A farmer's horse and wagon was standing on Locust street, yesterday, and when the man attempted to turn the horse around, the animal slipped and fell in the gutter. The horse was soon extricated from the harness and no damage was done.

One of heating furnaces of the Columbia rolling mill was lighted this morning, and it is probable that the mill will resume work after being idle for several months.

A Railroad Superintendent Injured.

Reah F. Wilson was recently appointed apervisor of the Frederick division of the naylvania ratiroad. Tuesday he decided make an inspection of the road and he arted with several employes on a hand car When they reached Iron Bridge, about four-teen miles from York, a little dog ran in front of the car. The result was that the dog was ran over and killed and the car upset. Mr. Wilson was thrown forward and was after wards caught between the cog wheels in the machinery of the car. He was very badly cut and bruised about the body and his lef ankle was sprained. He was bro city on the 9:45 train and Dr. Welchans a tended him.

Mr. Hooley was well-known in Lancaster as he had visited this city ahead of different allows for many years. He was a popular advance agent, and his death will be re-gretted by many.

Society Officers Elected. At the meeting of Leo XIII. Young Men's thelle society, on Tuesday evening, the allowing officers were elected for the ensuing pear: President, G. Edward Hegener; vice president, William Hiemenz; secretary, Phos. F. McEiligott; treasurer, Francis Hismenz; stewards, Emanuel S. Miller, Leopold Albert, Ferdinand Bender, John A. Coyle and Clarence A. Donnelly.

Close Figuring William Dietrich, the wide awake and inligent Democratic committeeman of the town election district, made a fore of what the result would be in the Robcontrol what the result would be in the Roh-erstown box. He said the Democratic vote sould be 65 and the Republican vote 147. The Democratic vote was exactly 65 and the Republican vote 149. If all the other com-sistence have made as careful a canvass, and got the full Democratic vote, as Mr. Dietrich did, there wouldn't have been so much disappointment among Democrats there is to-day.

Sent to the Hospital, Philip Hains, who escaped from the county hospital a few weeks ago, was returned to that institution this morning. His brother found him wandering about, took him to the station house and Officer Bable escorted him is his old quarters.

Of Astrich Brothers Paince of Fashion on East

The grand opening of Astrich's palace of fashion, No. 13 East King street, takes place to-day and to-morrow. The capacious storerooms, upstairs and down, are more elegantly arranged and filled with an assortment of millinery and fancy goods more fine and costly than ever before shown by this leading house.

The floral decorations of the place are very fine. Flowering plants shed their rich perfumes in all parts of the establishment and magnificent toliage plants are artistically arranged in all parts of the rooms and set off the elegant display of full millinery, coats and other goods to creat advantage. other goods to great advantage.

One of the most noticeable attractions is a piece of real duchess lace, valued at $100 per yard. It took eighteen months to make this piece containing six yards. It is something the like of which was never before seen in

The lower store room which is one hunsides in most exquisite style with the very finest goods in the line. There is a charming display of bead laces, dress froms, lace flour-ings and bead trimmings.

A space of twenty-five test is devoted to display of kid glovesshown on a background of velvet. It is very attractive and cannot fail to arrest the attention of lady visitors. Quilted satin linings in bright colors—pluk, blue, do., interspered with far trimmings, etc., are an attractive feature of the place. Near the centre of the store are a succession of eight double curtains, of silk plushes in oright colors, finished with slegant fringes to

In the rear of these is a music s'and, from In the rear of these is a music s'and, from which the Italian orchestra will furnish music to-night from 7 to 9 o'clock.

The large room up stairs is, if possible, more exquisitely arranged than the room below. Besides the great display of pretty coats, cloaks, elegant wraps and ladtes' wear, there are over two hundred trimmed bats, in infinite variety, made expressly for the grand opening. Beside expressly for the grand opening. Beside these there is an entire wall of fancy plushes, a large table of mourning hats, covered in black and white plush. The store will be most brilliantly illuminated with electric light. Down stairs there nated with electric light. Down stairs there are nine 32-candle power lamps and twenty-four 40-candle power lamps. Upstairs there are nine 32 candle power ismps and sixteen 10-candle power lamps. We need not tell our lady readers to be present at the grand fall opening. They will be sure to be there, and they will see for themselves how very imperfect is our description of the Astrich palace of fashion.

Tax entries for the Chrysan bemuin ishor which will open Tuesday next at Lancaster hall West King street, are now being made. The managers are now busy laying out the hall, and the number of plants that will be exhibited will be larger than first expected. It promises to be the largest show of the kind ever held in this city. An orchestra will be present during the
