During yesterday Pierce Bingham, a boatman on the Pennsylvania canal, was in the aloon of C. C. Schure, corner of Front and Bridge streets, and after a short time created a considerable disturbance. By the use of a billiard cue the man had everything his own way for some time, and put every person out of the saloon. Complaint was entered against him at the office of 'Squire Evans, for surety him at the office of 'Squire Evans, for surety of the peace, for threatening to kill one of the persons present. He was arrested and given a bearing yesterday afternoon. He was placed under bail for his good behavior, and had to pay the costs of the suit.

Officer Hardnele arrested Pierce Bingham after the other suit was concluded, on the charge of committing an assault and battery on John Neuman, a canal boatman. He was given a hearing at the office of 'Squire Frank, and was discharged upon the payment of costs.

Fine Specimen of Workmanship.

A dining room car for use on the Chicago.

A dining room car for use on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad arrived in Columbia yesterday, from the Harlan & Hollingsworth car shops, Wilmington, Del., on its way to its destination. The car is 65 feet in length and 10 feet 5 inches in width, and could not be run through the tunnel above Columbia. This car is the finest specimen Columbia. This car is the finest specimen of workmanship ever seen in town has been greatly admired by a number of persons. One end of the car is devoted to the kitchen purposes and is complete in every detail; next to the kitchen is the buffet, and this portion of the car is fitted up in fine style. The dining-room contains ten tables, five on each side, capable of seating four persons each. The car is handsomely finished in hard wood, and by the use of lambrequins and plate glass mirrors the car has been put in fine order. By the use of this car home comforts can be secured while traveling.

The Salvation Army of town paraded through our streets last night singing their peculiar songs and playing of tambourines, A very large number of people followed the members in their march through town, re-

THE CATROLIC UNION CONVENTION. Charles A. Lagen Makes a Strong Appeal for Better Citizenship.

Archbishop Ryan addressed the Catho-c Young Men's National union at Academy of Music, Philadelphia, on Thursday: "As Catholics, we have nothing to do with politics itself," he said, " but with the ethics of politics. It is not essential that political representatives should be Catholics, but it is necessary that should be Catholics, but it is necessary that men filling public offices should be men of good principle, of whatever faith." These officers were chosen: President, Rev. Jos. H. Mechan, of Elizabeth, N. J.; vice presidents, Rev. J. P. Mellen, of Philadelphia, and John P. Leachy, of Boston; secretary, Thomas H. Byrnes, of New York. It was decided to hold the next convention in New York, the time to be fixed hereafter.

Charles A. Lagen, of the bar of Philadelphia, well-known in this city, was introduced. He said: "I see no reason because a man is a Catholic he should fail to be an American citizen in its best and broadest sense. The Catholic laity should take more interest in public affairs. It was a difficult thing to move the proper class of Catholics in ing to move the proper class of Catholies in hladelphia to take the lead in public mat-r. What Catholic in the commonwealth is a shamed of the divorce laws of the state? not ashamed of the divorce laws of the state:

Two years ago the governor had pointed out their glaring defects and yet what Catholics have met to uphold and strengthen the governor or arouse publicopinion in his fight against such laws? It happens, too that when we do move, if it is possible to make a mis-we do move, if it is possible to make a mistake we do it."

Mr. Lagen then severely criticised the appointments of alleged Catholics in many boards in the municipal government and said that in many questions outside of mere religion there were thousands of Protestants ready to help along the Catholics in some needed reform. He believed in considerable association with Protestants.

In closing, the speaker referred to the bighearted liberality of the late Archbishop Wood and of the reception to his successor by Protestant and Catholic alike in the city two years ago. "That," said Mr. Lagen, "was just forty years after Catholics were shot down in cold blood in this city by an accuraced party, the name of which was so detested now that let a man be put up for office who was known to be a member of that organization and he would be crushed by the peopla." In referring to the duties of Catholics with reference to the labor troubles, he said:
"One feature of the labor problem—anarchy and socialism should be stamped out by Catholics."

Charged With Ravishing.

John Dickinson, a burly negro, was before Alderman McConomy last evening, charged on cath of Sarah Young, white, wife of Michael Young, with ravishing her on the lith of May. The parties live in the northern part of the city. The woman swore positively to the commission of the outrage and the alderman held the negro to answer at court.

DRATH OF REV. JUHN LEAMAN. ing as a Physician, He Eventually Becom a Clergyman and College Professor.

Rev. John Leaman died at the residence of his son, Dr. Brainerd Leaman, at Leaman Piace, on Thursday, aged 74 years. He was in ill health for several years and his death was not unexpected. Deceased was born in September, 1812, in what is now Paradise township. After receiving a common school education, he was a student at Princeton college, but did not remain long enough to graduate. He read medicine with Dr. Burrowes, of this city, and graduated from Jefferson medical college, of Philadelphia in 1836. He practiced medicine in Paradise township until 1845, when he adandoned it and became a student of divinity. In 1847 he was ordained a Presbyterian minister and his first charge was a Presbyterian church in Annapolis, Maryland. He remained there but a short time and returned to Lancaster county in the latter part of 1847. In 1848 he was placed in charge of the Presbyterian church at Cedar Grove near the Blue Ball. He remained there until 1856 when he went to Easton, having been elected professor of natural sciences, at Lafayette college. There he lectured on anatomy and physiology. He remained at Easton for fourteen years when he was compelled to resign by reason of ill health. He returned to this county from Easton and has since then lived a retired life, at the residence of his only child. Dr. Brainerd Leaman at Leaman Place. His wife died in 1868. His funeral will take place at the Presbyterian church, at Paradise, on Monday afterneon at 2 o'clock. education, he was a student at Princeton at the Presbyterian church, at Paradise, on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Death of Mrs. Sarah Murray Collins Mrs. Sarah Murray Collins, of Mt. Hope, Baltimore county, Md., died there on Thursday. Mrs. Collins was the wife of Thomas Collins, a well-known railroad contractor, the daughter of the late John and Sarsh Mur-ray, of Harrisburg, sister of the late Colonel William Murray and of Mrs. Jane M. Keenan, of Harrisburg, formerly of Lancaster. The deceased had a large circle of friends in Lancaster and Harrisburg. Her funeral takes piace from the residence of her sister, Mrs. J. M. Keenan, in Harrisburg, on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

Death of George H. Locher. The Baltimore Sun of to-day says: Mr. George H. Locher, senior partner of the late firm of Locher & Atkinson, morocco manufacturers, died at his residence, 163 North Carrollton avenue, yesterday morning. In 1859 Mr. Locher became a partner in the morocco business founded in 1781 by Lewis Kalbius, sr., a native of Germany. Mr. Kalbfus, a grandson of the founder, died in 1899, and the same year Mr. M. S. Atkinson connected himself as partner with Mr. Locher, and it became the firm of Locher & Atkinson. A year ago last February Mr. Locher withdrew on account of his declining health. In early youth he learned the business in Lancaster with his cousin, Henry C. Locher.

Inquiry in this city elicited that he was foreman of H. C. Locher's factory for some years, and while living here married the sister of his employer. Some of the relatives from this city will attend the funeral. Death of Mrs. Peter Diffenbach. Mrs. Peter Diffenbach died at her resi dence, on East Orange street, on Thursday afternoon, aged 64 years. She had been in ill health for some time. Among her child-ren are Deputy Sheriff Henry W. Diften-bach, and the wife of Sheriff Tomlinson. The funeral will take place on Sunday atternoor

The Farmers' Institute at Atglen The Farmer' Institute opened for two days in Atglen, Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. The morning was devoted to a paper on "Farmers and Newspapers," by R. S. Down-"Farmers and Newspapers," by R. S. Downlog, of West Goshen, and to discussions upon agricultural topics. The meeting was presided over by Dr. Brosius, of West Foliowfield, with Issae Acker and D. H. Branson, of Atgien, vice president and secretary respectively Alfred Sharpiess read a paper on "Agriculture in Past and Present Ages." Mrs. Josephine Jackson, of Nine Points, being introduced, presented a thoughtful paper upon "Farmers' Wives." Secretary Branson read notes of regret from Joseph H. Reall and from Governor Pattison, who had been invited to be present but were unable to attend. "Imitation Butter" was treated by Prof. C. B. Cochran, of the West Chester State Normal school, who spoke in a Chester State Normal school, who spoke in most interesting manner, presenting a series of important facts tearing on the subject. John I. Carter was announced as the next speaker on the programme, and his subject, "The Theory of Complete Fertilizers." In the evening the seats were again well filled to listen to the interesting lecture of Dr. Henry Leffman, microscopist of the state board of agriculture, on "Cell Structure in Plants."

Company C., Eighth regiment N. G. P., of this city, was inspected last evening by Major James B. Coryall, of Williamsport, inspector James B. Coryall, of Williamsport, inspector general of the Third brigade of Pennsylvania. Among those present were Col. Frank J. McGee and Adjutant J. P. Levergood, of the Eighth regiment. The inspection took place in the company's armory and between thirty-and forty members of the company were present. They were put through a thorough exercise in drilling. The arms, accountements, &c. were inspected and all found to be in excellent condition. The inspecting officers were very much pleased with the drilling and appearance of the men, as well as the condition of the things generally around the armory. Captain Bowers was highly complimented for his efficiency.

Needs Repairs. Prince street, between West King and Orange streets, is now in a deplorable condition. There is a good deal of hauling done on this street and it is badly cut up. The mud has just been scraped off by the street com-missioner, and the deep and dangerous look-ing ruts can be seen better than ever. There will be little travel on this square as long as the big water trench is open at Orange street and it would be a good time to make re-pairs.
