

MR. ADAMS' POEMS OF JULY.

Mr. Oscar Fay Adams' "July" in his series of "Through the Year with the Poets" comes with the month it celebrates, and furnishes proof that to some poets...

The sun hangs calm at summer's pole; The earth has leaped in shimmering noon. At rest from all her cheerful notes...

The time, how beautiful and dear, When early fruits begin to blush, And the full leaves of the year...

The clouds that seek the warm, blue deep, Like shafts of tinted robes float; From breathless groves the birds asleep...

And a new Western poet, Abraham Perry Miller, paints thus realistically "A Summer Afternoon"...

All through the afternoon the dreary day Swam listless over the earth, and far away The lazy clouds went loitering round the sky...

And a hundred towered cities moving as if And then, with banners round the west unfurled, The great red sun went down behind the world.

The poets who sing in July are not the town poets. Pent within the four brick walls of a city dwelling they can only dream...

It is, to be sure. But the poet of the country, he who can roam by the shady banks of cool streams, or...

Lie among the tangled grass And watch the crinkling billows pass Over seas of clover—

Or see The crimson canted ripples run From isles of shade to shores of sun—

To him the month is full of exquisite enjoyment, and he will be full sympathy with the great masses of his countrymen...

He settled the Business Thoroughly. From the Chicago News.

McCoy, when he came to Scott county, went to work for a farmer named Hill, who had a very charming daughter, Emma.

A young man who Farmer Hill had repeatedly driven from the place continued to come around, paying his addresses to the daughter...

Once or twice, or may be more, the young man came, saw the girl, took his thrashing, and departed. But one day there came the end of this sort of thing.

McCoy, returning from town, where he had gone as driver and escort for the daughter, approached the father, saying: "Well, Mr. Hill, I've settled this business of that young fellow's coming around here to see Emma."

"What do you mean?" asked the farmer. "I mean that he won't come any more, an' I can't see it."

"Why, Mr. Hill, you haven't killed him, have you?" asked the farmer, fearfully. "No, Better than that."

"What then?" "I've married 'em."

The old farmer flew into a dreadful rage, but McCoy had the girl, and there was no getting her away from him, so Farmer Hill, like a sensible man, made the most of it, and gave his son-in-law a piece of land which he was willing to sell for $10,000.

Helping the Minister. From Harper's Bazar.

Farmer (to country minister)—"I kin bring you in a couple of bushels of apples, dominie, if you'd like 'em. I've got a lot of 'em going to rot. Minister—" "Thanks, Mr. Hayseed, I would be glad to get them. Have you ever tried feeding them to hogs?" "I hear they are very fattening."

"Yes, I've seen 'em go to the hogs but I won't touch 'em."

The "Favorite Prescription" Dr. R. V. Pierce, of New York, whose name has become known over the world through his success as a physician, and especially through the reputation of his "Favorite Medical Discovery," has done a good work in preparing an especial remedy for the "Favorite Prescription."

A Thunder Storm. MAY purify the air, but nothing except SOLEDOUNT will purify the mind filled with neglected debts, and rescue those faithful servants of mankind from utter ruin before it is too late. Don't neglect to try it. You will be surprised and delighted with its results.

It is well known that the inhabitants of many Eastern nations shield themselves against infectious diseases by wearing Aromatic scents on the pit of the stomach. Their instincts are right, for strong permanent odors are antagonistic to the living germs which cause disease.

For this reason Alcock's Porens Plasters, being composed of fragrant aromatic gum, are the best safeguard to wear on the pit of the stomach in Cholera time, or in localities where sewer gas and malaria are found. They not only prevent infection, but will cure diarrhea, dysentery, cholera and bowel complaint.

SPRICAL NOTICES. The New Tricycle. This machine is so simple and so easy to use, and will carry two people twenty miles in an hour. It is said, it is quite an invention that does not compare with the bicycle. For sale by H. B. Cochran, druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen street, Lancaster.

Helped Her Out. "For years have been a severe sufferer from pains in the back. Tried various applications, the bottle of Chamberlain's Electric Oil cured me. Cured others equally quick." Mrs. Benning of 14th St., Buffalo, writes this. For sale by H. B. Cochran, druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen street, Lancaster.

Would Have Been Set Upon. Had not Burdock Blood Bitters been a remedy of unquestionable value, the thousands of thousands of people who have been set upon and deceived upon by the public as thousands of medicines have been when their worthlessness was discovered. Burdock Blood Bitters have received unbounded praise from the sick, thus establishing their value and merit. For sale by H. B. Cochran, druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen street, Lancaster.

What is it Good For? Let us tell you that Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is good for it. It is good for rheumatism and neuralgia. It will cure a burn, laceration, or other injury. For sale by H. B. Cochran, druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen street, Lancaster.

Has Confidence. In one case personally known to me the success of Burdock Blood Bitters was almost incredible. One lady described them as worth hundreds of dollars. I myself have the greatest confidence in them. F. S. Scratch, druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen street, Lancaster.

The People Astonished. Many people are astonished when they discover the true circulation of Thomas' Electric Oil. There is no such thing as a free lunch. The only way to get it is by paying for it. For sale by H. B. Cochran, druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen street, Lancaster.
