IN THE GARDEN.

We were working in the garden,
My little boy and I,
Both digging weeds,
And planting seeds
To blossom by and by.

"Here is some pop-corn, dear," I said,
"I'll give you for your own;
To plant and hoe,
And watch it grow,
And have it when it's grown."

He took the kernels eagerly,
His little hoe he dropped,
Then, out he burst—
"Let's pop it first,
So it will come up popped!"
—Bessie Chandler in St. Nicholas for October.

Mr. Black to the Grangers.

In an address to the Grangers, at their annual meeting, at Williams' Grove, August 27th, 1884, Mr. Black made an address in which he discussed the relations of capital to labor, the transportion question, monopoly and the duty of the laber interests in the matter of organization. On land and labor he said:

"But what is justice to land and labor? This is a question easily asked and easily answered in general terms. The political philosopher will say, and say truly, that land and labor must be placed upon an equality with all other industries, whether of trade, transportation or manufacture; that each is entitled to enjoy what it earns and each must yield to government in the form of taxes its just proportion of whatever may be necessary the security of the whole. But when the legislator becomes to frame this just proposition into law, he finds in his way so many artificial arrangements, under which have grown up so many powerful interests and such a multitude of profitable abuses, that he stands appalled and helpless before the task he has set himself. He is opposed by combinations of accumulated capital, by great interests perfectly organized, by talents of the highest order that money can command. But where does he look for support? To the millions, straining every aching nerve to provide for the day that is passing over? To the miner in the cavern? To the lumberman in the forest? To the ploughman in the field? To the myriad men in the shop, and forge and mill? These trusts to the honor of their public representatives. They have no means to set up separate agencies for their protection. It is well, if under the hard conditions which adverse legislation imposes they can live. Combination among them is difficult and expensive. Corporations, monopolies, associated capital, railroads, manufacturers, coal operators, mill owners, iron lords—these all co-operate. They limit production and so limit labor; they fix wages and labor must accept or starve; competition ends in agreement or pooling, and thus extorts a double tribute where one was levied before. Above all they combine to control your legislatures, state and federal, and when the lobbies swarm with their agents, and the committees listen with profound attention to their brilliant advocates who appear for the multitude whose active hands create the wealth which the privileged few thus part between them?"

"Set Him Again!"

From the Philadelphia Times.

A sensitive but thriftless husbandman in one of the interior regions of Pennsylvania, was fretted by business misfortune and domestic infelicity to commit suicide by drowning himself in a well stocked fish stream that meandered through his farm. Crops were bad; horses and cattle failed to thrive; wife was perpetually ruffled and biting in her complaints; there was no five, ten or fifteen thousand dollar package always in the family safe, and finally the despairing agriculturist sought the rest that world and home denied him by drowning himself from the deepest hole of the neighboring stream. Many days were spent in fruitless search for the lost husband, father and neighbor, but finally the body was found resting in the muddy bottom of the creek. Gently the sorrowing neighbors bore the inanimate and decaying form of their lost friend to his home, and when they began the kindly offices of preparing him for his last resting place they found that a score of fat and luscious eels had burrowed into the body and had been brought to shore in their comfortable resting place. The eels were carefully laid away to help along the funeral feasts, and several of the braver neighbors assumed the painful duty of informing the stricken widow of the recovery of the body. After the first paroxysm of grief had subsided, they told the shocking tale of the body becoming food for the fishes of the waters, but gave the silver lining to the cloud by adding that the eels had been secured and were in the larder. A fresh and more hysterical sweep of sorrow seized the comfortless widow; but when asked what further the neighbors could do in the performance of the last sad offices of friendship, the widow amidst broken sobs and cries of anguish finally blubbered out—"Set him again!"

Unequalled, Unrivalled, Unapproached—Red Star Cough Cure. Twenty-five cents.

The Same Human Nature.

Many vain attempts are made to repeat the remarkable success of Benson's Capcine Plaster. This splendid remedy is known, sold and used everywhere, and its prompt action and unrivaled curative powers have won for it hosts of friends. Imitations have sprung up under similar sounding names, such as "Capsicin," "Capicin," intended to deceive the careless and unwary. These articles possess none of the virtues of the genuine. Therefore we hope the people will assist us to protect what are at once their interests and ours. Ask for Benson's Plaster, and examine what is given you, and make sure that the word "Capcine" is cut in the middle of the plaster itself, and the "Three Seals" trade-mark is on the face cloth. Any reputable dealer will show you the safeguards without hesitation. If you cannot remember the name—Benson's Capcine Plaster—cut this paragraph from the paper. (1)

There Are a Few Druggists

who care more to make a large profit on a worthless articles than to wait for the prosperity that ultimately results from honest dealing. These are the men who, when asked for a Benson's Capcine Plaster, will recommend some cheap and trashy substitute or imitation, saying it is "just as good." Sometimes they will do up and sell the miserable imitation without remark, allowing the customer to suppose he has Benson's. If the valueless plaster is returned, Cheap John will say he made a mistake; if not he has done a good stroke of business. The public are cautioned against John and all his ilk. Buy of respectable druggists only. The genuine "Benson's plaster has the "Three Seals" trade mark and the word "Capcine" cut in the centre. sep27-M,W&S

MEDICAL.

RHEUMATISM.

Rheumatism.

We doubt if there is, or can be, a specific remedy for rheumatism; but thousands who have suffered its pains have been greatly benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla. If you have failed to find relief, try this great remedy.

"I was afflicted with rheumatism twenty years. Previous to 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse, and at one time was almost helpless. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. BALCOM, Shirley Village, Mass.

"I had rheumatism three years, and got no relief till I took Hood's Sarsaparilla. It has done great things for me. I recommend it to others." LEWIS BURBANK, Biddleford, Me.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is characterized by three peculiarities: 1st, the combination of remedial agents; 2d, the proportion; 3d the process of securing the active medicinal qualities. The result is a medicine of unusual strength, effecting cures hitherto unknown. Send for book containing additional evidence.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla tones up my system, purifies my blood, sharpens my appetite, and seems to make me over." J. P. THOMPSON, Register of Deeds, Lowell, Mass.

"Hoods Sarsaparilla beats all others and is worth its weight in gold." I. BARRINGTON, No. 130 Bank Street, New York City.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA.

A CREAKING HINGE

Is dry and turns hard, until oil is applied, after which it moves easily. When the joints, or hinges, of the body, are stiffened and inflamed by Rheumatism, they cannot be moved without causing the most excruciating pains. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, by its action on the blood, relieves this condition, and restores the joints to good working order.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla has effected, in our city, many most remarkable cures, a number of which baffled the efforts of the most experienced physicians. Were it necessary, I could give the names of many individuals who have been cured by taking this medicine. In my own case it has certainly worked wonders, relieving me of after being troubled with it for years. In this, and all other diseases arising from impure blood, there is no remedy with which I am acquainted that affords such relief as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.—R. H. Lawrence, M. D., Baltimore, Md.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla cured me of Gout and Rheumatism, when nothing else would. It has eradicated every trace of disease from my system.—R. H. Short, Manager Hotel Belmont, Lowell, Mass.

I was, during many months, a sufferer from chronic Rheumatism. The disease afflicted me grievously, in spite of all the remedies I could find, until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took several bottles of this preparation, and was speedily restored to health.—J. Fream, Independence, Va.

And in order to expose the true inwardness of the Northwestern's PROGRESSIVE DIVIDENDS, we quote from the Insurance Commissioners of Pennsylvania Life Reports for the year stated:

NORTHWESTERN.

	Insurance in Force.	Premium Income.	Dividends Paid Policyholders.
1876	$ 67,403,131	$2,565,805	$825,450

1885	110,710,861	3,785,045	778,593

Comment on the above record is unnecessary.

But in order that the falling off in dividends may not be attributed to the Northwestern's TONTINE FUND, would add that this fund aggregates $53,358.25.
