We hardly credit the story, because it comes from Paris, and may have originated in the minds of the Russians who are frightened over the evident understanding between the czar's government and Bismarck. But the remarkably clumsy character of recent Russian diplomacy appears to indicate that the crar has been interfering with the work of his minister; and it may be that he has determined to take the Weekly Intelligencer reins in his own bands. The present ruler of Russia is held by many to be plainly marked with the insanity that has been the curse of the Romanoffs, and though a man

Playing an Astute Game. The abdication of Prince Alexander of Bulgaria is so little in line with the conduct that might have been expected from a ruler of such well demonstrated courage as to create the impression that it is not meant as a final withdrawal from the theatre of action; an impression which is confirmed by the report that the Bulgarian assembly will re-elect Alexander to the royal place. Certainly it is most remarkable Chairman Savage appointed a com-tee, to present it to the appraiser, sisting of Samuel Josephs, William Mullen, J. P. Sensenderfer, Peter to see a ruler in sound mind abdicating his authority while the people are calling on him to remain. It is an experience so novel as to imperatively suggest something in it unreal. There is some game of astuteness being played. Prince Alexander gets nd Chairman Savage himself, all own members of the party, and down, apparently, to oblige Russia. EDMUNDS still owns all underneath his own hat as well as the Vermont legislature.

It is now believed that the great Charles on earthquake was due to comparatively local displa ements. The origin of the dis-turbance may be ascribed to the formation of subterranean hollows. Professor Palmieri thus explained the terrible but local earth quake of 1881 at Casamicciola, the deep hot springs having gradually eaten out cavernous spaces underneath the town. If scientific study of the late shocks at Charleston proves that they were due to such eviscers tion of the deep soil by chemical degradation or the solvent action of water there will be little reason to fear the advance of earthquakes beyond the recently convulsed

BEAVER thinks Wolfe should not be no ticed. Wolfe probably returns the compli

THE scientists now in Charleston investi gating earthquake phenomena have ex-pressed their displeasure at the unreasonable view of the disturbance taken by the minis-ters of that city in their Sunday sermons. This does not much redound to the credit of the scientific men who have so clearly im pressed the world with their own insignificance in the presence of immeasurable power and though the clergy may have erred in taking undue advantage of the situation and neidentally increasing the terror of the people, it should be remembered that they t impertinent dictation. It is safe to gave them a refuge from their alarm. If the frightened negroes whose loud prayers and weird hymns so add to the fantastic deails of the terrible picture had not this safety valve of religiou, it is hard to tell to what dark deeds their terror and wild panie might not have driven them. The presence of a destroying force beyond all human enowledge or the thought of numan control that has in ages past blotted out cities as a man destroys an ant hill, is terrible alike to the ignorant and the educated. Religion is the natural and necessary refuge from the rown of such black disaster.

Great Sale of Boys' Clothing

Possesses Great Attractions.

Our New Fail Styles of Boys' and Children's Suits are now ready, and they are worth while every mother's inspection. A grander assortment and prettier styles were never seen before. Buying time has now come for those who with prudence of aforethought make their Fail selections while assortments are unbroken; while goods are fresh; while they've got the time to look, and we the time to give them that nicety of attention which we intend they shall receive. Buying time this season finds us far better prepared to meet your wants than did buying time one year ago. And we're not aware that you then found anything lacking, either in assortment, quality or style. Be that as it may, this year's buying time surpasses all other buying times to extent of assortment, in the excellence of goods, in the lowness of prices. Better manof goods, in the lowness of prices. Better man-agement, improved facilities and a larger trade are things that have done it. Novelties in our Custom Departments. Novelties in our Custom Tailoring Depart-ments.

ter, who buy their goods from other man manhands.

The prices at which we are now prepared to make suits and Fants to order are most convincing testimony of our superior facilities.

Now Fall Styles all around. In every department we are showing advance styles for the country season. There are hundreds of new things in Men's, Boys's and Children's Clothing.
