Tells the Whole Story.

Dallas, Tex., Special to Pittsburg Dispatch The people of Texas have heretofore been very skeptical regarding the truth of the stories concerning Special Agent Sedg-wick's escapade with the Jockey club bloods of the City of Mexico. All doubts are now dispelled by a column letter written to the Morning News by Mr. A. J. Porter, one of the largest and most reliable business men of Dallas, with interests in the City of Mexico, where the letter is dated, August 31, and is fully credited throughout gust 31, and is fully credited throughout Texas. After speaking of the Cutting case, Mr. Porter says: "I now refer to the disgrace Mr. Seegwick has brought upon himself and his government, and consequently the disgust and humiliation felt by all decent and patriotic Americans residing or sojourning in this country. Nothing has ever occurred before affecting the interest of the American colony which has caused as much a significant colony which has caused as much as increase. oelony which has caused so much excitement and indignation as the scandalous conduct of Mr. Sedgwick referred to, meagre reports of which you have probably received through the medium of the Associated Press dispatches,
"Mr. Sedgwick's offending, divested of all details, is as follows: He arrived in this city about ten days ago, and among the friends made were some or all of the members of the Jockey club, one of the tony institutions of this city. On the night of the 28th instant this club gave a ball, presumably in honor of Mr. Sedgwick. At all events, he honored the occasion with his presence, and as usual the cite of Mexican society attended in full the clite of Mexican society attended in full force. During the progress of the ball Mr. Sedgwick, drinking often and deeply, soon arrived at that point where reason takes its flight and the man loses all of manhood except his form. In other words he became very drunk. While in this state he performed a veritable can-can to the edification of those who were in a similar state with himself, and with what effect on others not so hilariously elevated as he, it is easier to imagine than to describe.

hilariously elevated as he, it is easier to imagine than to describe.

"He and a-half dozen others not more than one of whom claims American citizenship, made their exit from the bail room about 50 o'clock in the morning, when they retired to Mr. Sedgwick's hotel. Here he and his crowd remained in the courty ard of the hotel half or three-quarters of an hour engaged in boisterous and disgraceful conversation, to the shame and discomfort of many of the inmates of the hotel. From the botel they adjourned to a house of ill-repute in another part of the city, where Lawyer Sedgwick remained until about noon of the same day. mained until about noon of the same day.

A number of Americans called on him yesterday (Sunday), to some of whom he freely terday (Sunday), to some of whom he freely expressed his sense of the embarrassing situa-tion in which he found himself placed, even requesting the advice and counsel placed, even re-questing the advice and counsel of one or two of those calling on him. To-day there is evidently a move on foot by those who were associated with him in his debauch to white-wash him. In this it is believed some of the higher Mexican government officials are engaged. It is also asserted and believed by many that it was a preconcerted plan on the part of these same officials to lead Sedgwick into this trap, thereby belittling his mission and the government that sent him here. Judging from the broad grips that have decorated the faces of our dusky friends for a day or two, one is almost led to believe that there is a grain of truth in this surmise.

"What fortifies the belief that Sedgwick now depends upon a whitewashing and bluff now depends upon a whitewashing and bluff. gaged. It is also asserted and believed by what northers the better that Sedgwick now depends upon a whitewashing and bluff game in order to vindicate himself is the fact that he has just advised those from whom he asked counsel that he had decided to deny everything, having already wired a denial to Secretary Bayard. He may succeed in convincing the state department of our government of the correctness of his actions in the premises, but if he does so I betieve it will be effected over the protest of every intelligent American in this city.

WORSHIPING IN THE WOODS The Rawlinsville Campmeeting Well Attended

The Arrivals on Wednesday. RAWLINSVILLE, Sept. 7 .- The Rawlins ville campmeeting was formally opened this evening as half past seven, with an carnest prayer for the success of the camp by Rev. W. M. Marshail College Reunion.

A reunion was held at Mercersberg, Tues day, of the former students and faculties of Marshall college. Quite a number were Marshall college. Quite a number were present, and many from the surrounding country were in attendance. The opening services were held in the Reformed church. Dr. Porter, of Latayette college, made a short address, and was followed by Dr. Aughinbaugh, president of the college, who made the address of welcome. Rev. Moses Keiffer, of Hagerstown, Md., delivered an address on the educational influence of Marshall college upon the Reformed church. The closing prayer was made by Dr. Green. In the evening the alumni and others partook of a banquet.

Thereunion of the Lutherans of Souther Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and the District of Columbia, at Pen Mar, Md., Wednesday, was attended by 22,000 people. The St. Paul congregation, of Washington, brought with them the United States Marine band, which, with a choir of 100 voices, furnished the music. The addresses were delivered by the Rev. Saddier and Dr. J. G. Morris, of Baltimore; Dr. G. Diehl, of Fresterick, Md.; Dr. D. M. Gilbert, of Westchester, Va., and Dr. Currod, editor of the Latheress Observer.

Rev. Dr. Joel Swartz composed and recited a peem, entitled, "Pen Mar Reunion Hymn." which was well received by the vast concourse of people. This is certainly the largest crowd ever assembled at a like gathering in the state. The railroad, which has but one track, was taxed to its utmost to carry the Pen Mar, Md., Wednesday, was attended by Death of Joseph Brimmer Joseph Brimmer died at his residence, No 146 North Prince street, this morning at 10 o'clock in the 7sth year of his age. Deceased was born in New Holland and came to Lancaster in 1832. He was a tailor and was em-ployed by Jacob Rathvon and others. For many years he was a clerk at Leman's rifle works, and atterwards served in a similar capacity for John Best. He retired from active work some years ago, and bis health had not been good. Deceased leaves four children as follows: Charles Brimmer, the well known artist of this city, Joseph Brimmer, of Fort Wayne, Miss Lizzie Brimmer, who lives at home, and Mrs. William Brady, The funeral will take place Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Patent Vibrating Door Beil. Anthony lske, the Lancaster inventor of a great many valuable machines and appliances, has added to the number of his inventions a vibrating door bell, and yester-day letters patent for the same were received by him and Philip C. and Charles S. Snyder, to whom he has assigned a one-half interest. The advantages of the bell are that it is very cheap; that it vibrates like an electric bell, though it has no battery; it may be readily attached to any door or window, and never gets out of order. It is worked by clock work and operates on the principle of an ordinary alarm clock. It will be found valuable as an ordinary front door bell and as a guard against burglars and other intruders and will e especially suited to butchers, bakers and others whose working rooms are in rear of their salesrooms. The bell in various styles
