

TWO TERRIBLY SCALDED

BY A CYLINDER EXPLOSION IN OTTO'S CYLINDER FACTORY.

A Shock That Created Great Alarm in the Vicinity of Its Occurrence—Frank Kuhns and Miss Josephine Pfeister Deadfully Scalded in the Accident.

A very serious accident occurred at the corner factory of Peter Otto, on Mulberry street, between Vine and West King streets, Thursday evening. The building in which the factory is located, is a fine, four-story brick structure, almost new. In the southeastern corner of the room on the first floor there are eight large steam cylinders, which revolve upon frames and are in a row a few inches apart.

About five o'clock in the evening, Josephine Pfeister, a girl employed in the factory, was working at the cylinder nearest to the southern end of the building, when she noticed steam escaping from the middle of the cylinder. She quickly notified Frank Kuhns, who was working near by. He ran over to the cylinder and was about turning the steam off at a stop near the west end of the cylinder, when a terrible explosion occurred, which was heard all over the city.

At the place where Kuhns was standing when the accident occurred there is a heavy iron post which is used as a support of the building. This post was struck by the cylinder and was not touched by any part of the burst cylinder or other pieces of iron.

The man was terribly scalded, however; the steam and pieces of iron which were flying about his whole body was scalded. The girl was standing at the eastern end of the cylinder, when the explosion occurred, and she escaped being struck by the cylinder, but her lower limbs as well as other parts of her body were frightfully scalded.

The injured persons were taken to the hospital where they were attended by Drs. McCormick and Neuber. The girl was afterwards removed to the home of her father, 631 South Queen street. Kuhns remains at the house of Mr. Otto. It was feared last night that his injuries might prove serious.

In addition to the scalding, the girl received a terrible shock from the explosion, but during the night a reaction took place, and she recovered somewhat from this. Although her injuries are very bad, she will recover. To-day he was able to converse with those around him about the accident.

The injuries of the two children, who are of age, are bad enough but not as extensive as those to Kuhns. The latter is an unmarried man and boards at 238 West Strawberry street.

HOW THE ACCIDENT HAPPENED. How the accident occurred it is impossible to tell exactly, as no more steam was being used at the time than was customary.

The cylinders were purchased in Camden, N. J., second hand, about six months ago, and they are not in use very long during the week. Cylinders of this kind must be kept in good repair, for the least little vent will mean a serious accident.

The damage to the building is not great. Several window panes were broken and the walls scalded. The force of the steam was so great that it raised a large quantity of dust, but did not injure it. Although but one of the cylinders is broken, the others are badly affected. It is believed that the frame work is also badly wrecked, and extensive repairs will have to be made before the cylinders can again be used.

"HONNIE BESSIE" HERE!

The Maid of the Zoo a Loving and Playful Little Baby Bear.

From the Philadelphia Bulletin. Quite a number of the rare animals have been added to the collection at the Zoological Garden lately. The most interesting and entertaining of all the animals is a very old-fashioned little bear. It is a girl bear, and the keepers have dubbed her with the pleasant title of "Honnie Bessie." This is a very affectionate little bear, and she is found in a clear little bear about two feet long, very plump, and waddles around in the drollest manner possible. It is the cream of good nature, and would hug and kiss you.

When Bessie first came to the Zoo, she seemed all broken up. Full of bear instinct, she is fond of hugging, and she shows a degree of humanity of the same gender, she is a poor idea of the use of living, unless it is either to hug or to be hugged. Beaver's Geography of Pennsylvania.

From the Philadelphia Times.

General James A. Beaver is engaged in revising the geography of Pennsylvania for the campaign. The new Pennsylvania will include the Southern States in which the vote that are not cast are not counted, even if it is the colored brother who does not cast them. It will also include all the custom tariff in the United States, thus making the tariff a state issue. The map of Pennsylvania will be called Hominy Hill, the home of Attorney General Graham. It would not be easy to see how the map of Pennsylvania could be drawn without including the colored brother who does not cast them.

It was his father. From the Detroit Free Press. "Young man!" shouted the retail tobacco dealer to his clerk, "didn't I caution you to keep your eyes peeled for plugged silver coins?" "Yes, sir," "Well, here's a plugged half-dollar which you must have taken in this afternoon while I was out." "Yes, sir; I know I did." "You knew it was plugged and you accepted it?" "Yes, sir, I didn't! I hadn't the moral courage to refuse." "Oh, you hadn't? Well, on Saturday night you can take your pay and go. I don't want a boy here who will let a second-class coin pass in that fashion. Would you know the respectable villain again?" "Oh, yes, sir; I know him well." "Who was it?" "Your father!"

Among the Dudes. Instead of "Much obliged," "Thanks," or "Thanks awfully much," the Anglo-dudes of New York now say, "Beholden," or "Ye much beholden to me, this."

The story comes from Boston of a dude who, having been asked to say grace at a formal spread at which he took a leading part, bowed his head slightly, languidly, lowered his eyelids, and murmured "Oh, Lord, thanks—awfully!"

NEWS FROM ELIZABETHTOWN.

Arrests Following Upon the Maytown Fight. The Biggest Earthquake Only a Creature of the Imagination—Borough Briefs.

ELIZABETHTOWN, Oct. 1.—The balloon ascension on Saturday in Maytown gave rise to numerous fights. Nothing much was thought of the 23rd until yesterday, when Constable Wittick, of Columbia, with a deputy, put in their appearance here, and arrested seven of our young men for felonious assault. They were Messrs. Bishop, Howard, Brennan, Frank Garber, Levi Ebersole, Abraham Miller, Henry Hess, and William Strick. The ball was fixed at 9:30 o'clock, which was procured in a short time. The prosecutor was a colored man who was shot in the ankle.

The hearing will take place at 4 p. m. today, in Columbia, before Judge Samuel Evans. There is an impression that it is a scheme to scare these young men to pay a fine.

Yesterday morning, the marriage bells rang at the residence of Mr. William F. Hamilton, near this place. Mr. James Miles, a contracting youth, and Miss Elizabeth Hamilton, a young lady, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, to Miss Fahny, the estimable daughter of Mr. William Hamilton. They left on the afternoon train for an extended tour.

Cards are also out, announcing the marriage of Mr. J. O. Hoffman, to Miss Ella Hoffman, of this place, the time being Thursday, October 7.

No Earthquake, as Reported. On Thursday evening there appeared in the INTELLIGENCER, and all Lancaster papers, reports of a terrible earthquake, with a special dispatch, stating that two shocks of earthquakes were felt here at 11 p. m., Wednesday night and that buildings swayed to and fro, etc. This is altogether without foundation, as no earthquake was felt here or anywhere else in this section.

No person spoke of it on Thursday, and people know nothing of it until notified in the papers. The correct time of the earthquake, if it occurred, is unknown; but whoever he is, he must be suffering with some extraordinary delusion, as he is not a resident of this place.

JANITOR TITUS' TRIAL.

THE EVIDENCE AS TO THE MURDER OF TILLIS SMITH.

He Becomes Sick Through the Nervous Excitement Under Which He Labors—Evidence That He Contemplates Either Suicide or a Daring Escape.

Wednesday night, at Belvidere, N. J., Janitor Titus, the alleged murderer of Tillis Smith, the domestic at the Centenary college institute at Hackettstown, last April, called for a physician, and Special Van Campen summoned Dr. Lettels, the county and jail physician. Dr. Lettels found the prisoner suffering from a severe nervous attack, caused by the mental strain under which he has been laboring since the girl was murdered. As soon as the court opened Thursday morning, Lawyer Beasley represented the prisoner, after telling of Titus' illness as demanded as his right under the law the option of calling any physician he wanted. Counsel claimed that Sheriff Van Campen had refused Titus medical assistance unless rendered by County Physician Lettels.

Chief Justice Beasley said the sheriff had refused his authority, and ordered that the physician or physicians selected by the prisoner should be allowed to attend him at any and all times.

Dr. Lettels, a chambermaid at the institute, testified that on the morning after the discovery of the body she saw Titus and said to him, "I saw the sheriff's affidavit related to the 'new evidence' on which the defense base their hope of securing a new trial."

Charles L. Munnich was next sworn, and testified that on the morning after the discovery of the body she saw Titus and said to him, "I saw the sheriff's affidavit related to the 'new evidence' on which the defense base their hope of securing a new trial."

FOR A NEW TRIAL.

THE CHICAGO ANARCHISTS HOPING TO HAVE THEIR NECKS.

How They Look After Their Confinement. Marching in the Same Order as in Their Former Trial—New Evidence on Which They Base Their Hopes.

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—At ten o'clock this morning Judge Gray opened the hearing for the new trial in the case of the convicted Anarchists. When they were brought into court expectation ran high as to how the Anarchists would look after their long confinement. Presently the door leading to the jail was thrown open, and the rumble of many footsteps sounded, and came the Anarchists. They marched in precisely the same order as they did during their former trial.
