NELLIS GRANTSLIFE. The Unhappy Ending of the Married Life Heg to the White House, Washington Letter to Indianapolis Journal,

A relative of the Grant family in this city is authority for the statement that the married life of Nellie Grant Sartoris is far more humiliating and unpleasant than has yet been made public. Mrs. Sartoris makes he home with her husband's father, in the north of England, and, according to all accounts, of England, and, according to all accounts, she is treated as a sort of a poor relation. Two reoms are set aside for the use of herself and children, and their meals are furnished, but nothing else is given to them either by her husband or Mr. Sartoris, sr. So far, indeed, as the younger Sartoris is concerned, it is said that he has not contributed a penny to his wife's support for

It is a well-known fact that for a couple of It is a well-known fact that for a couple of years prior to General Grant's death remittances of money were regularly sent to Nellie to provide herself and children with clothing and other useful articles. When the general became impoverished through the rascality of Ferdinand Ward the greatest regret he is said to have expressed was that his poverty would prevent him from further assisting Nellie, who was practically supported by his bounty. All the members of the Grant family still contribute to the support of Mrs. Sartoris for years to separate from her husband and return to America. It is said that Mrs. Grant made such a request only a few band and return to America. It is said that Mrs. Grant made such a request only a few months ago, after learning of some fresh indignity on Sartoris' part, but the daughter replied that she would not entertain such a proposition a moment, and added indignantly that she would refuse to sustain relations of any character with her family if these importunities did not cease. Meanwhile Sartoris is racing about England spending the meagre allowance his father gives him among companions of his own kind. The reports which reach here from New York say that Sartoris has been absent from his wife since last spring, and that she hears from him only at rare intervals.

His Last Creation.

From the Macon Telegraph. One fact not hitherto noted in connection with the death of Paul Hayne is that the last poetic creation of his brain committed to paper was an impromptu verse to Mr. S. T. Coleman while he was the guest of that gentle-man in Macon. We have it from the family of the lamented poet, that his visit to Macon was a source of great pleasure to him, and it is their opinion that this visit really prolong-ed his valuable life. He formed many warm friendships here.
At our request Mr. Coleman has furnished us with a copy of the verse, which, it is need-less to say, was never intended for publica-tion and the critic's eye. He discovered it under his breakfast plate one morning while his guest sat beside him. Here are the

He who has found a new star in the sky is not so fortunate as one who finds
A new, deep-hearted friend; the stars must die,
They are but creatures of the sun and winds;
But Friendship throws her firm sheet anchor

deep,
Beside the shore lines of eternity.
PAUL HAMILTON HAYNE. May 24, 1886.

She Refused to be a Mormon.

Adolph Layman, a young farmer of Port Clinton, Berks county, is a recent convert to Mormonism. He is twenty-eight years of age and a man of considerable property. Saturday became to Reading with Magdalene Eysert, the daughter of a neighboring farmer. She is twenty-one years old. They procured a marriage license and then went to the office of Alderman Denhard. There Layman reof Alderman Denhard. There Layman re-tated his story: "My intention is to locate in Utah next month. I am going to be a Mor-mon because I have a splendid chance. The bishop offered me a ninety scre farm free as soon as I reached Salt Lake. Now I want you to draw up an agreement, to be signed by myself and my wife that is to be, in which she fully consents that I be allowed to marry as many wives as I want when we get among the Mormons." The alderman advised the woman to stay away from the Mormons and she refused to marry Layman, although he beseeched and begged piteously. She tore up the marriage license and went home alone, while Layman departed on another train.

Greatest Discovery Since 1492,

For coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchitis, laryngitis, and consumption in its early stages, nothing equals Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." It is also a great blood purifier and strength restorer, or tonic, and for liver complaint and costive condition of the bowels it has no equal. Sold by druggists.

M.Tha w

It is well known that the inhabitants of many Eastern nations shield themselves against in-fectious disorders by wearing Aromatic Gums on the pit of the stomach. Their instincts are right, for strong permanent odors are antago-nistic to the living germs which cause disease. For this reason Alicock's Porous Plasters, being composed of fragrant aromatic gum, are the best safeguard to wear on the pit of the stom-ach in Cholera time, or in localities where sewer gas and malaria are found. They not only prevent infection, but will cure diarrhora, dysen tery, cholers and bowel complaint.

Do Not Be Deceived.

Hypocrisy is the compliment that vice pays to virtue. Imitation is the compliment failure pays to success. The name—not the character pays to success. The name—not the character—of Benson's Capcine Plasters is imitated by unscrupulous parties, who make and try to sell plasters variously called "Capsicin," "Capsicin, "Capsicin," and boidly is this done that careless people are doubless sometimes begulied into buying such articles in place of the genuine. Happily the number who follow this vocation decreases every year through the refusal of reputable dealers to handle the imitation goods, meanwhile be cautious. In the middle of the genuine is cut or poroused the word "Capcine," and on the face cloth is the "Three Seals" trademark. Ask for Benson's—then examine. One Benson is worth a dozen of any other kind.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The New Tricycle. This machine is propelled by steam, and will carry two people twenty miles in an hour, it is said. It is quite an invention but does not compare with Burdock Blood Bitters, which will carry the invalid along the road to health to beat all. For sale by H. B. Cochran, druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen street, Lancaster.

Helped Her Out. "For years have been a severe sufferer from pains in the back. Tried various applications. One bottle of Thomas' Edectric Oit entirely cured me. Cured others equally quick." Mrs. Benning of 14th St. Buffalo, wrote this. For sale by H. B. Cohran, druggist, 137 and 125 North Queen street, Lancaster.

Would Have Been Set Upon. Would Have Been Set Upon.

Had not Burdock Blood Bitters been a remedy of unquestionable merit they would have been set down upon by the public as thousands of medicines have been when their worthlessness was discovered. "Burdock Blood Bitters have received unbounded praises from the sick, thus cai ablishing their merit beyond dispute. For sale by H. B. Cochran, druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen street, Lancaster.

What Is It Good For Let us tell you that Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil is good for. It is death to rheumatism and neuralgia. It will cure a burn, bite, or pain, and is equally good for sprains. For sale by H. B. Cochran, druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen street, Lancaster.

stas Confidence.

"In one case personally known to me the success of Burdock Blood Bitters was almost incredible. One lady described them as worth hundreds of dollars. I myself have the greatest confidence in them." F. S. Scratch, druggist, Buthven, Ont. For sale by H. B. Cochran, druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen street, Lancaster.

The People Astonished.

Many people are astonished when they discover the wide circulation of Thomas' Eclectric Oil. There is hardly a drug house in the country that does not have this remedy upon its shelves. The public have found it is a good thing and stick to it. For sale by H. R. Cochran, druggist, 137 and 125 North Queen street, Lancaster.

The number of people annually afflicted with this most annoying malady seems to be greatly on the increase. * * The editor of this journal is an annual victim, and, with a view to discover a specific cure, has tried numerous remedies. Of these Ely's Cream Halm is by all odds the quickest and most satisfactory, two applications greatly allaying the usual symptoms in the nose and eyes. We would recommend its use by all subject to hay fever, and we gladly bear unsolicted testimony to its efficacy in our case. * * * - Media, Fa., Record.
