CARRIED DOWN ABOVE FLAME BY A FALLING FLOOR.

Craving the Deadly End—Agents or Men Crushed in a Bed of Fire—An Agonizing Scene Not to Be Soon Forgotten by Those Who Witnessed It.

The four-story store and basement building at Nos. 107 and 109 Madison street, Chicago, owned by L. S. C. Foster and occupied by the Goodway Rubber company, Saturday A. M. was destroyed by fire.

The killed are H. C. Papinone and Tom Hergenrothe, members of the fire insurance company.

The fatally injured are William Darby, P. Mullen and John McGoover.

William Cornell, fire insurance reporter, Captain James Hume and Fire Marshal Reddie, were more or less seriously injured.

The building was an inflammable structure and had been burning for some time before it was destroyed.

Three alarms brought twenty engines to the scene, and for three hours afterwards the firemen had a desperate fight with the advancing flames.

Water covered up the ground floor, two printing presses from the first floor fell through to the basement, carrying with them the men who were taken out alive.

RAILROAD TRAFFIC HEAVY.

Western Lines Taxed to Their Greatest Capacity for Carrying Grain and Merchandise.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 1.—The train records show that 296 more loaded cars were received and forwarded at Indianapolis in the week ending Oct. 30th than in the preceding week.

The shipments of livestock were lighter than in the week ending Oct. 23d. Nevertheless the tonnage continues heavy in the corresponding week in 1885, and but for the car famine the movement would have been larger.
