I'm afraid you may think him a dandy, And mention it, to his disgrace, When I tell you the front was embroidered And the neck and sleeve trimmed with soft But I fromed it with such a feeling

As hever possessed me before, Though I'd laundered his shirts, a full hundred, And made them for him by the score.

But tenderly bending o'er this one,
I said, "Bless his heart," and "Sweet boy!"
And smoothing the lace on the neck band,
I lingered a minute to toy
With the Irill as it lay on my finger,
And, though you may think I was soft.
I pressed two quick klases upon it,
And laughingly held it aloft.

I know wives den t usually do this, When ironing shirts for their lords They're more apt to indulge in a tantrun Of spite o'er their ironing boards, But list, and I'll tell you, the secret And you'll sympathize with me, I know As one woman will, with another If she the white feather will show

My little girl up to her grammy's Was staying, the morning before,
And while she was runninging, childlike,
Midst some dads in an old bureau drawer,

She captured a shirt which her paper, When he was a baby, had worn, And begged it to rig up her dolly : And as it was wrinkled and torn

Returned home, she said : " Mamma, wash it," And so, as I did her behest. And thought how my terrible glant Within its wee size had been pressed.

Do you wonder I said " bless his heart, as My fancy presented to view, A miniature phase of the monster. Who now measures just six feet two! - Pirginia C. Hollus, in Good Houseke spins

"GOOD BYE. MINNIE."

The Godspeed That a Southern Editor Gives to a Beautiful Bride. From the Kentucky State Journal.

The wedding last evening of Miss Minnie Jansen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred. W. Jansen, of Monroe street, and Mr. B. H. Kro ger, the prominet tea merchant of Cincinnati was one of the grandest affairs of the kind ever witnessed in this city. Never has a more beautiful and purer bride stood in front of the altar of the Church of the Immaculate Conception than Minnie.

Her features, form, size and general appearance are as faultless as is her disposition—she is as beautiful in sout as in person; and if Mr. Kroger isn't now one of the happiest men, he ought to be.

The church was packed with those wishing to see the fine-looking couple mated for life, and though Father McNerney did his part of the work in a quiet way, the beautiful bride, arrayed as she was in a costly white lace dress and veil, was the chief attraction, for all doubtless has heard of her fame as a beauty.

After the ceremony was over, the bridal party (which included four attendants and ushers) and invited guests repaired to two usners) and invited guests repaired to the residence of the bride's parents, where, to the number of fifty, they were regaled by a bountiful repast set by Mr. Bertsch. All was gayety until near midnight, when after bidding all good-night, Mr. and Mrs. Kroger left in a back for their newly-urnished home on Barr street, Cincinnatt. The presents on the occasion amounted to several hundred dollars. Econyage, Minore. dollars. Bon voyage, Minnie.

From the Chicago Herald. "Talking about quick shaves," said a passenger on a Rock Island suburban train. came down to the depot the other day just four minutes before train time. I ran into that shop across the way, kept by Mrs. Whatshername, and said, "Gimme a three-minute shave.' 'All right,' says she, 'sit down,' and I'll be darned if she didn't go over my face in good shape in just three minutes by the watch, and I got brushed off and caught my This stirred up the story-tellers. One man had been shaved in two minutes, another in a minute and a half, and so on. "Just wait till you hear from me," said a low-browed, tough-looking passenger. "For seven years I shaved in a shop where one barber run the razor over an average of sixty faces an hour. What do you think of that?"

"Impossible!" exclaimed several listeners

'No, it isn't impossible," continued the low-browed man. "This barber didn't do anything but use his razor. The men lathered their own faces while waiting their turn and a boy handed him freshly honed raggers Seven or eight slashes was a shave, and the customers wiped their own faces after leaving the chair."

Small Boys Whipped in Court for Worrying

Girl and Her Beau. An incident, thrilling in its consequences to the Leisure and Hack families in the West End, occurred in the Louisville city court. Clarence and Fred Leisure and Frank and James Hack, four small boys were arrested for beating tin cans and blow ing horns under the windows of a neighbor named Shaw. Miss Shaw had a beau, and the racket was so uproarious that they could not hear each other speak. It turned out upon examination that there had be a law-suit between the Hack and Shaw families, and the tin-can beating was done to annoy

the latter.

Judge Thompson said: "I will fine these boys $10 each, but the fine will be remitted if their fathers will take them into the marshal's office and whip them soundly, in the discretion of Deputy McCorkhill."

Both fathers arose instantly and agreed to the proposition. The boys were led into the office, a double strap was taken, the young criminals laid across the table, and the fur criminals laid across the table, and the fur-began to fly.

Deputy McCorkhill was not satisfied with the inaugural dash, and asked the father if he was not consumptive. Before the affair was over the partations of the young offend-ers had been lathered in severe style, and when they went out of court after the judge had confirmed the commissioner's report, they waddled with great difficulty and pain.

East winds bring rheumatism; St. Jacobs Of drives it away. It never returns.

Change of climate and water often affects the action of the bowels. One or two Brandreth's Pills taken every night are a perfect remedy in such cases, they also prevent maiaria and are a protection sgainst typhus fever, or diseases arising from bad sewerage.

Be On Your Guard. Benson's Capcine Plasters are widely imita-ted. That is the fact. Now, why are they imi-tated † Because they are the only porous plas-ter in existence that is really trustworthy and ter in existence that is really trustworthy and valuable. Benson's Plasters are highly and scintifically medicated, and cure in a few hours aliments upon which no others have had any effect whatever. The public are therefore cautioned against plasters bearing the names of "Capstein," "Capsicum," "Capsicine," or "Capcine," or "Capcine the difference; and also against plasters bearing the names "Benton's," etc. When buying ask for Benson's Plaster and protect yourself by a personal examination.
