The theatrical season in Columbia this year will be an unusually good one. Several first-class troupes have already been booked, while many others have applied for dates. Now that the skating rinks—a formidable enemy to theatrical companies—have closed it is altogether probable that but few 10, 20 and 30 cent shows will be on the road. Old prices will be restored.

Tramps are as scarce in Columbia as black-berries—fresh ones, I mean—in winter, and all because it has been spread abroad that whom one is arrested he is taken to Lancaster and put to work breaking stones at the work-

The members of the light and water committee of council have gotten themselves in bor water by asking bids for lighting the borough by electricity. A few of our citizens, probably those who are interested in the Columbia gas company, claim that the committee should not have confined themselves to the method of lighting by electricity but should have asked for bids on other methods. The end is not yet.

THE POURTE ULASS OFFICERS.

The Trouble They Cases and the Importance of Them.

From the Indianapolis Journal.

The average seeker for a minor postoffice has no idea of the amount of labor and trouble It frequently takes to secure the piace he demen of county committees have found that they are called upon do do a great deal of work for a very small return. A case in point is that of the Hon. John Wiley, of the Thirty-third New York district, who was here last week looking after some small pest-office matters. Mr. Wiley is chairman of a Democratic congressional committee of that here last week locking after some small postoffice matters. Mr. Wiley is chairman of a Democratic congressional committee of that district, and it is represented in Congress by a Republican. Consequently Mr. Wiley looks after the appointment of fourth-class postmasters, and makes frequent trips to Washington. Conversing upon the subject with your correspondent, a day or two ago,

Mr. Wiley said:

"You have no idea of the expense entailed upon securing some of these places. I have frequently come to look after some little onehorse, fourth class postoffice in our district that does not pay more than $30 or $40 a year, and have spent more than as much as the entire salary would amount to in five years in securing the place for the man whom it was desirable to put in there. In one instance I made not less than three trips to Washington solely in behalf of a man who desired to be postmaster at a little town in Erie county, where the entire postal receipts didn't average more than $50 a year. Each time I came I was compelled to stay three or Etie county, where the entire postal receipts didn't average more than $50 a year. Each time I came I was compelled to stay three or four days, and, as my railroad fare alone is about $50 each trip, and my hotel bill is $8 or $10 a day, you can see that it is not for the money in it that these offices are needed."

'Why do you spend so much time and money over an insignificant office." he was asked.

(Simply because these lines as the county in the case.

"Simply because these insignificant offices are very important politically. A country postoffice at a cross road wields very much more political influence than some of the biggest tederal officials in the large cities. It biggest lederal officials in the large cities. It we are to keep our party organizations intact we must look after these minor matters very concelled to expend large sums of money for very small financial returns."

Would it not be cheaper for you to pay the men some of these salaries out of your own pocket for a four years term?" "Certainly it would, but the political effect would not be so good by any means. A federal commission which entitles the holder to draw $10 a year is of more value in s political campaign in many instances than a thousand dollars in hard cash."

MADE $15,000 IN THREE BUTES. Harry Beck Told a Citizen of Reading He Did It Recently.

From To-day's Reading Herald.

Harry Beck, who committed suicide near Millersville on Wednesday, resided at 1,012 Green street, this city, in one of the handome brick houses recently erected by the O'Reilly estate. He was a eigarmaker by orkenly estate. He was a eigarmaker by trade, but did not work at the business during the past few years. He was lately engaged in the leaf tobacco trade, and stated to J. D. Becker, furniture dealer, 854 Penn street, that he recently made over $15,000 in three hours. He said he had $33,555 worth of tobacco which became het, and in three hours. He said he had $53,555 worth of tobacco which became hot and was liable to burn for him. He at once hired a telegraph instrument in a New York office for three hours, paying $15 for the privilege, and conducted his own correspondence, and in that time sold the tobacco for $65,285. On Monday evening he called on Mr. Becker and desired to sell his household furniture. He stated that his wife was not a practical housekeeper and that he furniture. He stated that his wife was not a practical housekeeper and that he had sent her and his child to Atlantic City to board, he intending to follow shortly. Mr. Becker accompanied Beck to his house and agreed to buy certain articles in the morning. On Tuesday morning he again called on Mr. Becker who paid him $125 for his parlor set, a bed room set, sideboard, several mirrors and a com set, sideboard, several mirrors and a lamp. He also agreed to give him $103 for the balance of the furniture yesterday morn-ing, but young Beck left the city the night before. The furniture, which was beautiful and costly, was purchased from Louis Heil-bron five weeks ago.

Children's Festival. About four weeks ago Miss Clara Blickenterfer, of the Moravian Sunday school, conseived the idea of getting up a children's festival to raise funds for the benefit of the Alaska missison of the Moravian church. Associating with her half a dozen other little girls the festival was set on dozen other little girls the festival was set on foot and held last evening in the warehouse, No. 9 West Chestnut street, and a very pretty and successful festival it was. The arrangement and decoration of the tables was done by the little folks. A large number of fancy and useful articles made by the little girls or donated by their friends were sold. The refreshment tables were were well sumplied with hereign fruits. were well supplied with berries, fruits, cakes, nuts, ice cream, etc. The fair was well patronized by children and adults, all of whom enjoyed themselves very much. The profits amounted to $32. The little ladies deserve

RIDDLED WITH BULLETS

A Mob's Summary Punishment of a Negro Who Attacked a Woman. Luling, Texas, on Tuesday night was thrown into a state of excitement by the sevent of a mob of masked men who came into town about eleven o'clerk, and over powering the guard around the jail, entered and literally riddled Porter Sorell, a negro about twenty years old, with builets, killing him instantly. Sorell had gone to the resi-dence of Robert Dukes, who resides four or five miles northwest of Luling, and demanded of Mrs. Dukes money which he claimed was due him. The lady referred him to her husband, who was at work in the field. Sorell became insolert, and Mrs. Dukes becoming alarmed, took out a revolver and commanded the negro to leave. He stepped outside, and taking up a piece of wagon tire and a hatchet returned and again demanded his money. She ordered him to leave, when he sprang upon her, disabling her arm with a blow irom the hatchet and wresting the pistoi from her, beat her over the head with it in a frightful manner. over the head with the a rightful manner. Some dogs, attracted by the noise, attacked the negro so victously that he was compelled to flee. A posse found him at his mother's cabin and placed him in jail where his corpse now is. Mrs. Dukes is dying.

Pennsylvania's Tramps and Jalls At Tuesday's meeting of the national chari ties and corrections conference in St. Paul Minn., Dr. E. P. Jeffries, of Pennsylvania, read a report showing the progress of jail work in that state and the great improvement work in that state and the great improvement in practical results produced by the action of various conferences of charities and corrections. Rev. William L. Buil, of Whiteford, Pa., read a paper on "Tramping: Its Causes, Present Aspects and Some Suggested Remedies." The scarcity of tramps in the South is due to the summary punishment dealt out and the thinly settled condition of the country as well as its improvational transaction. and the thinly-settled condition of the country, as well as its impoverished state. Trainping is on the decrease, or at least stationary. Fifty per cent of the trainps, according to report, are Americans. This paper was discussed at length by O. O. Wright, Dr. Jeffries, of Philadelphia; Dr. McCulloch, of Indianapolis, and others.

Fred H. Wines, of Hilmois, read the report of the compilities on statistics on the report of the committee on statistics on the causes of pauperism, and Mrs. Van Uleve, of Minne-spolls, spoke of the work done in that city for fallen women and deserted children.

Caught in the Teeth of a Reaper. David Anker, a farmer residing in Dela-ware township, Juniata county, while adjusting the harness on one of his horses was thrown in front of the knives of his mowing machine. The horses started to run and An-ker was pushed along and rolled over several times until the machine struck a boulder, which threw it so high as to unable it to pass over him without further damage. Mr An-ker was terribly injured and it is not likely that be will recover. His left arm has been amputated and he was badly cut about the body and legs.

Panthers and panther-hunting has been the chief topic of talk in and near Hazieton of late, but now it has taken another turn, Daniel Derr, water-tank tender near Hazle creek, thought he heard a panther in the woods, and, getting his double-barrated gun, blazed away. He heard a cry and, going to the spot, found that he had shot a tramp named William Durkin in two piaces and that he was seriously wounded. Derr got a wagon and Durkin was taken to the Weatherly hospital. Derr has surrendered himself, to await the result of his chance shots into the darkness.

Threshing Old Straw From the New York World.

The summer is here. The Philadelphia Times has devoted more than a column of its Almos has devoted users that a column of its editorial page to pointing out the improbable features of Whittier's poem about old Barbara Frietchie. Wouldn't it be a good time now for somebody to advance a little fresh proof to establish the fact that the Rowley manuscripts of Thomas Chatterto were forgeries?

Surest Tranquilizer of the Nerves. Surest Tranquilizer of the Nerves.

The surest tranquilizer of the nerves is a modificace which remedies their supersensitiveness by invigorating them. Over-tension of the nerves siways weakens them. What they need, then, is a tonic, not a sedative. The latter is only useful when there is intense mental excitement and an immediate necessity neutal excitement and an immediate necessity mental excitament and an immediate necessity exists for producing quietnds of the brain. Howeverer's tomach Bitters restores transquility of the nerves by endowing them with the vigor requisite to bear, without being jarred or disturbed unhealthraily, the ordinary impressions, produced through the media of sight, hearing and reflection. Nay, it does more than this—it enables them to sustain a more than this-it enables them to sustain a degree of tension from mental application which they would be totally unable to endure without its assistance. Such at least, is the irresistible conclusion to be drawn from the testimony of business and professional men, litterateurs, clergymen, and others who have tested the fortifying and reparative influence of the configuration and reparative influence.
