song the young boys riding in the wagon among the young boys riding in the wagon was David Jones, a colored boy about sixteen years old. The boys were driving across Eighth street where the horse began to run off. The animal was soon beyond the control of the boys and the wagon was must and was very badly damaged. The animal was very badly damaged. The haffs were broken, one of the wheels had the spottes out, the spring and the side of the wagon very much damaged, which will take about twenty dollars to repair. Miss Engel natured suit against Jones and Swan for their conduct at the office of 'Squire Evans. They were arrested by Officer Wittick and given a harring. They were given until Saturday to pay for all the damages.

This map, when completed, is for the use of fire insur-mee companies having policies in town. These gentieums go through the streets mak-ing the plan of the town, and on a number of occasions their actions have been regarded as suspicious by the people whose premises have been visited. One of our special policies men entertained the idea that the men were therecked? and were planning to make a "crooked" and were planning to make a cobbery of the business stores. When in-lormed of their mission the face of the officer expressed a look of autonishment.

Chief Burgess Jackson entered complaint Samuel Johnson, the colored porter of the Tremont house, for wheeling a bag-gage truck on the pavement, in violation of the law of the town. He was given a hear-ing at the office of Squire Hershey, yester-day afternoon, when he admitted his act, but plead ignorance of the law as his excuse. Johnson has been a resident of this town but a abort while. He was compelled to pay $2.25 for his act. Town Notes.

Despite the very warm weather the Columbia Iron company and the Susquehanna colling mills are running in very good manner. The men stand the heat very well.

Last Night at the Opera House. gathered in Fulton opera house last evening was very small, for the weather was beastly hot, and those who did sit the performance punishment from the heat. Some of the boys on the gallery were compelled to shed their coats, but still the perspiration that poured off of them would have answered to sprinkle the streets. The attraction was the four-act melodrama, entitled "Bound to Succeed," which made a hit in England and has been drawing largely at Niblo's Garden in New York this summer. This piece is of the sensational order, but it is a rather good one and will likely become popular. Mr. Parker's company was strong throughout, and it included Arthur Sprague as Edward Fitzgerald, the victim of a plot, A. C. Henderson as Robert Randall, Harry Mathews as Sandy Blake, Miss Lottle Blair as Agnes Hastings, and others. The company opens in Pittsburg for a week next Monday. shment from the heat. this city. The picture was drawn on stone by A. Kooliner and printed by P. S. Duvai, lithographer, of Philadelphia, for the U. S. military magazine, voi. S. It was entered scoording to act of Congress in 1841 by Huddy & Duvai, of Philadelphia, and dedicated by that firm to Major Hambright.

The picture represents Major Hambright mounted on a spirited steed. He carries a drawn aword, is dressed in full uniform of dark blue, with gold buillion epaulettes, chapeau with gold mounting and tassels. In front of the major is a guard standing at rest. In the distance is a military encampment, and still further to the rear is a train of cars drawn by a little old fashioned locomotive. The picture is not a fine one, but is valuable as being a relic of the olden times.

THE CHREAPPARE CAMP. Enjoyable Time the Lancaster Boys

FDS. NTELLIGENCER: The writer, aced by two of our pron visited the camp of the Chess peake club at Havre-de-Grace, Md., and were given a royal reception. We were deeply impressed with the generous hospitality of the citizens, and believe that when ready to break camp the parting of the club and the citizens will be one of regret—in fact they are endeavoring to persuade the campers to re-main another week. The Ironville band proves a great attraction to the elder inhabiroves a great attraction to the elder innatiants, colored population and small boy, whilst to the fair Marylanders of tender age the greatest attraction are the club members—especially those upon whose upper lip is the symbol of approaching manbood.

Rosy Cheeks for Little Ones

From the Country Gentlemen.

Mothers who wish their children to brighten the.. bomes with sparkling eyes and rosy cheeks-in other words to have sound minds in sound bodies-should pay particular attention to their diet. The food for children should be plain as to quality, and plentiful in quantity. Articles of food which are largely composed of starch, are of very little use in nourishing the growth of the body; in illness where simply bland, innutritious food is required to sustain a system that is not capable of digesting stronger aliments, these substances do very well. For a child under six years of age, the best breakfast is bread and milk, and fruit either stewed or fresh; this may be varied by substewed or fresh; this may be varied by substituting oatmeal, or Indian meal mush, if well cooked, for the bread and milk. For dinner, meat carefully cooked so as to preserve the natural juices, but without any made gravies or sauces, with vegetables and some light dessert, is all that is required, while the supper should consist of bread and milk, or its equivalent. All rich pastry, bot bread, fat meat, tes, coffee and spices should be avoided. The bread, either graham or wheat, should be twenty four hours old. Potatoes are best roasted or baked. Eggs Potatoes are best roasted or baked. Eggs may be permitted, if fresh and plain boiled and rather soft. The proper way to cook eggs for old or young is to place them over the fire in cold water, and bring them to a boil, allowing about ten minutes for this process. Then set back on the range the vesel containing them, and if they are wanted

It may seem absurd to give a rule for baking and boiling potatoes, but the experience of many will bear me out in the assertion that a properly cooked potato is a rarety. For baking let them be of medium and equal size; wash them thoroughly and put into a quick oven; as soon as they yield readily to pressure, they are done, and should be eaten at once. If possible, Always serve while the yelk is nearly raw. be eaten at once, if possible. Always serve baked potatoes in an uncovered dish, or they

For boiling, pare off one ring around the potatoes, and if they are old, put them on in cold water; if new, in boiling; in each case with a tablespoonful of salt for each quart of water. When you can pierce them easily with a fork, drain off all the water, cover them with a folded dry towel, and set them Chops should have all the fat trimmed off, and be broiled, over a clear, bright fire; when they are done, season them, using a on the back of the range until wanted.

A Party of Little Men Digging For Money Near Rothsville

A Rothsville correspondent writes that a Lititz party comes to that vicinity to dig for noney. They have in their possession a black mirror, which is used to hunt the buried treasure; also about eighty yards of muslin cut in strips about five inches wide This strip is full of writing in a foreign ongue. On reaching the spot the leader of tongue. On reaching the spot the leader of the gang goes through the ceremony of reading aloud the writing on the mustin and becomes quite eloquent in the performance, as though engageds in an earnest prayer. This done, they encircle the place with the mustic, undoubtedly to hold the evil one at bay, after which the work is continued. On one occasion in their absence a man from Milipart, was ring whishers was after blackbarries. wearing whiskers, was after blackberries and came to the spot and tramped about the hole. On their return, they looked in the black mirror, where they saw the trespasser. At another time a man was meddling with the place, having a digging iron. This always causes considerable trouble to get things in the right shape, and the treasure always sinks deeper.

Nothing has been found so far except a few broken dishes of ornamental design, they think is an omen of good luck.

A NEW MUSICAL CONSERVATORY.

Mr. Walter Bausman, Late of Buffalo, N. Y . to Open Rooms in Lancaster. Mr. Walter Bausman, an eminent planist and organist, formerly of this city, but for five years past engaged professionally in Buffalo, N. Y., is about to return to Lancaster and open a conservatory of music. The Buffalo Times, August 22, says of him: "The many friends of Mr. Bausman, the director and organist at Church of the Ascension, regret his decision to engage in musical life elsewhere. Among his pupils were a number who distinguished themselves favorably in the different musicals, and his cozy music rooms on College street will long be remembered. Among choir singers he was always popular, and his excellent programme at Ascension church the past year have been acknowledged the best in its history. The best wishes of a host of friends go with him." ter and open a conservatory of music. The

There is a certain charming young lady on St. Anthony hill whom I should like very much to make my wife, and I know she feels as I do. But I am not yet able to support a wife, so I have never said a word to the young lady's parents. Well, the other evening she and I took a stroll. It was about half past 9 when we returned to the house, so I did not go in. We stood chatting a few moments, and I lighted a cigarette. When she went into the house, I, of course, kissed her good night. Well without giving it a thought, she went in, bade her mother good night, and kissed her also. The old lady immediately detected the odor of the cigarette on her daughter's lips, and questioned her about it. The poor girl had either to acknowledge that I kissed her, or that she smoked a cigarette. When the young lady told me about it, I had not the courage to ask her what course she chose.
