SCHOOL BOARD MEETING.

SUPERINTENDING COMMITTER'S REC OMMENDATIONS AS TO VACANCIES.

They Decide to Close Miss Green's School-The Vacancy Caused by Miss Gill's Death to Be Filled Next Month-Treasurer's Bond Presented and Approved.

The December meeting of the Lancaster evening, with the following members preent : Messrs, Baker, Bernard, Belenius Breneman, Brostus, Byrne, Cochran, Darm stetter, Eberman, Erisman, Evans, Griest Hartman, J. I., Lichty, Marshall, McComssy, McCormick, McElligott, McKillips, Ochs, Owens, Pontz, Raub, Ringwalt, Schwebel, Shirk, Smeych, Snyder, Springer, Warfel, White, Wickersham, Wohlsen and Dr. Levergood, president.

The minutes of the last stated and special meetings were read and approved.

Mr. McComsey, from the superintending committee, submitted the following report Your superintending committee, to whom was referred the question of filling the vacancy in the girls high school caused by the death of Miss viill and to inquire into the advisability of electing a teacher, who has qualifications other than a teacher of draw-ing and painting, respectfully report.

That all the regular studies in the curri-culum for this school are now taught by three teachers, except those advanced in German, taught by Prof. Mais, and when the large number of scholars in the school as well as the number of branches taught which necessitated large classes and short periods, are taken into consideration, there can be no doubt as to the necessity for additional teaching force. After carefully considering various means of relief your committee find that all the studies in the curriculum may be grouped and that by assigning one of these distinct groups of studies to each four teachers would afford the necessary relief.

Relieving this to be the most practicable means of relieving the present teaching force of a part of their work, we therefore recom-mend that the board advertise for and employ an assistant teacher qualified to teach trawing and natural sciences, keeping in view nevertheless the importance of the validications to teach other branches, if at any time a different assignment shall be deemed advisable and that the salary be fixed at $500. Relative to the vacancy caused by the resignation of Misa Green your committee respect-ully report that the aggregate number of pupils enrolled in the three secondary schools taught by Miss Hathvon, Miss Dengler and Miss Green is only 102 and the average at-tendance about 30, with but little probability of an increase, and we are unanimous in the opinion that these three schools may without ietriment be consolidated into two, and that t is unnecessary to fill the vacancy caused by one-half of Mes Dengtor's pupits be transferred to Miss Rathyon, and that Miss Dengter with the remainder of her pupils be transferred to the school formerly taught by Miss Green. This arrangement, if approved, will give to each of the two teachers about 50 Respectfully submitted, WM. McComsey.

John B. Warfel, J. Hav Brown, J. P. Wickersham, MARRIOTT BROSIUS

Dr. McCormick made a motion that the report of the committee be adopted except that part of it referring to the advertising for a teacher, which he moved be stricken out. He said he made the motion because he believed that there were teachers now in the employ of the board who are competent to fill the vacancy in the high school and he did not see the necessity of advertising.

Mr. Baker was also of the opinion that there was material in our teaching force to fill the vacancy. All the other teachers in the high school had been advanced there from lower grade schools. They are competent and suc-He understood there was an app cation on file from one of the teachers for this position and he saked that the application be

GENTLEMEN: While in your employ I have faithfully endeavored to serve you to the best of my ability in difficult and trying positions in outlying districts of the city. During this time, too, I have labored with the view to advance in my profession as, I trust, may be seen by the certificates herewith submitted. I therefore most respectfully present to your honorable tody my application for the usualizer about to be filled. plication for the position about to be filled in the girls' high school, and if my certificates are deemed insufficient evidence of my qual-ification for the position, I am ready to undergo a rigid competitive examination by any competent examiner.

Very respectfully,

EMMER V. BAKER.

Accompanying the application was a perma-nent certificate granted by the department of public instruction in 1880, and the diploma of the Millersville Normal school awarded to Miss flaker last year.

Dr. Wickersham said the superintending committee had no desire to go out of the city to fill the vacancy. Their idea was that in post-poning the filling of the vacancy for a month the very best selection would be made. Mr. Hartman said the report of the com-mittee was on the expediency of filling the vacancy and he did not think it wise to elect to-night, and it was not fair to other teachers who might to applicants for the place.

Mr. Brosius said the position was of more than ordinary importance. In his judgment the application of Miss Baker was prema-

Mr. McComsey, Chairman of the committee, said he signed the report to advertise for a teacher because he did not know there would be any applicants from among the present teaching force of the board. As there is an application for the place he favored going into an election at once as the applicant had all the necessary qualifications for the posi-

now. It was an important place to fill and time should be taken. He did not believe it policy to elect the applicant to the position now. He knew of a lady in the city who could full the bill. After some further discussion participated in by Messre. Byrne and Baker, the motion of Dr. McCormick, that advertising for a teacher be stricken from the report, was adopted. All the other recommendations of the committee were adopted by a unanimous vote. Mr. Hartman moved that the election of a teacher to fill the vacancy in the high school be postponed until the next meeting. The motion was adopted.

PROPERTY COMMITTEE'S REPORT. Mr. Hartman, of the property committee aubmitted the following report:

CHARGED WITH STEALING $7,000.

The Clerk of a York Building Association Heb in $5,000 Ball for a Hearing. YORK, Dec. 3.-Theodore W. Noedel, esq. has been arrested and held in $5,000 ball on the charge of embezzeling nearly $7,000 of the funds of the South End Building and Loan esociation. He was clerk of the corporation until three weeks ago when he was deposed and H. S. Spangler elected in his stead. His mother became surety and the hearing will take place before Justice Sherwood on Thursday, Dec. 16.

The South End Building and Loan association was organized in March, 1881. Mr. Noedel was its first clerk, giving a five hundred dollar bond for the faithful performance of his duty, his present bondsmen being John W. Heller, esq., and Harman Sauppe. The association is running six series. The expira-tion of the first being near at hand and Noedel being unable to give satisfactory answer as to its financial condition, a committee was appointed to make a thorough investigation. Suspicion of worse than mere muddling of accounts was first aroused by the discovery of a small discrepancy—about $100—botween the books of the cierk and the bank account, but although the discrepancy was not ac-counted for it was allowed to pass through several audits, or nearly a year. The last audit was held about two months ago, upon which occasion the clerk was so nervous tha it attracted the attention of one of the audi-tors, but an entirely different cause was sus-

The discrepancy still existed and one of the auditors retused to sign the report. At a second meeting of the auditors it was sgreed to sign the report and also to submit a supplemental report calling attention to the discrepancy and ordering that the books and bank account be made to correspond. The submission of this report led to the appointment of an investigating committee, composed in part of Messrs. W. I. Reisinger, B. F. Thomas and A. K. Burger. This committee called in all the books of the shareholders that could be reached and made a rigid examination, discovering in a short time that a large portion of the assoclation's funds had been misappropriated.

The committee, however, refused to divulge the method in which the books were kept, and the full extent of the loss is not yet known. The defalcation, however, is in yet known. The detalcation, however, is in the neighborhood of the sum mentioned above. The directors are positive in their as-sertion that the sharebolders will not lose a cent, and at a meeting last night $1,100 were loaned to applicants. It is said that Noedel frequently received association money at his office from the shareholders, but that it was supposed he properly turned it over to the treasurer, Dr. Keiser.

A Birthday Present.

Thursday was the 53d anniversary of Prof. F. W. Haas' birth. The "boys" in the office of the Volksfreund, of which Prof. Hass has been managing editor for twelve years, took advantage of the occasion to present him with a gold pen and fountain holder. Speeches were made and the good fellowship which has so long existed among the parties bids fair to continue for an indefinite number of highlary applyersaries.

JAMES STEWART'S FUNERAL.

MPRESSIVE SERVICES HELD IN ST MARY'S CATHOLIC CHURCH.

The Spiritual Shepherd of the Decrased Pays an Affectionate Tribute to the Character of the Dead -The List of Pall Bearers. Latd in St. Mary's Cemetery.

The funeral of James Stewart took place from his late residence, No. 216 East Orange Street, at 9 o'clock this morning and was very largely attended. Besides a large processic of carriages there was a very considerable foot procession, including some of the most prominent business and professional men f the city. The services at St. Mary's Catholic church were at 9:30 o'clock, and the handsome edifics contained a numerous assemblage. Requiem high mass was cele-brated by Rev. Dr. P. J. McCullagh, and brated by Rev. Dr. P. J. McCullagh, and those clergymen were present in the sanctuary: Very Rev. M. J. McBride, administrator of the diocese of Harrisburg: Rev. Reilly, of York, and Revs. Kaul and Groteniyer, of this city. The choir sang Ohnewald's requiem mass, the solos being taken by John Hiemenz, W. O. Frailey, the efficient leader, and Miss Letia Bear. At the offertory Henry Drachbar's sweet tenor volce was effectively heard in the hymn. "Angels was effectively heard in the hymn." Angels was effectively heard in the hymn." Angels Ever Bright and Fair." At the conclusion of the mass the choir rendered in touching style "Jerusalem, My Happy Home." Just before the end of the mass Rev. Dr.

McCullagh paid an affectionate tribute of re-gard to the memory of the dead, whom he was proud to call one of his most intimate friends. He spoke of his splendid qualities as a husband and father, and declared himself free to say that in these respects he had no superior, so far as the speaker's exper-ence went. Words of consolation were ad-dressed in touching manner to the bereaved dressed in touching manner to the bereaved widow and children, and they were exhorted to cherish the memory of the good man who had preseded them in the journey to eternity by only a few fleeting years. The reverend speaker expressed the belief that the deceased was now in the possession of the crown awarded to the just man; but as the dead was human and necessarily imporfect, those present were and necessarily imperfect, those present were arged to unite their prayers with the church to wash away any stain of imperfection that may have rested upon him at the moment of death. The tribute was a most touching one and the reverend speaker could at times with difficulty control his emotion.

Very Rev. Father McBride conducted the absolution services, after which the coffin was borne to the hearse in waiting by four stal wart policemen. The pall bearers succeeded them Richard A. Malone, Wm. McComsey, Bernard J. McGrann and Robert J. Houston. The funeral cortege then wended its way to St. Mary's cometery where the interment

A DISASTER OF THE OCEAN. six Men Killed and Thirteen Injured by a Heavy

A disaster involving the death of six men and the infliction of serious injuries to thirteen others was reported in Jersey City on Thursday afternoon upon the arrival of the steamship Westernland at the docks of the Red Star Line Steamship company. The catastrophe was unavoidable. On Saturday afternoon, November 27, a huge cross ses was suddenly encountered and it fell with terrific force upon the forward deck of the steamship. The Westernland was then seven days out from Antwerp. The deck was crushed in and buried the unfortunates beneath a mass of wood and iron debris. The next instant the water swept along the gangways of the main deck, carrying several persons with it. The crash was terrific, but, before the appall-ing nature of the secident was realized by the passengers, the officers of the ship had all the men available engaged in the work of rescue. The injured were carried to the intermediate abin, which was transformed into a hospital cabin, which was transformed into a hospital. Here they were attended by Dr. Hurioch, the ship's surgeon, and a New York physician who was among the passengers.

Four seamen were lound to have been killed outright. They were Rasmus Sandagen, aged 67, of Aniwerp his skull was crushed to a jeily. Gustav Budart, aged 43, of Aniwerp, crushed to death beneath a heavy iron beam; leaves a wife and three children. Emiliade Cork. In grant old un. of Antwerp, crushed to death beneath a heavy iron beam; leaves a wife and three children. Emile de Cock, Di years old, unmarried; he was found pinned to the main deck by the jagged end of an iron stanchion which had pierced his abdomen; he resided at Antwerp. Heuri Jahrens, aged 27, unmarried; his legs were broken, and his throat had been cut by the splintered deck.

The two others killed were steerage passeneers. Max Frank, hy years old, of Unterseneers. Max Frank, hy years old, of Untersengers, Max Frank, Is years old, of Unter-heisen, Germany, and Gabriel Livadeir, aged 17, of Constantinople. Frank's abdomen was cut open and his skull fractured. He died at 1:30 o'clock on Sunday morning. Lavaat 130 o'clock on Sunday morning. Lava-deir was apparently but slightly bruised. He had, however, sustained internal injuries which caused death five hours after Frank expired. The injured seamen are second boatswain, Neil Hausen, left leg and arm broken; Nils Olsen, both legs broken; Ja-vinnus de Jough, leg broken and ruptured; Henry Verstracten, both legs broken and chest bruised.

chest bruised. Verstracten was standing on the lookoutbridge on the loremast when the sea was shipped. He was pinned against the mast by the railing of the bridge, which was knocked out of shaps. Four of his com-panions extricated him and lowered him to the deck. Francis Funk, Charles Bedo and Ferdinand Heltman escaped with slight

The passengers injured were as follows: Joseph Levaderi, both arms broken. He is a brother of the young passenger who died from his injuries. Max Kagl, humerus frac-tured; Julius Wiel, severe contusions on back and abdomen; Francis Tassani, three back and abdomen; Francis Tassani, three ribs broken and lungs panetured: William Harcomb, of New York, fracture of the ulna, and arm dislocated; Eugens Sohmer, severe scalp wounds; Gustave Brenn, severe contusions on back and thighs, and face badly cut; Joseph Christman, fractured fibula; Martin Mieser, angle sprained and back bruised. bruised.

The four dead seamen were buried at sea at Ho'clock Saturday night, and the bodies of the two dead passengers, Frank and Le-vaderi, were committed to the deep Sunday

Many affecting scenes were witnessed at the improvised hospital when passengers inquired about their injured friends. Cap-tain Randle placed the ship's stores at the disposal of Surgeon Hurlock and Dr. Cohn, and everything possible was done for the re-lief of the injured. The cabin passengers showed their sympathy with the unfortu-nates by many kindly sets, and raised a purse of 2 000 francs to be distributed among the families of the dead and fajured.

When the Westernland reached port the injured passengers were transferred to the Ward's Island hospital. Boatswain Hansen and Searan Olsen de Jouch and Verstreiten. Joneh and Verstracten were removed to the Jersey City hospital.

An inspection of the vessel afforded somides of the terrible blow she had received The crushed deck was known as the forward whaleback. It was constructed of four-inch pine planks, resting upon massive fron beams. These, in turn, were upheld by three-inch fron rod starcthous. The first three-inch from rod standmon. The first volume of water struck the whaleback about fitteen feet from the stem, and crushed in a section twenty-nine feet in length, and extending the full width of the steamship. Nine beams and sixteen standhous were crushed in upon the forecastle deck, where the victims were gathered. It will cost about $5.000 to repair the vessel.

Second Officer Ehoft, who was on watch Second Officer Ehad, who was on watch when the accident occurrest, made the following statement: We left Antwerp on Saturday, November 29, with 39 cabin and 574 steerage passengers and a full cargo. We were detained by fogs on the Scholdt river for 22 hours, and it was not until Sunday morning that we went ahead at full speed. We had moderate weather with northwest and southwest winds until the following Saturday, when dirty weather, with a heavy Saturday, when dirty weather, with a heavy cross sea set in. At 250 o'clock Saturday afternoon we were in lat. 4759, long, 4557. I was on the main bridge when I noticed an enormous wave on the starboard bow. The next instant another towering wave joined it from the port side. They seemed to leap into the air as they mingled. They must have been nearly to feet high, as I saw their unted mass above the lower yard. of the foremast. Then came the crash of the water upon the deck. It sounded louder than a dozen cannons fired at once. The water swept from one end to the other of the main swept from one end to the other of the main deck and carried everything before it. As soon as possible we cleared away the wreck and got out the dead and injured. Everything possibly was done for the poor people. Dr. Cohn worked like a beaver, and with Surgeon Hurlock endeared blinself to every one. The steamship company will detray the expense of the injured immigrants and those who are necessarily detained here."

MICHAEL STROGOFF" LAST BVENING A Large Andience to Witness C. L. Andrews' First-Ulass Company in the Great

Russian Play. Thursday evening, strange to say, there was a good-sized audience at the opera house, The gallery was full, but there was considerable room down stairs. The attraction was the well known play of " Michael Strogoff," which had not been seen in this city since five years ago. This company is the only one now playing the piece, and is under the management of Charles L. Andrews. The play, as is well known by those who ever seen it, depends largely upon spectacular effects for success, and many persons are required in its production. For this reason it is very difficult for companies making one night stands to represent it es well as it should be. On account of the small size of the stages in most towns, it is impossible to use the requisite scenery. Mr. Andrews' company is about the size of those usually traveling with the piece and he carries agreat deal more scenery than he ever uses outside of the large cities. The produc-tion of the play last night was successful, and it pleased the audience. The company has been changed somewhat from last year, but it remains strong. The principal characters were well taken, J. Hay Cossar doing admirably as Michael Strogof. Miss Cecile Rush was very strong as Maria Strogof, the brave mother of the hero. This lady has played the charac ter for several season, and in it she does some splendid acting. Miss Arnold was very good as Nadia Fedor, E. A. Locke and "Punch" Robertson created a great deal of amuse ment as Cornelius O'Brien and Philip Phil pot, the energetic newspaper correspondents. The remaining members of the company did creditable work.

The ballet is not large, but the girls are mostly shapely and pretty. Their marches and drills were good and drew torth lots of applause. Signoria Gossi's dancing was fine. Among the specialties introduced grotesque dancing, high kicking and contor-tion acts of the three Ronaldos. Kissel gave a very pleasing lightning drill act.
This morning the company left for Wilmington, Delaware, where they remain two nights. They go thence to New England and open at the Windsor theatre, New York, in New Year's week. Mr. Andrews left for New York at a late hour last night to make arrangements for the production of the play, on a monster scale in that city. All the principal characters will be the same as last night, but the ballet will be largely increased and additional specialties will be introduced.

W. G. Peterson, representing Callan, Haley t Callan's minstrels, who appear here on next Wednesday evening, is in town. Eddie Fox is the orchestra leader with this company and Joe Royer, of this city, joins them on next Monday in York Shot by His Sister's Lover Dallas, Tex., Dec. 3.—At the village of Zagoville William Filly and Frederick Joyce are young planters and the elder son of their respective parents who are highly respectable families. Miss Angle Filly about 18 years of age, a handsome brunette of superior intellectual attainments, is a sister of William Filly. Joyce fell in love with Miss Angie, who returned his affection, and two years ago proposed matrimony. She was willing but her brother interfered, declaring that the union between the two families should never be consummated. His objections brought about bad feeling between the families. A clandestine correspondence had been kept up and Wednesday last they decided to marry. Everything was arranged for the event, when Filly appeared. Hot words passed between him and Joyce and the latter finally drew a pistol and shot Filly through the breast and fled. Filly is in a critical condition and his sister is most frantic with grief.

Colored Pugs Fight Without Result. Sr. PAUL, Dec. 3.-The ten-round prize fight, Queensbury rules with two ounce gloves, between Frank Johnson (colored) of New York, and Billy Wilson (colored), of St. Paul, which occurred last night, ended in a draw. M. J. Roche acted as referee. There were 4,000 in the audience and the right was for the receipts. Wilson proved the more skilful of the two ; but neither scored a knock down. In none of the rounds was any close righting done except in the tenth and last one At the close Wilson challenged Johnson to fight without gloves for $500. The challeng was accepted, but no time fixed for the fight.
