While neither had known the other before the meeting both became warm friends from that auspicious moment. was very devout; Mike was a man of the world and slightly implous. One Sunday Pat urged his companion to accompany him to church. Mike rebelled. There was going to be a built light is town that day which the man of the world wished to attend. Pat saw his opportunity to snatch a brand from the burning. Without a moment's delay he set about winning worldly Mike to church and with so much success, it may be said, that it was not long before the devout man and his companion were ushered into the holy light which streamed through the parti-colored window panes. It was all strange to Mike — thejburning incense, the good man in his robes and the soportife music of the choir, He heard and watched it all from his cush-ion dis related. — "Pat," he whispered, nudging his com-panion in the ribs. — "Pat is it Molke?" asked the devout worshipper. world and slightly impious. From the Springfield (Mass.) Republican. A prominent city pastor started out with his wife the other evening to make a call on a newly married couple, but found, after riding in the horse cars some little distance. that his change of clothing had been so hasty that it had not included the transfer of any that it had not included the transfer of any coin of the republic. His wife was penniless but a North-end Samaritan, seeing the trouble, had the courisey to drop two tickets into the box and assure the reverend gentle-man that it was all right. Then the pastor as an acknowledgment in part of the favor rendered, undertook to pilot the Samaritan and his wife to their mutual destination, the previous location of which was unknown to precise location of which was unknown to them. But the route chosen by the dominic was an unfortune one and he soon landed the quartet in the mud, getting his own boots so begrimed that he was obliged ito ask the privilege of blacking them on the arriv-ing at the house, a sbingle being put down on the carpet for that purpose. The call being over his friend in need went with him to the horse car and placed two more tickets in the box so as to get him safely home. precise location of which was unknown to

What a pack of small men Arthur drew around him! With the exception of Gresham, who was more fitted for Arthur's place than the latter was, the whole administration was weak and trifling. Who remembers them ? what and trining. Who remembers them 7 What in fact, can remember the Hayes crowd? I asked one of the best informed men on the "Row" who composed the Arthur cabinet, and he gave it up after two attempts. He then turned to his brother journalists, who were deriding him, and offered to bet a bottle of wine that not a single man of them unsided could name the mem-hers of the adheat for any presidential term. bers of the cabinet for any presidental term back of the present. What is a Cold in the head? Medical autho-ritics say it is due to atmospheric germs, uneven clothing of the body, rapid cooling when in a perspiration, &c. The important point is, that a cold in the head is a genuine rhintis, an in-flammation of the lining membrane of the nose, which, when unchecked, is certain to produce a catarrhis condition-for catarrh is essentially a "cold" which nature is no longer able to "re-solve' or throw off. Ely's Cream Balm has proved its superiority, and sufferers from cold in the head should resort to it before that common aliment becomes seated and ends in obstinate, catarrh. n25-2wdeod&w
