Long years ago he bore me to a land beyon To a city fair and stately, that removed must Through all ages yet to follow, for the light shed there by me. I am Helen; where is Troy?

They have told me not a roof tree, nor a wall is That o'erthrown is the great altar, where ten thousand once did bow. While on high to Aprodite rose the solemn hymn

I am Helen ; where to Troy ? Do they deem that thus the story of my life will pass away:

Troy betrayed, and all who loved me slain upon
that fatal day.
Shall but make the memory of me evermore with men to stay.
I am Helen ; where is Troy ?

Fools' to dream that time can ever make the tale of Troy grow old; Buried now is every hero, and the grass green o'er the mould, But of her they fought and died for, every age shall yet be told.

I am Helen ; where is Troy ? Florence Peacock

TWO LETTERS FROM WHITTIER.

His Responses to the Unitarians and the Uni versalists. Mr. John G. Whittier wrote as follows in reply to the invitation to attend the Unitarian festival in Boston :

rian festival in Boston:

OAK KNOLL, 5 mo., 19, 1888.

Henry H. Edes.

DEAR FRIEND: Your festival occurs on the same day as the Friends' quarterly meeting at Amesbury, which I hope to attend; but I thank you for the kind invitation. Attached as I am to the principles and testimonies of my own society I have, I trust, quite outgrown the narrowness of sect and opinion. I have fellowship with all, whatever their name and label may be, who seek to serve and follow our common Master. In the matter of Christian charity and that broad, unselfish benevolence which gives freely without first inquiring into the speculative opinions of the needy, your society has a claim upon the good-will of all others. If some of us think you sadly need the crutches of dogma, we may all rejoice at such example of practical righteousness as many of your members have given us. One of these, the late Henry P. Kidder, will be greatly missed in your annual assembly. I am very truly thy friend,

JOHN G. WHITTIER.

list body he wrote:
OAR KNOLL, DANVERS, 5th mo., 10, 1886.
DEAR FRIEND: I thank thee for thy kind invitation. The quarterly meeting of friends at Amesbury takes place on the day of your festival, and with none but kind feeling toward other denominations. I naturally am inclined to be with "mine own people." I recognize the importance of the revolt of your religious society from the auful dogma of predestined happiness for the few and damnation for the many, though, in the out-set, that revoit brought with it something of the old fatalistic belief in the arbitrary will and power of the Almighty. Assuming that a favored few can be saved by a divine de-cree, irrespective of any merit on their part, tree, irree sective of any merit on their part, it was logical at least to suppose that all might be saved in the same way. If I mistake not this view has been greatly modified by the consideration that the natural circumstance of death cannot make any real change of character; that no one can be compelled to be good or evil: that freedom of choice belongs to both worlds, and that sin is, by its very nature, inseparable from suffering. I am not accustomed to attach very great intertance accustomed to attach very great importance to speculative opinions, and am not disposed to quarret with any creed which avoids the danger on one hand of attributing implacable vengeance and cruelty to the Heavenly Father, and on the other of underrating the "exceeding sinfulness of sin" and its baieful consequences.

Slowly but surely the dreadful burden of the old belief in the predetermined eternity of evil is being lifted from the heart of bumanity, and the goodness of God, which leadeth to repentance, is taking the place of the infinite scorn which made love well nigh impossible. The emphasis of your denial that the divine economy is alike conserva-tive of evil and good, misery and happiness, gives your organization a claim on the good feeling of other sects, which, while fully realizing the solemn truth of the connection, here and hereafter, of sin and suffering, are looked upon the problem of human destiny with the hope inspired by a clearer view of the revelation, made by letter and spirit, of Him whose "mercy endureth forever." am truly thy friend,
JOHN G. WHITTIER.

Some Folks have much difficulty in swallowing the huge, old-fashioned pill, but anyone can take Br. Pierce's "Piersant Purgative Pellets," which are composed of highly concentrated vegetable extracts. For diseases of the liver and stomach, sick and bilious headache, etc., they have no equal. Their operation is attended with no discomfort whatever. They are sugar-costed and put up in glass vials.

Constitutional Catarrh. No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind,—one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive inducate. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of Hannest. Cure has won the hearty approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief in all head-colds, sneezing, smufding and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, westering the breath, restoring the senses of smell, taste and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys. wards the lungs, liver and kidneys, SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottl the Kromal Cure, one box of Catalyer, and Improved Impater: price, $1.
