IMPROVING THE P. R. R.

The Four Track System to Be Further Ex

The engineers of the Pennsylvania Ratiroad company report that the fourth track of the nain line has been extended to Devon. Throughout this distance of fifteen miles there is not a grade crossing. Preparations are also in progress to extend the four track system even further. On the Harrisburg, Portsmouth, Mount Joy, & Lancaster railroad, six sharp curves have been taken out Levi Sensenig..... car Conewago, and the track straightened, a considerable distance having been saved thereby. The engineers have also com-menced the construction of six stone bridges on the Pittsburg division to replace iron Preparation has also begun for the con-truction of new equipment. For the bitu minous coal trade 1,000 gondola cars have been ordered, and several hundred new pas-senger coaches will be turned out as rapidly as possible, including a number of the compassible, including a number of the com-pany's own make of parior cars. The con-struction of an extra amount of freight cars has been deferred until the return from the stock allotment privileges have all been made, as some of the funds raised by that means are to be applied to equipment along with other improvements. About fifty loco-motives are also in process of construction.

Found Drowned in the Canal at Harrisburg. From the Call,

The finding of the body of Charles H. Green, colored, aged seventeen years, in the Pennsylvania canal, immediately in the rear of the Philadelphia & Reading depot, Satrday morning, created the usual excitement scident to such occasions. Green lived with s uncle, a man named Scott, in an old tumble-down tenement in Tanner's avenue, and, it is rumored, received harsh treatment at the hands of his relations. Green was observed sitting on the tow-path, shortly before the occurrence, a little distance below the lock, looking intently into the water. A lad who saw his hat float on the water gave the alarm. A crowd soon gathered, and Jas. Johnson, a good swimmer, brought him from the bottom of the canal at the second attempt. Coroner Shindler held an inquest, the jury returning a verdict of secidental drowning. Some aver that the boy was subject to fits, while others assert that it was a case of premeditated self-destruction, brought about by ill-usage, as the boy had expressed ement in Tanner's avenue, and, case of premeditated self-destruction, brought about by ill-usage, as the boy had expressed a determination to put an end to his life. The body was taken to the homeof his uncle, and will be buried at the expense of the county. Young Green was known as a quiet, industrious, polite boy, who did "chores" for many people around the city. His parents are dead, and he formerly resided at Marietta.

Arrest of a Fugitive. On May I, Calvin Craig was arrested for being the father of an illegitimate child, of which Rose Stump was the mother. He said he was willing to remedy the wrong he had done by marrying the girl, but the clerk of the court could not be found and the girl agreed to let the matter rest until to-day. Craig made himself scarce since then, but on Saturday it was learned that he had returned to the city and another warrant was issued for him. He was taken to the office of Aiderman A. F. Donnelly and he refused to fulfill the promise he had made the girl. A friend who was present entered bad for his appearance at a hearing.

The body of the man found in the canal at Alla was interred on Saturday afternoon a the cemetery. It was not identified. The man had been seen in Marietta on Friday evening when he was walking around town. Jone time Saturday afternoon his shees, sout and hat were found in Thuma Brother's lable, which is a considerable distance from the place where the body was found. There is little doubt that it was a case of suicide.

IRINE HOME RULE.

The National League
Chicago on August 18 and 19.
The following circular has just been out by the executive committee of the Irish National League of America: National League of America:
Lixcoln, Neb., June 20.—To the Officers and Members of Branches: We are glad to be able to congratulate you upon the splendid progress our cause has made since we last addressed you. In a Parliament elected on very different issues the bill granting home rule to Ireland was only defeated by the narrow majority of their value. After the

In face of the desperate, disgraceful attempts of Salisbury, Churchill and Chamberlain to foment religious strife throughout Ireland, our people have nobly, and, with the exception of a handful of misguided Loyalists in Belfast, they have shown the world that the days of stupid religious bigotry and intolerance amongst Irishmen has forever passed away. The issue of home rule for Ireland is now fairly before the English people, and we feel confident that the great mass of intelligent Englishmen will support Mr. Glastone, and, by

Henry Stamm, a Carter, and Miss Haunah Mar-

Henry Stamm, a well-known citizen, father of Stamm Brothers, merchants, North Queen street, died at his residence, 607 West Orange street, Sunday morning, of cancer of the stomach. Mr. Stamm was a German by birth; came to this country about 1850; worked many years for George D. Sprecher in the hardware business and afterwards in the slate trade. For some years past he has been engaged in hauling. He was an honest, hard-working man and by prudence and economy acquired considerable property. He was about 58 years old at the time of his death. He leave a wife, three sons and a daughter, all of whom reside in this city. The funeral occurs on Wednesday at 9:50 o'clock. Death of Miss Hannah Martin. Miss Hannah Martin, daughter of the late seorge Martin, ex-sheriff of the county died at her residence No. 531 West Orange street, on Saturday atternoon. She had been ill only a few days but nothing serious was apprehended. On Saturday afternoon she died very unexpectedly. She was a teacher in the public schools several years ago and has also been an instructor at the Children's nome and St. James' parish school. nome and St. James' parish school.

Funeral of Clara Augusta Wisner The funeral of Miss Clara Augusta Wisner took place on Sunday afternoon, from her parents' residence, No. 326 South Queen creet. The casket was covered with flowers of which deceased was a member. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. E. Meister, pastor of St. Stephen's. They opened with a bymn by the St. Stephen's Sunday school. After a portion of the tures was read and a prayer was offered Rev. Meister preached the funeral sermon from the 43 chapter and first verse of Isaiah. Dr. J. B Shumaker spoke also words of com-fort in the English language. At the grave the hundreds of scholars of St. Stephen's Sabbath school sang "Nearer My God to Thee," The following named young men acted as pall-bearers: Christ Ochs, Chas. Rettig, W. Freitag and G. Mayer.

Mrs. Widmyer's Funeral. The funeral of Mrs. Catherine Widmyer, wife of Christian Widmyer, took place from the family residence, corner East King and Duke streets, this afternoon at 2:30 oclock. The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. Sylvanus Stall, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, of which deceased had for many years been an active and exemplary member. The funeral was a large one, there being more than twenty car-riages in line. Four policemen—Messrs. Cramer, Stormfeitz, Elchoitz and Holman acted as carriers. The interment was made at Woodward Hill.

A Soldier's Foneral. The funeral of Isaac Hughes took place from his residence, No. 254 East Lemon street, on Sunday atternoon. He was not a member of the Grand Army but he made a request to be buried in the soldier's lot in the Lancaster cemetery, and his funeral was attended by a large number of soldiers. Rev. Price conducted the services at the house and at the grave the Grand Army services were read by Dr. Wickersham, Dr. Reed and A. C. Leonard.

of 560 North Queen street, and he was given into his charge. The dog was no doubt the cause of all the trouble among the poultry, and he should be killed or not allowed to run at large. Mr. Ostermyer found the collar of the dog on the fence. It is supposed that he tried to get away, after doing the damage, but was caught by the collar, which was pulled from his neck and he crawled into the chicken coop to hide.

Mr. Franke has agreed to pay for all the damage that the dog has done. Henry Shubert, auctioneer, this afternoon sold at the Leopard hotel for Peter Stauffer, executor of Maria Stauffer, deceased, the following stocks:
