Alleged Horse Thief Captured.
From the Reading Easie.
Harry Bender, who is alleged to have been the ringleader of the gang that stole Adam Brossman's horse in Lower Heidelberg, and several thousand eigars from F. B. Sohl at Wernersville, was arrested after being a fugiwernersville, was arrested after being a fugi-tive from justice several months. His com-panions were tried at the recent session of court and convicted. Officer Wartman, who served the warrant, has kept track of Bender, and he finally received word that accused was in a barn near the Union foundry, North Reading. He was found there in company was in a barn hear the t mon foundry, North Reading. He was found there in company with a man called "Kansas Kit," and was captured after a hot chase. Bender, who is known as "Coffee Jake," was taken before Alderman Brownwell and then locked up in default of $500 bail.

Death of Jacob B. Garber. Jacob B. Garber, one of the most prominent farmers of this section, died at his home in West Hempfield township, Monday morning, in his 86th year. Mr. Garber was quite prominent botanist and contributed largely to various agricultural journals. In 1846 he established the Lancaster County Farmer, devoted to agricultural interests. The farm on which he lived and died decsended to him from his great-grandfather, who secured the deed from Wm. Penn, and it was Mr. Garber's boast that not a foot of ground had been sold from the farm upon which he lived, other than for public improvements, since his great-grandfather had first settled upon the farm upon the first settled upon the farm upon the Temperance People Mobbed. Rev. Dr. D. De Long, president of Lebanon Valley college, attempted to address a temperance meeting at Jonestown on Thurs day, when he was assailed with threats and curses. The lights were put out and in fear of his life President De Long with his compatriots, fled precipitately in the darkness, followed by a shower of pebbles and stones and jeers of the mob. A. L. Groff, of Harrisburg, and Rev. J. R. Meredith, of Annville, were to have spoken also, but were driven were to have spoken also but were driven out of town. Several of the Prohibitionists, belog strangers in Jonestown, wandered aimlessly about the streets until late at night when friends rescued them and took them home.

The mayor had only one case to dispose o the marying. He was a young man from the Fifth ward, who went home on Monday under the influence of liquor and abused his father, who caused his arrest. The young man's father pleaded with the mayor this morning to give his boy one more chance. The mayor told the young man that one more chance would be given him to reform and if he was again brought before him he would be committed for the full extent of the law.

Violet Cameron Requested to Move, Stokes, proprietor of the Hoffman sources, New York, sent for Lord Lonsdaled Monday, and, informing him that he desired to maintain the respectable reputation of the notel, expressed a desire that Violet Cameron seek other quarters. Shortly afterwards the sotress left the hotel.

Cigarmakers Gain Their Point.
The cigarmakers of Ruhe Brothers, Allentown, who were locked out a week ago, after having made repeated demands for an increase of 31 per 1,000 on all grades of cigars, returned to work this morning, the firm having acceded to the demands of the men.

THE LEONZO BROTRERS Open Their Show to One of the Largest House

Last evening the Leonzo Brothers opened their week's engagement of sensational drama at the opera house. The audience which greeted them was one of the largest ever seen in the building. Long before eight o'clock the management refused to sell any more tickets to the gallery, but already over six in that favorite resort. Down stairs every in that favorite resort. Down stairs every west was filled and hundreds of people were standing. The drama played was entitled "Brother Against Brother." The piece is sensational, but it is of the kind calculated to please the public. Victor Leonzo appeared as Carl Schmidt, a young German, who really is the hero of the piece. He introduced a number of Dutch songs, dances and other representations which made a great hit troduced a number of Dutch songs, dances and other specialties, which made a great hit with the audience. Harry Leonzo appeared as Percy Everest, the viliain of the play, and acted his part well. J. C. Birbeck and Eugene Mass were very good in the characters of Frank and George Bell, the very different brothers. The greatest feature of the show was the appearence of the trained dogs, Tiger, Lion and others. They were always on hand in time to assist the heroes, and were gladly welcomed by the audience which almost went wild over their every appearance. The whole commany is strong and which almost went wild over their every appearance. The whole company is strong and does not contain a single stick.

This evening "The Dog Spy" will be presented. In this piece Victor Leongo makes a change trom white to black in the short space of one second. In Town.

Frederick McCioy, who was formerly with Buffalo Bill, is in Lancaster to-day ahead of Frederick Bryton's company, which is play-ing "Forgiven," and will be here next week.

Chief of Police Smith on Monday evening made complaint against Alice Adams, whose residence is in West Mifflin street, for keeping a bawdy house and violating the liquor law. Accompanied by Officer Wen-ninger and Special Officer Burus, the house was visited between 10 and 11 o'clock, and all found in the house-Alice Adams, Mary Dougherty, and two masculine visitors were arrested. They were taken to the sta-tion house and all entered bail for an appear-ance before Alderman Spurrier. A charge of disorderly conduct was preferred against the two men and the Dougherty woman.

Reunion of Veterans at Sunbury. At a recent meeting of the survivors of the Third Pennsylvania artillery and 188th Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers, held in this city, it was decided to attend the first an nual reunion of the above veteran organiza-tions to be held at Sunbury, Pa., on Wednes-day and Thursday next. During that period we have learned a grea deal about Boots and Shoes. We have found the medium class goods require as close attention as the very linest; that by close attention we can raise the standard of this class of goods to a higher plane without interfering with the Pres ent Prices to our customers. In other words, we think there is an opportunity to give better values than formerly without interfering in any way with our Finest Trade. Our sales of medium grade Boots and Shoes have increased the las grade Boots and Shoes have increased the last two years beyond our expectations, and it is our earnest endeavor to still increase our sales on this class of goods, and to do this we have de-termined to keep better grades than has ever been offered at Present Prices. In keeping a sharp lookout for Middle Class Goods we shall not forget the Finer Grades. Some times we have concluded to close out, and this we are going to do quickly by putting prices upon them that ought to sweep them out in a few hours. For example there are:
