LANCASTER, JUNE 30, 1886

The High School Graduates. It is a promising indication of the deep est felt in local education that our nual high school commencements are at nded by the biggest throng that can be cked into Lancaster's public hall. It is a revelation of the fact that the people, for om the great public school system was anded and carried to its present degree of excellence, fully appreciate the advanges of a good education, and they are ing to reward with their plaudits all who have successfully passed through that arrow gateway which leads to gradua-

To the forty-six young ladies and gentle men who were graduated from the high ool this morning, warmest wishes will be extended by all for their future success. But in the congratulations it may not be improper to mingle a word or two of sugon. Let them not forget that "a little learning is a dangerous thing." Let them ember that they have not completed. but only commenced their preparation for the duties of life. Above all, let them keep ever in mind that the state which has eduted them looks to their becoming useful and intelligent citizens, who will be her adamantine bulwark in time of danger.

A Peculiar Strike.

We have been favored with dramatic tures of the strike of the switchmen on the Lake Shore road, which seem to have en carefully elaborated for the benefit of the newspaper, if it was not specially gotten up in the interest of the bears in the stock market. The stock did not have a natural look. It was said to have been oconed by a very inadequate cause, and ere was entirely too much demonstration and affectation of violence and display of furious and ineffective shooting to bear the look of a real earnest conflict. The strikers and Mr. Robert Pinkerton had it all to themselves. Mr. Pinkerton started out on the rear bumper of a train crowded at every side with special policemen. The rioters started in pursuit on another clinging to the locomotive wherever it uld hold a man. There was an exciting chase for the reporter to chronicle with Mr. Pinkerton alone on the rear platform firing his little pistol into the pursuing locomotive, covered with men like bees, who fell off at every discharge, but are not entered anywhere in the burial reports. It was a very good strike ; too good to last. It is about over. Mr. Pinkerton's little pistol subdued it ; or the bears found that the device did not work, and concluded to

John Bright and Thomas Hughes.

Any man who has read the plain, unarnished history of the measures taken by the infamous Castlereagh to consummate the so-called union of Ireland and England. must have felt disappointment and surprise on learning of the declarations of John Bright and Thomas Hughes, that that union in any way resembles the union of the American states. Annexation would have been the better term, since by the abuse of rapacious England, that word has come to mean conquest ; but in the case of Ireland, the English have found that the annexation policy did not work as easily as with the South Sea Islanders. Bright and Hughes have a world-wide reputation for open, manly fairness in discussion and fearless championship of the bottom dog in the fight, and now it looks as though this habit of sympathy with the losing side had so clouded their judgment that the first named virtues are inoperative; or else it may be that the patriotic feeling that leads every man to study more closely those pages of history that tell of his country's glory than those darkened by her shame, has kept these men in ignorance of the revolting details that accompanied the enforcement of this most miserable

We sadly fear, however, that these men have not like Gladstone, retained their vigor of intellect with the march of years, but are sinking gradually into that weakness that is so often mistaken for the prunce born of experience that old men

To-Day In Harrisburg.

As will be observed in our special disstches from Harrisburg, the Republican rention has got under full headway. and there is probability that their proceedags will be of brief nature. The bosses have a way of fixing up things in advance to save trouble to the delegates, and the latter are only necessary to give the thing an appearance of being dictated by the peo-

It is barely possible, however, that the shine may not be found as well oiled as edful for the purpose it is expected to acplish. An apparent hitch has already ken place over the Prohibition question, with Mr. Quay recommending that a contitutional amendment prohibiting the sufacture and sale of liquor be submitd to the people and Chris Magee opposing to same. This bit of by-play will hardly ch the temperance vote, now so essend to Republican success. It will be at after the pseudo fight over temperthat the convention will swallow hatever doses of medicine the Republican social doctors prescribe for it.

The New Episcopal Bishop. In the election of Right Reverend Ozi William Whitaker to be assistant bishop of Pennsylvania, the Episcopal convention in Philadelphia seems to have done a very good thing. It was manifest from the heated work at the session that nominated Dr. Phillips Brooks that no local candidate would be entirely acceptable to all interests. Bishop Whitaker was not identified with these antagonisms and therefore his availability increased as the discussion of a fit man for the office continued. Besides he was known as a conservative churchman, being neither extremely High church or too much Low church. These qualifications for the position were strengthened by his excellent record as a missionary bishop in the far West. The energy there required, when brought to bear upon the interests of his church in Pennsylvania, ought to be very fruitful: and he will prove a strong staff on which Bishop Stevens may largely rest during the balance of his life. WITH interest the country is watching the river and harbor bill staggering slowly towards the White House, and the people will read with pleasure the funeral oration that the president will read over the corpse.

LET men in debt and their creditors take courage from the story of the late Moses Dow, who founded the "Waverley Magazine," on money borrowed in small sums from many friends. At first the magazine sunk about $40 a week, but the enterprising editor mortgaged his type and presses and bought six reams of paper on credit, prepared copy at night and set type in the daytime. Success rewarded his unflagging perseverance and he lived to draw an annual income of $150, 000 from the periodical.

REPUBLICAN bosses are making a pretty slate in Harrisburg to-day, and the people will smash it in beautiful style next Novem.

the commencement of the Pennsylvania state college the Rev. Dr. Wayland Hoyt, after preaching the baccalaureate sernon, gave out a hymn that had been changed somewhat from the original form and then said: "There should be some kind of a literary gailows invented upon which we could hang men who slaughtered hymns." Was the reverend gentleman referring to the choir or to the congregation ? If to either he has our sympathy, for the singing of hymns is seldom given the care that their musicial possibilities warrant, and if a congregation would submit to a proper training for chorus singing the service would be rendered far more solemn and impressive. He probably referred to the editors of hymn-books.

YALE ALUMNI want to change the title of their alma mater from college to juniversity. Yet a college by any other name would smell as sweet.

MR. POWDERLY has been much aggrieved by the false reports that got into the newspapers concerning the proceedings of the Knights of Labor convention at Cleveland, and he has spoken of the Associated Press in no omplimentary manner as the cause thereof. David M. Stone, of the New York Associated Press, took Mr. Powderly to task for his charges, denying that the Associated Press and Mr. Jay Gould had any connection with each other, as alleged by the general master workman. The correspondence between the two has developed Mr. Powderly's opinion of Jay Gould in this strong language: "Though he has wealth unlimited at his command, he is the most universally despised creature up on the American side of the Atlantic to-day. I speak from a knowledge of the people, having mingled among them." Perhaps Jav Gould would have been vastly better pleased if the controversy had never taken place.

COPIAH COUNTY in Mississippi has voted for Prohibition. This is where the bloodthirsty negro-killing Democrats are, in Republican minds, believed to have their permanent home.

PERSONAL.

Ex-Governor St. John prophesies that in 1892 a second Lincoln will emancipate the rum drinkers of the land, Miss Fanny A. Pyle has been appointed to the faculty of the West Chester Normal school in place of Miss Mary E. Speakman, resigned. JOHN B. DAMPMAN has assumed the entire ownership and control of the Reading Herald, the senior partner, A. C. Buck-walter, retiring therefrom.

DR. D. HAYES AGNEW, the famous Philadelphia surgeon, was in Allentown less than two hours on Monday, for the purpose of per-forming an operation on Thomas Leh for catarrh of the bladder. When the doctor took the train for home he was $125 richer. W. S. HASTINGS, of the Harrisburg Patriot, vas yesterday arrested and held for libeting Wm. S. Kyle, an agent of the Gasset fuel pa-tent. Kyle, it appears, wrote a letter to the editor accompanied by a threat of "boycott" because the paper did not take to the inven-tion he was introducing and "puff it up." CARDINAL TASCHEREAU of Quebec, recarbinal Taschereau of Quebec, re-ceived on Tuesday his letters of appointment and scarlet cap in the presence of a large body of clergy, judges, foreign consuls, sena-tors, members of the dominion and provin-cial legislatures and leading citizens. Count Gazzoli arrived at the place at one o'clock, and was received by the archbishop standing at the foot of a crimson-covered throne, with a tail brass crucify on his civit. The a tall brass crucifix on his right. The for mal presentation then took place.

Apropos of the expulsion of the French Princes, a lover of statistics, has drawn up a list of the monarchs who came to an untimely or ignominious end. According to this authority, the world has had 2,560 kings or emperors, who have reigned over 74 peoples emperors, who have reigned over 74 peoples. Of these 300 were overthrown, 64 were forced to abdicate, 28 committed suicide, 23 became mad or imbecile, 100 were killed in battle, 123 were captured by the enemy, 25 were tortured to death, 151 were assassinated, and 108 were executed. Uneasy lies the head, indeed!

A Cough Among Horses A strange disease has broken out among the horses in the county of Franklin, in Pennsylvania. The animal is affected with severe cold and a dry, backing cough ; then fever sets in, and finally stiffness in the ront legs, followed frequently with death. The disease is spreading rapidly, and causing considerable annoyance to farmers at this busy season of the year. In Greencastle and Chambersburg it is Impossible to obtain a horse of the liverymen.

Redeeming a Promise.

A woman belonging to one of the oldest families of Derby, Conn., promised her husband before his death that she would wear his ring as long as she lived. In the grief that followed bis death she forgot about the ring, and it was on his fluger when he was that followed his death she forgot about the ring, and it was on his fluger when he was buried. A few nights ago, at midnight, the sexton opened the grave and took off the lid of the coilin, and the widow went down into the grave and removed the ring from the dead hand. She paid the sexton $25 for his work.

A Cockney Lecturer.

The Tichborne claimant has delivered his first lecture, and this is the way he impressed a reporter : There was not the slightest hint of early social and educational advantages, of early social and educational advantages, either in his bearing or speech. He played sad havor with the letter "h." Mr. Hawkins was always Mr. "'Awkins; he went "'ome," and "sor," things and was as "willin" as ever Barkis was. At times the Wellerian eccentricities of language were so marked as to cause some amusement in the audience.

B. F. Cheever Sentenced. B. F. Cheever Sentenced.
B. F. Cheever, arrested and found guilty of forgery some months ago, was sentenced Tuesday morning, in West Chester, to one year's imprisonment and $5 fine. He was a drover, and to raise funds forged the names of several of his best friends to the amount of $2,000 or $3,000.

A school of Carpentry.

Among the many schools in Boston, says the Budget, is one for instruction in carpentry, conducted by a young lady. "She has had twenty-five pupils throughout the past winter, composed of boys belonging to some of our leading families, and she goes out of town twice a week to instruct a class of 7."

Swill Fed Cows. The Paris council of health has reported in avor of the expulsion of all dairy cows from that city. It is said that there are 5,000 cows in Paris, and their milk is an active source of pulmonary consumption.

Why He Got His A. M.

From the Lowell Times. Daniel Lamont was probably made an A. M. because the man who gets ahead of him has to get up pretty early in the morning.

O, he sits high in all the people's hearts : And that which would appear offense in us ; His countenance, like richest alchemy, Will change to virtue, and to worthiness -Shakespeare.

The Same Human Nature. The Same Human Nature.

Many vain attempts are made to repeat the remarkable success of Benson's Capcine Plaster. This splendid remedy is known, sold and used everywhere, and its prompt action and unrivalled contribe powers have went for it hosts of friends. Initiations have spring up under similar sounding names, such as "Capstein," "Capsieum," etc., initended to deceive the care less and unwary. These articles possess none of the viriues of the genuine. Therefore we hope the pergie will assist us to protect what are at once their interests and ours. Ask for Benson's Plaster, and examine what is given you, and make sure that the word "Capcine" is cut in the middle of the plaster itself, and the "Three Seals," trademark is on the face cloth. Any reputable dealer will show you the safe guards without hesitation. If you cannot remember the name—Benson's Capcine Plaster—cut this paragraph from the paper.

As They Cannot Possibly porous plaster having anything like the medicinal qualities of Benson's, the camp followers of the pharmaceutical profession produce tons of worthless plasters, and give them names which resemble in print that of the genuine, and, when carelessiy spoken, sound like it. For example, Cheap John druggists will offer you trash variously styled "Capsicum," "Capsicin," "Capsicine" or "Capucin" plasters, prefaced sometimes with the name "Benton's or "Burton's. "We carnestly cantion the public against the whole tribe of them. They are absolutely uscless as remedies for disease. To be sure they are cheap, but plain mustin is cheaper and just as efficacious. Ask for Henson's, watch the spelling, and look for the "Three Seats" trademark, and the word "Capcine," which is cut in the centre of the genuine. the medicinal qualities of Benson's, the camp

AYER'S PILLS. . A Sluggish Liver

Causes the Stomach and Bowels to become disordered, and the whole system to suffer from debility. In all such cases ayer's Pills give prompt relief

After much suffering from Liver and Stomach troubles, I have finally been cured by taking Ayer's Catharite Pills. I always find them prompt and therough in their action, and their occasional use keeps me in a perfectly healthy condition—kaiph Weeman, Annapolis Md.

Twenty five years ago I suffered from a torpid liver, which was restored to healthy action by taking Ayer's Pills. Since that time I have never been without them. They regulate the bowels, assist digestion, and increase the appetite, more surely than any other medicine.—Paul Churchill, Haverbill, Mass.

INVIGORATED.

I know of no remedy equal to Ayer's Pills for Stomach and Liver disorders. I suffered from a Torpid Liver, and Dyspepsia, for eighteen months. My skin was yellow, and my tongue costed. I had no appetite, suffered from Headache, was pale and emaciated. A few boxes of Ayer's Pills, taken is moderate doses, restored me to perfect health.—Watdo Miles, Oberlin, Ohio.

Ayer's Pills are a superior family medicine. They strengthen and invigorate the digestive organs, create an appetite, and remove the horrible depression and despondency resulting from Liver Compisiant. I have used these Pills, in my family, for years, and they never fall to give entire satisfaction. — Otto Montgomery, Oshkosh, Wis.
