[illegible]'S COUNCIL SUED.

[illegible] Has a Little Bill Against the [illegible]—The Salvation Army Lively. [illegible] of a Young Man at Ironville.

Correspondence of INTELLIGENCER.

[illegible]RIA, Nov. 15.—The trouble that has [illegible] for the past few months between [illegible] Dysinger and the Columbia council [illegible] last terminated in a suit being entered [illegible]ysinger against the council, at the [illegible] of Squire Hershey. The hearing will [illegible] place on next Wednesday evening, [illegible] a number of the former councilmen [illegible] be present as witnesses. Dysinger [illegible] been employed from April 1885 to April [illegible] as watchman at the opera house, and has [illegible] received a commission as a special po[illegible]; his salary being $50 per year. At [illegible] organization of council last April Dys[illegible]er was not discharged from the position [illegible] watchman. When he made an application [illegible] his commission the council would not [illegible] his request for reasons known to the [illegible]bers. At the August meeting of coun[illegible] Dysinger was discharged from his posi[illegible] as watchman at the opera house.

The matter has created considerable talk [illegible] town, and a petition was presented to [illegible]ouncil, signed by the merchants who have [illegible]ysinger employed as a watchman, asking [illegible] a commission be granted to him, which [illegible]ouncil refused to grant. The suit entered [illegible] Dysinger is for $16.63, the salary from April to August.

Death of Joseph X. Bard.

Joseph X. Bard, living at Ironville, died at his home at that place on Saturday morning aged 21 years, after an illness of some time of consumption. The funeral will take place on Tuesday morning, at ten o'clock. Services will be held in the Ironville church. Interment at the cemetery at that place. Joseph Bard was well-known in town, through his connection with the Ironville band, of which organization he was a prominent member.

Salvation Army.

The members of the Salvation Army now stationed at Columbia, held big meetings on Saturday and Sunday nights. The barracks are at the building in Bank alley, but the army occupied the armory for these meetings. The local crowd were reinforced by a number of their comrades from Marietta. They made a parade through the street's last night and one of their members carried a large flag.

Town Notes.

The "Tourists in a Pullman Palace Car" appeared in the opera house last Saturday night to a good-sized audience. The performance appeared to give general satisfaction, although it was not as good as the original Mestayer's "Tourists," appearing here some years ago.

The United Brethren church will hold a festival in the armory on 18th, 19th and 20th. The church is trying to raise money for a new house of worship.

The public schools reopened this morning after a vacation of one week.

Work was commenced at T. J. Clepper's sand wharf in filling large bins with sand to be used during the time when the river will be frozen over.

The Louise Arnot company passed through town this morning on their way from York to Tamaqua.

P. H. Gleason, the horse trainer, will be at the Lancaster Rink one week commencing December 13. Persons having horses or colts that they want trained or broken, can leave their names with Wm. A. Halbach, 32 North Christian street, Lancaster, Pa.

This evening at seven o'clock at the Leopard hotel, will be sold that conveniently arranged and substantially built dwelling house, No. 11 West German street.

Amusements

"The Inside Track" To-Night.—This evening Oliver Byron's company appears in the opera house in the new play entitled "The Inside Track." Mr. Byron has always been a favorite in Lancaster, and his business is usually large. This play is as good if not better than any he has ever appeared in, and his company which includes Mrs. Byron is strong throughout.

The Tourists.—To-morrow evening "The Tourists in a Pullman Car" will be here with Charles Kirke and Harry Clarke in the leading roles. The company is well spoken of by the press of towns that that they have visited, and as their prices are low they should draw well.

DEATHS.

HENRY.—On Monday, November 15th, 1886, Violet, youngest daughter of F. O. and Emma J. Henry, aged three years and 1 day.

The relatives and friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend her funeral, on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Services at the house, No. 45 South Queen street. Interment at Woodward Hill cemetery.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15, 1:30 p. m.—Money easy at 5@6 per cent.; exchange dull; postal rates, $4 83½@4 84; government firm; Currency 6's, $2 25 bid; 4's Coup, $1 27¾ bid; 4½'s do, $1 13¾ bid.

The stock market opened quiet and steady and after the first few transactions a raid by the room traders broke prices ¼ to 1 per cent. After the first call there was a good buying of Richmond & West Point terminal, Omaha and Louisville & Nashville, and the list strengthened, advancing ¼ to 1⅜ per cent. by noon above the opening figures. The market has since been quiet and featureless.
