TOO MANY DRAD BRADS

A Manager Who Had the Nerve to Refuse Ad n to a Baud of Door " Bracers " On Friday evening a large theatrical company, with Adele Belgarde at its head, and under the management of Thomas B. Mc Donough, was to have played "Siberia" in the York opera house. Quite a large audience was present and the orchestra played selr usual prelude. Eight o'clock came but the curtain did not rise and the audience was dismissed after receiving their money. Investigation showed that difficulty had arrent between the manager of the company and the directors of the opera house, and the former refused to allow his company to apaffair Mr. McDonough was right in the mat-ter and deserves credit for not allowing him-self to be besten. The York opera house is owned by a corporation, which is chartered under the laws of the state. The stockholders annually elect nine directors to superintend the opera house and look after the finances. Although B. C. Pettz is supposed to be really the manager of the house the finances. Although B. C. Pentz is supposed to be really the manager of the house it has been the custom of the whole board of directors to dead-head their way into all performances. Each of them has a card bearing the word "Manager" upon it, and with this they have been going in free, much to the disgust of many of the clitzens of the borough. Last evening one of the directors came to the door with a card bearing the familiar legend. He was allowed to enter but when others came up Mr. McDonough kicked and refused to admit them. He was then insolently told by the doorkeeper connected with the house that he was there to nected with the house that he was there to see that those people were admitted. The man with the ticket said he would go in any-how and it did not matter what Mr. Mc Donough said. The latter declared that this Donough said. The latter declared that this was a direct violation of his contract and would rather cancel his engagement than allow the dead heads to enter. The directors would not yield and Mr. McDonough refused to give a performance. The newspapers and a majority of the York (people think the manager was right as nearly every fair-minded person does.

The "Siberia" company is very large and they carry a whole car load of scenery. The York people missed a good show and Manager McDonough was a tig" coser by his refusal to give a performance, but he showed considerable pluck in relusing to be bled.

Meeting of the Poor Directors To day the regular meeting of the board of poor directors was held and a large number of bills were approved. Steward Worst was of oils were approved. Sieward Worst was instructed to purchase a lot of striped goods, such as are used at the prison, to be made up into pantaloons for the tramps who are kept inside the wall. Christian Binkley was given permission to open a sand hole on the poor house farm. He will pay 20 cents per load for the sand. Dr. Miller's term as consuiting physician expired today. Dr. A. J. Herr takes the place on Monday for the next term.

St. Clair was divorced from her husband, John F. St. Clair, on the grounds of desertion. Reasons for a new trial were filed in the suit of Catherine Nunnemacher's estate against Geo. W. Amusements

" The Devil's Auction."-On Monday evening dimere's company appear here in this remarkably successful speciacular play, and they should have a large sudience. The troupe has been greatly strengthened since last season by the addition of a number of artists who were secured by Mr. Glimore in Europe last summer. There is no doubt that the show is a first-class one, and the best evidence of it is that all other showmen admitt. Through the South the bus-ness was something wonderful, and a great many houses were not sufficiently large to hold the people. A big feature of the piece is the in-troduction of the great Albambra ballet, the people of which were brought directly from England at the opening of the season.

Roland Reed in "Humbup."-On Tuesday evening next Roland Reed plays "Humbug" in Lancaster. He is one of the youngest, yet one of the most popular, comedians on the stage, and his success has been greater than ever this and his success has been greater than ever this season. The recent engagement in New York was a triumph. He will sing his new song, "I Wonder What His Face Looked Like When First He Heard the News." At the close of the second act he will give his "Pocket Edition of the Mikado," when he appears as Ko Ko, a character in which he is said to have no equal.
