And fields that cold and empty be.
Lo! straining 'gainst contending gales,
The windmill apreads its soaring sails,
Like wings that seem to fly and fly—
Yet never reach the sky.
The mists uprise—the sun drops down—
And naked all the plain appears;
And sutumn in her weeds of brown—
Black how she steals away in tears.
—Julie K. Wetherill.

Minnie Hauk Wades Ashers. From the St. Paul Globe.

A pretty little story is told of Minnie is said to be true in every detail While at Seattle one afternoon with two of her lady friends she concluded to go out of the sound for a few hours' crab fishing They didn't want any male escort, and con-sequently they kept their proposed trip s secret. The afternoon selected for the excursecret. The afternoon selected for the excursion came, and with nets and spears they embarked in a boat, and Minnie being a good carswoman, the trio was soon out on the water, jabbering away iabout everything but the object of their centure. They were getting along awimmingly when their boat came to a standardil. Looking over the side they found that they were stock that in the mud of an oyster bed, and as the tide was going out and they were a mite and a half from shore, there were the brighest prospects for a five-hour vigil. The case was rendered more critical from the fact that Minnie was billed to sing at the opera house that night and it critical from the fact that Minnie was billed to sing at the opera house that night and it looked very much as though she would not be able to keep the engagement.

It was a dilemma, and all the ingenuity of the three women was brought to bear on the case, but every minute the water went lower and the boat stuck faster. They at last gave up in despair, and settled down to wait till the tide should lift the boat out of the mud. They sat there two hours in the hot sun and their faces were well burned, when their attention was attracted by a shout, and turning they saw the old, weather-beaten keeper of the oyster bed sitting several hundred yards away in his boat grinning at them. They beckoned to him, and, leaving his boat in deep water, he rolled up his trousers and, wading over to where the ladies were, tried to shove off their boat, but it was no use, it wouldn't move.

wouldn't move.

"Ye'll have ter set hyar till ther tide lifts yer off," said the old gentleman.

"Well, we just won't," said Minnie, ex-eitedly.

"Yer will if yer don't wade," said the old "Yer will if yer don't wade," said the old man, with a broad grin.

The ladies shuddered and looked at each other despairingly. But Minnie was equal to the emergency, and bending over to remove her shoes and stockings, she said: "Well, I'd swim before I'd sit here in this sun another half hour."

When the dressing of her feet was removed she tucked her skirts up and, taking moved she tucked her skirts up and, taking the hand of the old flaherman, she stepped overboard. She sank half to her knees in mud, but she gritted her teeth and stood like a martyr, and was soon safely landed in her escort's boat. Encouraged by the example of the little singer, her two companions wend through the same performance, and an hour later the three were safely stowed away in the privacy of their room at the hotel, paint-ing their almost blistered faces with cream. Minnie didn't catch a crab, but she caught the audience that night as usual.

The Latest Prench Dandy.

From the Pall Mail Gazette.

The scene at French watering-places is this summer enlivened by an entirely new figure. The homme chie, v'lav or pschutt has had his day, and the world has grown tired of the "heavy" swell of either sex. It is, therefore only natural that the "copurchic," the creat only natural that the "copurchic," the creature of the present season, is receiving a warm welcome, and has already an enormous number of followers.

The porcupine look which unfortunately hangs about his name, the "copurchic" explains away by announcing that the word is composed of the two words pur and chic, the prefix co being adopted for the sake of suphony.

prefix co being adopted for the sake of euphony.

The part of his apparel by which the latest French dandy is easily distinguished is his headgear, a white flannel cap and a navy blue ribbon. Another peculiarity on which he prides himself is the bright-colored scarf which he winds round his waist, to contrast with his white flannel trousers. A dark jacket and a pair of yellow leather shoes complete the toilet of the "copurchic," who appears to be a medley of the proud Andaiusian and the comfort loving Briton; and who, to make the change complete from the garrulous homme du monde of former days, drawls out his sentences in a sleepy way which is considered the supreme distinction of this new monster of fashion.

"I Would That I Were Dead !" cries many a wretched housewife today, as, weary and disheartened, she forces herself to perform her daily task. "It don't seem as if I could get through the day. This dreadful back-ache, these frightful dragging-down sensations will kill me! Is there no relief!" Yes, madam, there is. Champion oarsman of America, John Teemer, endorses St. Jacobs Oil for muscular pains

"The sweetest thing that ever grew beside a human door" was little May, until she took to having headaches. For a time she lost her beauty, but one bright day her papa bought a bottle of Salvation Oil, and lo! she is as sweet and pretty as ever.

Cheap and Inferior Perous Plasters will inevitably disappoint you, and are not worth even the few cents asked for them. Among the numerous perous plasters offered for sale Benson's Capcine Plasters alone merit implicit confidence. They have won their great popularity with the people, and gained the voluntary endorsement of the medical profession, by their unequalled curative power, and by that only When purchasing be on your guard sgainst worthless imitations under misleading names, such as "Capsicin," "Capsicium," "Capucin," "Capsiciae," etc., as certain huckstering druggists may try to paim them off on you in place of the genuine. It is better to deal with none but reputable and honorable druggists. Ask for Benson's, and see that it bears the "Three Scale" trade mark and has the word Capcine cut in the centre.

SPHOIAL NOTIORS.

"For several months I endured a dull pain through my lungs and shoulders; lost my spirits, appetite and color, and could with difficulty remain from my bed. My present healthful condition is due to Burdock Blood Bitters." Mrs. E. A. Hall, Binghamton, N. Y. For sale by H. B. Cochran, druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen street, Lancaster.

Mr. George Dodge Speaks. This gentleman lives in Emporium, Pa., and says. "One of my men, Sam Lewis, while working in the woods sprained his ankle so bad he could hardly hobble to the house. Used Thomas Electric Oil and was ready for work the next morning. I have never yet seen so good a med icine." For sale by H. B. Cochran, druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen street, Lancaster. Bowing Wild Oats.

How many waste their time and resources in foolish experiments, with masty worthless medicines that can never do them a whit of good. If you are sick and want help get a reputable remedy of established merit. The curative virtues of "Burdock Blood Bitters" have never been questioned. For an enfeebled circulation or a weak stomach they are splendid. For sale by H. B. Cochran, druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen street, Lancaster.

What We Can Cure, Let's Not Endure.

If we can cure an ache, or a sprain, or a pain, or a lameness, or a burn, or a brulse, or a bits, by using "Thomas' Eclectric Oil," let's do it. "Thomas' Eclectric Oil is known to be good. Let's try it. For sale by H. B. Cochran, droggist, 137 and 139 North Queen street, Lancaster.

A Haptist Minister's Experience.

"I am a Baptist minister, and before I ever thought of being a clergyman I graduated in medicine, but left a lucrative practice for my present profession, forty years ago. I was for many years a sufferer from quinsy. Thomas' Eclectric Oil cured me. I was also troubled with hoarseness, and Thomas' Eclectric Oil always relieved me. My wife and child had diphther's, and Thomas' Eclectric Oil cured them, and it taken in time-it will cure seven times out of ten. I am conddent it is a cure for the most obstinate cold, or cough, and if any one will take a small reaspoon and half fill it with the Oil, and then place the end of the spoon in one hostril and draw the Oil out of the, spoon into the head, by satisfing as hard as they can, until the Oil falls over into the throat, and practice it twice a week, I don't care how offensive their head may be, it will clean it out and cure their caterin. For deafness and earache, it has done wonders to my certain knowledge. It is the only medicine dubbed patent medicine that I have ever felt like recommending, and I am very anxious to see it in every piace, for I tell you that I would not be without it in my house for any consideration. I am now surfering with a pain like rheumatism in my right limb, and nothing relieves me like Thomas' Eclectric Oil." Dr. E. F. Crane, Corry, Pa.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC COMPANY. Tried in the Crucible S Tried in the Crucible

About twenty years ago I discovered a little sore on my cheek, and the doctor pronounced it cancer. I have tried a number of physicians, but without receiving any permanent benefit. Among the number were one of two specialists. The medicine they applied was like fire to the sore, causing intense pain. I saw a statement in the papers telling what S. S. had done for others similarly affiliated. I procured some at once. Before I had used the second bottle the neighbors could notice that my cancer was healing up. My general health. had been bad for two or three years—I had a hacking cough and spit blood continually. I had a severe pain in my breast. After taking six bottles of S. S. S. my cough left me and I grew stouter than I had been for several years. My cancer has healed over all but a little spot about the size of a half dime, and it is rapidly disappearing. I would advise everyone with cancer to give 5, 8, 8, a fair trial. MRS. NANCY J. McCONAUGHEY, Ashe Grove, Tippecance Co., Ind.
