ABOUT THIS TIME OF YEAR.

In her natty flannel suit, beautiful with scarlet trimming,
The fair and gentle maiden at the beach goes in a swimming.

There's strong interest felt in yachting; people speak of sheets and tacks,
And in bay windows nightly there are lots of little smacks.

With their faces freckle-spotted from exposure and sun burning,
The school ma'ams from vacation back to duty are returning.

The student who's been slinging hash for cash to purchase knowledge,
Has folded up his napkins and is going back to college.

The urchin who for several weeks has passed his time in clover,
Is mourning o'er the knowledge that vacation's almost over.

WHY FARQUHAR IS FOR BLACK.

A Prominent York Republican Will Support the Democratic Nominee.

The York Age thus reports the speech of A. B. Farquhar, York's heaviest manufacturer, at the recent reception tendered to Hon. Chauncey F. Black, the Democratic candidate for governor:

Four years ago I promised to support our distinguished neighbor and friend, Chauncey F. Black, for lieutenant governor, because I believed him to be the right man. Now in the light of his record during the past four years, and my deeper knowledge of him, I would say, I shall support him because I know that he is the best man.

Just three years ago, loving hands laid to rest all that was mortal of Judge Black, but his great spirit rules us from his ashes. The seed he planted is bearing good fruit. Twenty-six years ago, during the darkest hours of our nation's history, the strong arm of Judge Black was stretched out to save us. He did more to save us than to hold up the waning power of the government, and delay the crisis, until the loyal people rose in their strength and majesty to meet it, than any other man. And since then, for a quarter of a century, the whole power of his mighty mind was devoted to the cause of the people, their freedom and elevation.

When he commenced his great labor, workingmen who gathered together to discuss the best means for their advancement and protection were treated as conspirators. The rule of monopolies and rings was supreme, and when Judge Black announced in words of burning eloquence, that the good of the whole people should be the first care of the state; that the corporations were chartered by the state for the benefit of the people, and were necessarily under the control of the state, his proposition, although sound law, was received with ridicule. I used to think him too radical myself, but in common with the thinking people of the country, have grown up to his standard.

Judge Black, Pennsylvania's greatest citizen, was not properly understood or appreciated during his life, but his work goes on. No one else is so fitted by natural inheritance, ability and inclination for carrying out the great work begun by his father. Chauncey Black is emphatically the candidate of the people. There is nothing in his good heart, clean record or platform that any Republican might not honestly and consistently support. I do not see how he can fail to receive the support of every workingman in the commonwealth. He has always been their true and consistent friend. The oppressed are quick to see their true friends and will always cleave to them. They are not often imposed upon by demagogues.

It is but once in a hundred years that God raises up such beacon lights as Jefferson and Black. Their principles and counsel, if followed, set the world generations ahead. For one I will not lose this opportunity and will promise to always vote with you when you nominate such a candidate. Although a Republican I have a right to speak. Both my grandfathers were personal friends and warm supporters of Thomas Jefferson and Judge Black was the dearest friend that I ever had in this world.

In conclusion, let me say that I will endorse Chauncey F. Black for governor, and will renominate him as the people's candidate. If elected he will be the governor of the whole people. He reveres the law and while trampling upon no vested rights, he will use the whole power of his great intellect, trained by twenty-five years' of study, to purify the state government and secure equal rights and the prosperity of all of our citizens.

From the Sanitary Era.

Among the numerous occasions of sudden contamination to which drinking-water is exposed, one of the most common and frightful is the distribution of the eggs of the taenia echinococcus from the excreta and saliva of dogs.

CURE OF A SPRAIN.

MACEDON CENTRE, WAYNE CO., N. Y., February 28, 1885.

Some years ago I badly strained my stomach picking cherries, and have suffered greatly ever since. Nothing has been so beneficial as Allcock's Plasters. They entirely cured me of that trouble. I have been afflicted with a lame ankle, but these Plasters soon enabled me to walk. I commend them whenever I have an opportunity, as I have found them very useful for over ten years. Allcock's Plasters have always done me the greatest service, and I am every day more and more convinced that no household should be without them.
