resurrection, and administered holy communion to a large number. The music was very fine. In the evening Rev. Dr. Highee occupied the pulpit and preached from Galatians 3: 1-3, and his theme was the Resurrection. In the afternoon the Sunday school held an Easter service, and Dr. Titzell baptized a number of infants.

There was a full attendance of member St. Paul's Reformed church, Rev. J. B. Shumaker, pastor, at all the services yesterday. Twelve members were received into the church by confirmation on Good Friday evening and three by certificate. The floral decorations for Easter were neat. The recess in the rear of the pulpit was filled with plants and cut flowers donated by members of the church and Sunday school. In the evening the Sunday school festival was held, and it was very successful. The programme was made up of carols, hymns, responsive reading and addresses by Rev. Shumaker, Charles Denues, Rufus Miller, superintendent of the mission branch of the Sunday school, and D. C. Haverstick. The music was under the leadership of Wm. A. Heitshu, with A. H. Fritchey presiding at the organ. Each of the teachers and scholars was presented with Easter eggs and Easter cards. The collections taken up during the day go to foreign missions. assault and battery he had entered against him.

Andrew Augustus figured as the defendant in a cross suit brought by James. James swore that Andrew Augustus met him on North street, struck at him with a hatchet and threatened to cut him in small pleces.

The court decided that each should enter bail to keep the peace and pay the costs of the suit they brought.

Grant Lindsey, who lives in Fasgleysville, appeared as a defendant in a suit brought by Mary Washington. Mary swore that while she lived at Lindsey's house as his house-keeper, he called her bad names, and threatened to harm her, in consequence of which she is afraid of him. Mary is now an inmate of the county jail, where she is now undergoing a six months' sentence, and the court concluded that she was not in much danger for the present. The complaint was dismissed and the defendant was directed to pay the costs. It was shown to the court that there was no one to care for Lindsey's children and the court reconsidered the matter of costs and put them on the county.

John Gest was heard for threatening to do bodily harm to his father-in-law, John Kiefler. The prosecutor swore to the threats, the defendant denied having made them, the court dismissed the suit and divided the costs equally between the parties. Neither was able to pay their portion of the costs and they were transferred to the dock. In the assault and battery case he was sentenced to pay a fine of $1 and costs.

L. C. Loomis, who was tried and acquitted for assaulting L. B. Esbenshade early in the week, was heard on an additional charge of threatening to knock out the brains of Esbenshade. The threats, it is alleged, were made on April 1. The defendant denied having made the threats. The court directed him to enter bail to keep the peace for three months and pay the costs of posecution.

Mary Sellers, of Strasburg township charged her husband Abraham with having deserted her. She testified that he has not provided for her or the children since before Christmas. He said he was willing to take his wife home and provide for her, and the court gave him an opportunity to do so by continuing the case until the Saturday of the adjourned quarter sessions court in June.

Wayne Bard figured as a defendant for threatening to kill his wite and with failing to provide and maintain her. She testified that her husband choked, assaulted, abused and threatened her on several occasions during the past two years, and in consequence of the bad treatment, she was obliged to leave his home. The accused denied his wife's testimony as to his treatment of her, and claimed that he had always treated her as a wife should be. Since she left his house be made propositions to her to return. He said he was willing to take her home. It was also shown that the character of Bard for peaceableness was good. The court directed him to enter into his recognizance in the sum of $300 to keep the peace. In the desertion case he was ordered to pay his wife $3.50 per week, for the maintenence of his wife, so long as they remain apart.

Alice R. Floyd charged her husband, Lorenzo S., with failing to support her. The parties, according to the testimony, lived unhappily together and agreed to separate. Articles of agreement were drawn up and signed, but he was unable to give security to comply with the conditions of the agreement and she then brought a suit for desertion. The court said they would not interfere as there was a voluntary separation and distence of the surface of the surface was a voluntary separation and distence of the surface of the surface was a voluntary separation and distence of the surface was a voluntary separation and distence of the surface of the surface was a voluntary separation and distence of the surface of the surface was a voluntary separation and distence of the surface of

STRIKERS STILL SULKING. An Ominous Condition of Affrirs at the Broo

BROOKLYN, N. Y., April 26.-The striking hands of the sugar factories at Green Point and Williamsburg, this morning are sulking around the neighborhood of the various idle works at these points, wearing stolid and de termined visages. The red ribbons which they say are merely the insignia of the unions to which they belong, are conspicuously dis played upon the lappels of their coats. Guarding the factories and the approaches thereto are small squads of police, whose badges of authority glisten in defiance to the red ribbons of the strikers, while their long clubs dangle menancingly from their wrist and convey the conviction to the ordinary ob server that they will be freely used should any occasion arise. Although a number of seem to have had little or no effect upon the canies whose hands are out will pay the men what is due them. In this event some fears are expressed that the strikers will spend their money in the beer shops that abound in the vicinity of the factories, and another conflict between them and police will follow. This, however, it i believed will not be the case, and the striker will maintain a passive resistance until the company attempts to employ new hands. Two Killed in a Ditched Train. on the Missouri Pacific railroad, was ditched near Wyandotte, Kan., last night. Denny Mack Replaced by Robert Ferguson an Association Umpire. Bob Ferguson refused to umpire for the eague this season because he was not given a salary of $500 more than the other umpires a salary of $500 more than the other umpires. He has been very anxious to get a position of late, and he and his friends have been doing all in their power to get him in the American Association. They made a big fight sgainst Denny Mack, and at last have sueceeded in having Mr. Mack released. Ferguson umpired his first game in Brooklyn on Saturday. He is a good man in the position, but he seems to have taken very disreputable means to secure the job.

The Baltimore and Athletic clubs played two innings in Philadelphia on Saturday, when the game was stopped by rain. The score stood 1 to 0 in favor of the Athletics.
